$25,000 SALARY FOR MAYOR?

Morrison Ousted As BH City Manager

Shortly after swearing in two new commissioners last night, the Benton Harbor city commission voted 5 to 4 not to renew the contract of City Manager Charles Morrison.

The motion not to renew Morrison's contract, which expires tomorrow, was made by Charles Shepherd, who was sworn in less than an hour earlier as Second Ward commissioner.

Firing of Morrison culminated a wide rift between Mayor Charles F. Joseph and the city manager.

"The mayor has been trying to get rid of him for two years now," Commissioner Charles Yarbrough shouted. "This is stupid. In fact this is criminal."

Joseph ruled Yarbrough out of order. But in the midst of debate Yarbrough held up a memorandum from the city compensation board which he said recommends a $25,000 annual salary for the mayor.

Newly-elected Commissioner Shepherd is a member of the compensation board which is empowered to make salary recommendations for elected officials. He was one of three board members who signed the recommendation to give the mayor the salary.

Voting not to renew Morrison's contract were Shepherd, Mayor Joseph, Commissioners Alfred Williams, Winston Minott, and Barbara Huckaby. Voting against termination were Commissioners Edmund Eaman, F. Joseph Flaugh, Arnold Bolin and Yarbrough.

Shepherd offered no reason in reading a prepared resolution calling for the termination of Morrison's contract. When pressed by Commissioner Bolin, Shepherd said he made the resolution because "that's the way I feel." He told reporters after the meeting that he did not cite any charges against Morrison because "digging dirt was not going to help him (Morrison) anyway."

Shepherd and Mrs. Huckaby, who were both installed as new commissioners last night, were members of the "Clean Slate" group of candidates headed by Mayor Joseph in the Nov. 4 city election.

Shepherd won the Second Ward commission seat by defeating Carl Brown who opposed Joseph on many issues. Shepherd's election gave Joseph the 5 to 4 vote to dump Morrison.

Commissioner Bolin said after the meeting: "It is obvious that there has been considerable collusion and planning among the commission members who voted in favor of firing the city manager."

A move by Commissioner Eaman to table Shepherd's resolution was defeated by the same 5 to 4 vote. In calling for the table, Eaman noted that the commission had approved a seven per cent pay increase for Morrison last week. Eight commissioners voted for the raise and Mayor Joseph abstained.

Joseph had tried to oust Morrison earlier this year. In June, Joseph suggested that Morrison's contract be terminated. Morrison resigned a week later when a vote of confidence failed in a tie vote. He later decided to stay after the commission refused to accept his resignation by a 4 to 3 vote.

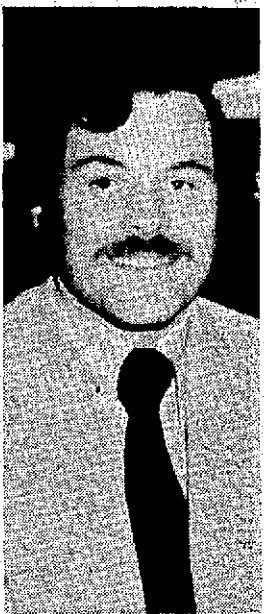

Commissioner Williams, who supported Shepherd's resolution, said last night that the vote to terminate Morrison's contract was qualified because "he has already resigned once and since then has been seeking other employment."

Williams also introduced a letter from Al Matthews Jr., who stated in the letter that he was "disappointed with city staff and officials because he was turned down for a job" as assistant personnel director for the city recently. Matthews, of 956 Superior street, Benton Harbor, said the city should set a higher priority on hiring local youth for city jobs.

Morrison, 30, was hired by the city commission in February, 1973. Terms of the contract called for his intention of remaining on the job until Dec. 31, 1975. Mayor Joseph voted for hiring of Morrison

AIRPORT BOMB KILLS 11 IN NYC

It's Work Of 'Maniacs,' Says Mayor

By TOM KELLY
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A thunderous explosion from a bomb placed in a locker sent a shrapnel shower of glass and metal through a crowded baggage area at LaGuardia Airport.

At least 11 persons were killed and more than 50 others injured.

The blast, which officials said had the force of 20 to 25 sticks of dynamite and was meant to "maim and kill," reduced the baggage area to rubble Monday evening and sent dozens of persons fleeing in panic.

The airport was quickly evacuated and closed to all traffic shortly after the 6:33 p.m. explosion, forcing the cancellation or diversion of at least 45 flights and fouling the plans of some 5,000 travelers. The airport will be closed until at least 10 p.m. today.

As workers searched the debris, there were reports of as many as 14 deaths, but police at the airport said they could not confirm more than 11.

The disaster also triggered bogus bomb threats at airports in other major cities. Three, including Washington's National Airport, were evacuated.

"It was the most heart-sickening thing I ever saw in my life," said Richard Siemers, who was about to see his daughter's family off to Tulsa, Okla. "Bodies were all over ... puddles of blood on the island between the building and the parking lot ... it seemed like everyone was in shock."

The explosion set off a smoky fire in the baggage area shared by Trans World and Delta airlines, but officials said that flying glass and metal accounted for most of the deaths and injuries. Metal doors were ripped away and glass from 10-foot high windows was found the equivalent of several city blocks from the blast.

Shirley Barker of Brooklyn, who was waiting for her sister to arrive from Kansas, was still sobbing as she recalled "the big noise and glass shattering."

"Women and children were screaming," she said. "And then a woman next to me was just dead, bleeding all over."

Eight of the injured were seriously hurt and rushed to operating rooms in local hospitals. In addition to the 52 persons reported hurt, another score of persons was treated at the scene or area hospitals but not reported in official figures.

The dead and injured were not immediately identified, except for Jeff McMurtrey, 30, an FBI agent, who was reported in serious condition after emergency surgery.

No call or advance warning preceded the blast, but in the hours that followed, police and news organizations received a number of calls from persons claiming different groups were responsible. These ranged from the Palestine Liberation Organization to Puerto Rican terrorists and a Mafia gang.

Police officials said they began looking for two men in their late teens or early 20s after witnesses said two men fitting that description had run from the building minutes before the blast.

Heavy bomb threats at airport terminals in Washington, Cleveland and St. Louis forced the evacuation of passengers while police with explosive-sniffing dogs combed the buildings. Other calls were received at airports in Detroit, Denver, Los Angeles, Chicago, Indianapolis and New Haven, Conn.

LI. Kenneth O'Neill, chief of the police bomb section, said that the blast was "one of the largest ever to go off in New York City" and killed the most people.

"The average bomb in the city has a force of 5 to 10 sticks of dynamite," he said. "This one had the force of 20 to 25 sticks."

The fire started by the blast burned for more than an hour before being brought under control.

TWA employee Nick Douglas, said that the explosion "sounded like a bomb blast during the war. Walls were shattered all over and people were running from the building, screaming and crying."

Boy, 15, Held In Deaths Of Calhoun County Couple

DUCK LAKE, Mich. (AP) — A 15-year-old boy has been arrested in connection with the deaths of a Duck Lake couple whose bodies were found in their lakeside home Monday, according to Calhoun County Sheriff Roger Dean.

Dean said the boy, who was not identified because of his age, was arrested at his home in Clarence Township about a mile from Duck Lake several hours after the bodies of Francis J. Pierce, 50, and his wife, Diane, 32, were found in the bedroom of their home about 12 miles north of Alhion.

Dean said two snowmobiles which had been stolen from the couple's home earlier were found at the boy's residence when he was taken into custody. He said the youth would appear in Calhoun County Juvenile Court on Tuesday and that deputies would request a waiver of the case to adult court.

Dean said Mrs. Pierce was apparently shot at close range with a shotgun and that Pierce was bludgeoned to death. The hands of both victims were taped behind their backs, the sheriff said. He said the pair probably was slain Friday night, and that authorities believe they may have interrupted a burglary attempt.

The Pierces had planned to fly to Miami on Saturday for the Orange Bowl football game, Dean said.

He said the bodies were discovered after officials of the Michigan Department of Highways and Transportation, where Pierce worked as an accountant and his wife worked as a clerk, called authorities Monday morning when friends in Florida made inquiries about them.

They had been married only a short time, sources said.

Today's Last Day Of 10-Cent Letters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service is raising the cost of mailing a letter from 10 to 13 cents on Wednesday, three days after it originally planned to increase postal rates.

The service announced the higher rates on Monday after the U.S. Court of Appeals cleared a legal barrier in the rate increase.

The appeals court stayed an order by U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica prohibiting the Postal Service from raising rates. The higher court is expected to decide later on the merits of the case, but the stay allows postal rates to go up in the meantime.

Under the rates that take effect at 12:01 a.m. local time Wednesday, a first-class letter will cost 13 cents for the first ounce and 11 cents for each additional ounce. A postcard will increase from 7 to 9 cents and parcel post rates will go up an average of 10.1 per cent.

Other increases are 22.1 per cent for second class mail and 23.9 per cent for third-class bulk rates.

The three-judge appeals court issued the stay after a government lawyer said the Postal Service would be unable to meet its Feb. 8 payroll if it were not allowed an immediate postal rate increase.

Under present rates, the Postal Service is losing $7 million per day. Even with the higher rates, the Postal Service expects to have its highest deficit in history during this fiscal year.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar has said that the Postal Service's chronic deficit may lead to reductions in service, including elimination of Saturday deliveries and special delivery.

Justice Department lawyer Neil Koshove, representing the Postal Service, said Sirica's ruling would create a crisis for the service if allowed to stand.

Koshove warned that without the increases that originally had been planned for Sunday, the Postal Service could start the rate-raising process over again and seek new and even higher rate increases to make up lost revenue.

But he said this "would be directly contrary to the public interest."

Sirica had found the new rates to be illegal because the procedures for increasing postal rates had not been complied with. By law the Postal Service is required to obtain the approval of its governors for new rates before filing them with the Postal Rate Commission. Sirica ruled that this approval had not been obtained because the service did not submit the specific increases but instead received only the board's general agreement that rates should be raised.

The stay granted by the appeals court does not overturn Sirica's order, but it does keep it from going into effect until the judges can hear the case.

It is possible that after hearing the evidence the appeals court will agree with Sirica and order a rollback in rates to the present levels.

Defense Starts Steelers Toward Super Bowl

Viking Hopes Short-Circuited By Cowboys

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pittsburgh's defense put the Steelers on the road to their second straight Super Bowl, but Roger Staubach short-circuited Minnesota's hopes for a third straight trip to the National Football League championship game.

The Steelers, who muffed Minnesota 16-6 to win all the marbles a year ago, did a similar job on Baltimore's cinderella squad Saturday, roughing up the Colts 28-10 to put an end to the "impossible dream" of the league's turnaround team of the year.

That triumph, built on Mel Blount's crucial interception and Andy Russell's 93-yard touchdown run with a fumble, vaulted the Steelers into the American Conference championship game.

And, in a rematch of last year's AFC title game, it will be against the Oakland Raiders, who rode Ken Stabler's three touchdown passes to a big lead over Cincinnati Sunday, then had to hang on for a 31-28 victory.

Minnesota appeared all set to charge into its third straight National Conference championship. The Vikes led Dallas 14-10 and had the Cowboys buried on their own 25-yard line with fourth down and 16 yards to go ... and less than a minute to play. Clearly a miracle was needed.

And the Cowboys got it. First Staubach hit Drew Pearson on a 25-yard right sideline pass to put the ball at midfield. And two plays later, with 24 seconds to go, he unloaded a bomb that Pearson caught at the Minnesota five and carried into the end zone for the touchdown that gave Dallas a shocking 17-14 upset.

Now the Cowboys ride into Los Angeles to face the Rams in the NFC showdown. Los Angeles, with Lawrence McCutcheon rushing for a record 202 yards, reserve quarterback Ron Jaworski running for one touchdown and throwing for another, and defenders Jack Youngblood and Bill Simpson returning interceptions for scores, beat the St. Louis Cardinals 35-23.

Both the Steelers and Rams are rated six-point favorites to make it into the Super Bowl.

"We hang in, we don't fold," linebacker Jack Ham said after Pittsburgh yielded just 154 total yards to the Colts, who had barged into the playoffs as the East Division champion with a 10-4 record, more than a 180-degree reverse from last year's 2-12.

Blount's theft was "the best interception I ever saw," said Ham after the Steelers' cornerback grabbed Marty Domres' pass and returned it 20 yards to the Baltimore seven. On the next play, Rocky Bleier scored to put Pittsburgh ahead 14-10.

Russell's gallop with a Bert Jones fumble was "the worst run I ever saw," laughed Ham, who had jolted the ball loose from the Colt quarterback's hand on the Pittsburgh door step. Russell, who played with an injured knee, scooped up the ball and was escorted slowly but securely down the right sideline for the score.

"I think we're the best two teams in football," said Baltimore running back Lydell Mitchell. "I felt that if we won this game, we'd win the Super Bowl."

His former Penn State teammate, running back Franco Harris, committed two of Pittsburgh's three fumbles — but he also rushed for 153 yards and scored a touchdown.

"This is no reason to celebrate," Oakland tight end Bob Moore, one of Stabler's three touchdown targets, said following the victory over the Bengals. "We set out at the first of the year with just one goal — reaching the Super Bowl."

Moore caught an eight-yard touchdown toss, Mike Siani nabbed a seven-yarder and Dave Casper grabbed a two-yard flip. Ken Anderson's fourth-quarter touchdown passes — 25 yards to Charlie Joiner and 14 yards to Isaac Curtis — made it close.

Staubach's touchdown pass wiped out a Minnesota lead built on Brent McClanahan's one-yard touchdown run with 5:11 to play. "It was the most important catch of my career," said Pearson.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry added: "I still can't believe Drew caught it." And Minnesota Coach Bud Grant couldn't believe offensive interference wasn't called on the play.

"The ball was underthrown," Pearson said, "and I was fighting back to get underneath. (Cornerback Nate) Wright was showing me to keep me outside. The ball struck me in the hands and I got hit on the arm by somebody. The ball slid down and I caught it between my elbow and my hip. It was just a lucky catch."

Grant insisted: "There as no question — it was offensive pass interference. It was as clear as day and night. Wright was pushed."

In a tragic sidenote, the Rev. Dallas Tarkenton Sr., father of Viking's quarterback Fran Tarkenton, died of a heart attack at his home in Savannah, Ga., while watching the game on television.

St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart was forced to throw constantly — and for the most part unsuccessfully — against the Rams after they got the scores a few plays apart on interception returns of 47 yards by Youngblood and 65 yards by Simpson. "Their two quick touchdowns threw our game plan right out the window," Hart said. "After that, we had to put the ball into the air."

When Jaworski, playing in place of injured James Harris, stayed on the ground, he was successful, running in from five yards out. And he was successful through the air, too, with a 66-yard touchdown bomb to Harold Jackson. "I learned I was going to start when the coach said: 'Ron, you're it.' I wasn't nervous until they told me I was going to start, then the adrenaline started flowing."

GAME WINNER: Dallas Cowboy wide receiver Drew Pearson (88) nears end zone on game winning 50-yard touchdown pass play in last minute in playoff action against Minnesota Sunday in Bloomington. Efforts by Vikings Nate Wright (43) and Paul Krause (22) to stop Pearson were futile. The Cowboys won the National Football Conference game 17-14. (AP Wirephoto)

ANDERSON SACKED: Quarterback Ken Anderson of the Cincinnati Bengals is sacked for an eight-yard loss in the first half of the American Football Conference playoff in Oakland Sunday. That's Art Thoms of the Raiders with his legs around Anderson's head. The Raiders won 31-28. (AP Wirephoto)

Niles Tops Sturgis For Tourney Title Seven Lancers Suspended

BY PAUL MORGAN
Staff Sports Writer

STURGIS — Coach Lloyd MacTavish of Lakeshore thought he had problems Friday night when his team managed to score just 39 points. But that was really nothing compared to what happened Saturday.

MacTavish put seven members of his varsity squad (all who made the trip except for Craig Shafer) on a three-game suspension for breaking training rules prior to Saturday night's game with Brandywine. He then used second and third-team junior varsity players who made a good showing before finally succumbing to the Bobcats 69-44 in the consolation game of the holiday tournament being played here.

In the championship game, Niles used a tough man-to-man defense to down Sturgis 55-45.

"All I asked of them was an honest effort," said MacTavish. "And they gave it to me."

The new varsity actually led for most of the first quarter, using a tough zone defense and good hustle to build an 8-3 lead with 3:35 left in the quarter. "That match-up zone defense really had Brandywine confused," grinned MacTavish. "They were also getting some good shots from the motion of offense."

Pat Grounds exemplified the frustration of Brandywine as the starting forward picked up three fouls in the first four and a half minutes trying to stop the Lancers, now 1-7 this season.

The small crowd that showed up for the first game went absolutely crazy when the out-manned Lancers built up their short-lived lead.

But the bubble burst quickly as the Bobcats, now 8-1, outscored Lakeshore 12-2 and led by a 17-12 count after the first quarter.

After his number one players had built a big lead in the second quarter, Brandywine's head coach Frank Standley humanely set his starters down and let his bench play the rest of the game.

Tony Harris of Brandywine led all scorers with 25 points, 17 of them coming in the third quarter. Greg Gallas and Jim Reed chipped in with 12 points apiece.

Mike House was the only Lancer to hit double figures, scoring 14. Shafer chipped in with eight before fouling out late in the contest.

MacTavish had high praise for his "new" team. "I was real pleased with the effort. I thought Kerry Myers did a fine job handling the ball. House had a good night shooting and Dan Hanson played a steady inside game."

"Dave DeVoir played a super game off the bench," he added. "He can really jump for being only 5-6."

On the bright side, Lakeshore only committed 18 turnovers, which is the Lancers lowest total this season. They made 17 of 49 field goal attempts for 35 per cent.

Niles' tough defense kept the ball outcourt for most of the first half. "I thought the defense was just excellent," grinned Vikings' head coach Dean Adams. "We kept their offense in confusion."

"Besides, I'll take a 12-point first half anytime."

Sturgis actually scored 14 in the first half but the last two points came on free throws with no time on the clock.

Bill Brenner had another super scoring night for Niles, now 4-3 this season. The senior notched 18 points and pulled down 15 rebounds. "Brenner hit the boards real well," said Adams. "We've been able to go inside to him more these past few games."

Tim Garner was the only other Viking in double figures, hitting 15 points.

Sturgis, now 2-6 this season, was led by Steve Rambadt's 15 points.

"Our players played better team ball against Sturgis than they did against Brandywine," Adams said.

Next year, the tourney will be guaranteed a new champion. Niles is withdrawing from the competition and Three Rivers will be taking the Vikings' place.

In the junior varsity part of the tourney, Lakeshore won the championship with a 55-52 victory over Brandywine. Scott Smikle had 23 points for the Lancers. Niles beat Sturgis 59-43 in the consolation game.

Tarkenton's Father Dies Watching Fran

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The Rev. Dallas Tarkenton Sr. died in the company of two of his sons, watching the third lead a team in the National Football League playoffs on television.

Funeral services were tentatively set for Tuesday in Athens, Ga., for the elder Tarkenton, 63, father of Minnesota Vikings quarterback Fran Tarkenton, who was to return to Georgia today.

The father, a Methodist minister, was dead on arrival at a Savannah hospital after family efforts to revive him failed.

His son, Fran, left the stadium in Bloomington, Minn., where the Dallas Cowboys had defeated the Vikings 17-14, unaware of his father's death, but was told a short time later.

A friend of the family said the minister was not particularly interested in football, but added, "I think he was interested in the games Fran played."

"He was just sitting in a chair," said another son, Dallas Tarkenton Jr. "I saw him gasp for breath; I could tell he had had a heart attack. We started mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and everything we could think of and the ambulance got here very quickly ... he never came to."

A native of Norfolk, Va., the elder Tarkenton served several years as pastor of a church in Athens where his son was a football standout in high school and later at the University of Georgia.

He was an official of Oxford College at Emory University and was Rotary International governor for the eastern half of Georgia. Although nearing retirement, he moved to Savannah in September to become pastor of the Pentecostal Holiness Church.

"They said they wanted him and needed him down there, so he moved down there even though he was going to retire in Athens," a friend said.

Besides his son Fran, Tarkenton is survived by his widow, Frances; sons Dallas Jr. of Athens and Wendell of Rock Hill, S.C.; and a brother, James E. Sproull of Tampa, Fla.

East-West Conflict In Hockey Tourney

DETROIT (AP) — It will be another traditional East-West conflict today and Tuesday in the 11th annual Great Lakes Invitational college hockey tournament at Olympia Stadium.

In today's games, Michigan (9-5) meets Pennsylvania (2-3) in the first match, while defending GLI and NCAA champion Michigan Tech (11-4) faces off against Boston University (4-0) in the second contest.

Down through the GLI's history, teams from the West have dominated, winning eight titles, while East squads have two championships. Michigan Tech owns four of those West titles, while Michigan and Michigan State have one each.

Many of the key figures are back from last year's tournament. Mike Zuke, who scored the winning goal for the Huskies in the championship game against Michigan last year, is back. So is Robbie Moore, Michigan's star goalie and last year's MVP.

Also adding excitement will be the coaches, John MacInnes, who is in his 20th year at Michigan Tech, and Dan Farrell, now in his third season at U-M after several years as MacInnes' assistant at Tech.

Financial Remedies For St. Joseph

Our Dec. 15 through 19 editions ran a daily comment on the St. Joseph city hall's fading financial picture and various methods suggested on how to avoid the pitfalls into which New York and other major cities have dropped.

Without bothering to repeat the statistical data, all indications point to the uncomfortable situation that unless inflation should drop to zero and additional revenue can be found, costs to run the city government will advance by 36 per cent when the 1980-81 budget expires and income will move up only 5.8 per cent. In fact, it will be touch and go to end the present fiscal year with income and outgo at a dead heat.

The solution has to be found in the grass roots. State aid which accounts for 15 per cent of the city's receipts is not likely to rise considering the money pinch afflicting the Lansing government. The uncertainties and problems in federal revenue sharing, which contributes 3 per cent of the current budget, mitigate against much reliance on that source.

A 12-member Citizens Action Committee appointed by Mayor Smith to advise the city commission is examining four proposals emanating from city hall. They are (1) cut expenses; (2) update real estate assessments; (3) liberate the city charter's millage limitations; and (4) adopt a municipal income tax.

Following is our reaction to those suggestions:

(1) Unless city hall allows the parks, cemeteries and the summer recreation program to go to pot and cancels its street repairs, the budget has little leeway for reducing costs.

The best to be hoped for in cost cutting is to hold the line as much as possible on wages and fringe benefits which soak up 70 per cent of the total budget.

Getting down to the nitty gritty on this one means taking a tougher stance when the firemen deliver their annual demands for more money and benefits. For the past several years the total payroll has advanced proportionately as the fire department has first made its score.

(2) The State Tax Commission in recent years has automatically increased the total valuation within the city.

This broad tax method has helped the budget to some extent, but a more selective approach could be of greater benefit.

About 25 per cent of the dwelling units in St. Joseph are rental properties.

By far most of them are apartments carved out of what once were single family dwellings.

The suspicion exists that the old homestead remodeled to make a profit is still assessed at the old homestead level.

Reassessing those properties on a capitalization of earnings, which is a major factor in their sales price, might well yield a surprisingly higher tax revenue.

(3) For better than 15 years this column has maintained that the city is keeping itself in a straitjacket with the charter's millage limitations.

There is a 12.5 mill ceiling for the general fund; an optional 6/10ths of a mill for the band; a mandatory half mill for the library and 8/10ths mill ceiling; and a catchall provision for whatever else the state law permits. Presently the only extra granted by the legislature is 2 mills for garbage and rubbish collection.

The 1963 state constitution confers a 20-mill ceiling on cities.

The charter should be amended to take advantage of that additional taxing power. Further, the band and the library should be put into the general fund.

(4) Because No. 1 is touchy, No. 2 is open to charges of discrimination, and No. 3 requires a favorable public vote, a city income tax has long been a tempting solution within city hall. It requires only a majority vote within the commission to put into effect and if handled properly, presents no insuperable administrative problems.

Some 20 Michigan communities have taken that route and others are looking into it.

The property tax may not be the most popular levy, but it is the one tax over which the citizen has some measure of control.

The income tax is controllable only by those who decide how much it shall be, which is the reason it finds such favor among its city hall advocates.

It is the perfect tax and spend weapon of all time, and if St. Joseph goes that route, it best be prepared to find business and industry gradually departing for other areas.

(5) Given less thought than it deserves is the possibility of increasing the water plant's profit, which means raising the rates, to help out the general fund.

This avenue may be of limited value at present because a revenue bond issue to increase the plant's capacity mortgages most income as security for the bonds.

However, this possibility should be checked out.

If found to be unavailing until the bonds are retired, it should be pursued when they have been paid off.

Summing up, we think No. 4, the city income tax, should never be let out of the trash barrel.

We recommend a combination of Nos. 1-2-3-5 as the eraser to blot out the red ink before it even spills on to the budget.

SAYS ALASKA PLANS WOLF SLAUGHTER

Editor,
This is a plea to all the people in the area who care about our national environment and preservation of endangered species, to join together in a protest of the wolf slaughter planned for Alaska, Friday evening, Dec. 26, on national television news service, the plan to eliminate ALL wolves in a 32,000-acre area was clearly outlined. They are to be hunted down by helicopter and exterminated one by one, until none are left. This killing is to continue over a 3 to 5-year period.

The reason for this outrageous massacre was explained this way. It is to be an "experiment" to see if the moose population will be increased.

It was also stated in the broadcast that there are three factors that determine the size of moose herds. One is starvation, next is wolves and last is hunters. The Fish and Game

Commission of course realize that controlling starvation is not feasible. They also say that limiting hunting and hunting licenses is politically unsound. Unfortunately, this leaves the wolves as the factor to be eliminated.

Why are people so vain to think they can better the delicate balance established by nature since time began? It is beyond my comprehension that as we approach our nation's Bicentennial that such a disgrace will take place in our country. Alaska is the Last Frontier for wolves, too.

I urge everyone concerned to contact the National Wildlife Federation; National Audubon Society; Fish and Game Commission of Alaska; their Congressmen, the National SPCA and anyone else who can stop this needless slaughter. Please help prevent the destruction of one of our many vanishing species.

WARMTH IS NICE EXCEPT AT CHRISTMAS

Editor,
You have printed some letters I write telling how nice and warm it is in Florida most all winter, yearly. This is very nice, except at Christmas time! I was born and reared in North Carolina, where we had snows each winter, and we loved it, usually. We always wished snow would be on the ground at Christmas time and icicles hanging from the holly, cedar, oaks, maple, chestnut, pine and other trees grown in North Carolina. We miss all this in Florida and it actually ruins our Christmas spirit!

Florida is now made up of people originally from Michigan, New York, the New England states and others where snow and ice are very common each winter. The temperature here this morning is 70 degrees, while the paper states it was 3 degrees at Detroit Friday. The sun is shining brightly here today, too, as usual. So, after all, each state has its advantages. Snowmobiles and skis would be useless here, but many in Michigan and other snow-covered states enjoy these sports immensely. I would too.

I hope that all people in the world have a prosperous and happy 1976, and a good crop year every place. I'm also thankful that I'm still alive.

Chicago — Lew Sarrett, poet and college professor, is going to put into practice his philosophy of life, which he once expressed in a poem ending "Let me flower as I will... a shaggy rambler on a hill!" Unwilling to sell out to metropolitan civilization for "a porcelain bath tub and a gilded radiator" the author of "The Box of God," and an instructor in Northwestern University school of speech, is planning to bury himself in the northern forests of Wisconsin. Sarrett is a Benton Harbor boy and a graduate of Benton Harbor high. Early in youth he exhibited rare genius and a love for the wilderness that led him in later years to the wilds of the north, where he acquired the trust of the Indians and a wealth of native lore such as few men possess. All of Sarrett's poems breathe the

Federal Sow's Industrial Piglets

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Our system of democracy requires, in my mind, as clear a separation between private business and the government as between the President, Congress and the Supreme Court.

When this dividing line is overstepped or ignored, the door is open to corruption, influence peddling and favoritism, and to inefficiencies so great — as witness the Soviet experience — they cost us dearly in our standard of living.

It requires noting here again that there are a considerable number of companies in the United States which receive so great a percentage of their income from government contracts that abuses are certain to occur.

Take, for example, the matter of military prime contracts, which totaled $40 billion this past fiscal year.

Twenty-eight companies accounted for half that $40 billion, 10 companies for a third and five companies alone for 20 per cent.

Each of five firms had military prime contracts of between $1 billion and $2 billion.

These figures refer only to military contracts. When we add in Health, Education and Welfare; the National Aeronautics and Space Administration; the Energy Research and Development Administration; and a host of other agencies, we have a situation in which a considerable number of companies are dependent on the government for their very existence.

Very little data on this matter is available on most firms. But I have estimates on seven super-giants. Reports are that each does between a third to two thirds or more of its entire business with the federal government.

This dependency leads inevitably, in too many cases, to coziness, over-friendly relationships ending in free hunting trips, expensive gifts, employment at high salaries after retirement from the government, regardless of restrictions written into law. These gifts are tied to special favors — tax concessions, easy approval of cost overruns, overpricing of alterations, expense padding, the ignoring of defects and the easy allowing of late deliveries resulting from sloppy inefficiencies.

The companies slowly lose touch with competitive markets and become as bureaucratic as the government agencies they serve. The key to success is neither efficiency or excellence, but an ability to handle proposals, negotiations and cost-overruns in a manner most satisfactory to officials on the government side of the fence. Success thus falls to those firms which have the best word-merchants. Workmanship — or lack of it — comes to have little bearing.

Because profits, too often, are a percentage of costs, the greater the cost the greater the profit. Inefficiency pays off. If a company shows signs of going broke, it is, more often than not, bailed out in the public interest, usually indirectly and without fanfare, through special contracts.

This manner of doing things is not good for defense, for the civilian functions of our government, for the taxpayer, or, in the long run, for company stockholders. For a dependent firm, like the saber-toothed tiger of old, becomes so adapted to one way of life, a major shift in government policy could mean its demise.

A New Set Of 'Assertions'

I really don't relish this role, but no sooner did I reply to some misconceptions about National Review on the part of my friend Kevin Phillips than a whole new set of strange assertions came down the pike from my columnist colleague and fellow academician John Roche. His remarks are especially interesting because they focus on the question of justice what American liberalism is at the present time.

John Roche thinks of himself as a liberal and he also likes National Review aesthetically. "It is unquestionably the best political magazine in the nation — everytime I read an issue, I wish that we liberals had a remotely comparable journal."

But as Roche sees it, American conservative intellectuals have been attacking a straw man "Liberalism, as National Review has defined it for 20 years, involves creating an 'open society' in which everybody does his 'own thing, and lets it all hang out.'"

That is not quite the way the matters are put, but let us turn to what Roche thinks liberalism is today:

"Liberal tradition never designed a progressive kindergarten. Just over 200 years ago, the Continental Congress recommended that the provincial legislature 'arrest and secure every person... whose going at large may in their opinion endanger the safety of the colony or the liberties of America.'... Liberals, in other words, have never thought that everything was up for grabs, but they have insisted that authority be rationally justified and exercised in a fashion neither arbitrary nor capricious.

Now that is a perfectly reasonable description of the American tradition, and that is precisely what American conservatives wish to conserve. But it is certainly an ivory-tower exercise in semantics to call it liberal.

Liberalism in 1975 is not Montesquieu, and it is not John Stuart

Mill, and it certainly is not either George Washington or James Madison.

Liberalism as you meet it in the normal faculty meeting, in the media, in the official ecclesiastical conclaves, in such influential intellectual journals as the New York Review of Books, and in the most aggressive quarters of the Democratic Party, is something altogether different.

There are some high and dry constitutional liberals around like John Roche, and more power to them. But in liberal culture today a kind of revolution has taken place. Liberalism is not so much an explicit position as a tendency. It gravitates ever further leftward.

As former liberal Irving Kristol put it recently in an essay in the Wall Street Journal, there is something wrong about a society in which an 18-year-old girl can fornicate publicly in a pornographic movie, and do it legally as long as she is paid at least the minimum wage. Or, as National Review once put it, the signs will soon be going up in the public schools: "No spitting or playing." All these developments have taken place under liberal auspices and been legitimized by liberal theory.

John Roche seems to think that there is a real and continuing liberal tradition in the country that goes back to the intentions of the founders 200 years ago, and that "new left" aberrations are the work of a few zany and clowns. In his view these deviants from the true liberal faith are the equivalent of Birchers on the right.

I can only suppose that Roche has not attended many faculty meetings, does not read the intellectual reviews, missed the Democratic Convention of 1972, does not visit his local pornographic news stand or abortion clinic, is amazed by what is happening in South Boston and Louisville, Ky., and thinks that someone like Henry Jackson has a chance for the Democratic nomination next year.

Tops Valley For Second Straight Crown

Buchanan Rolls To Tourney Title

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

BUCHANAN — Please pardon Buchanan coach Bill Wilson for smiling.

Wilson has been looking for some team play all season and Saturday night the pieces all fell into place.

Buchanan rolled past River Valley 57-43 before a near-capacity crowd of more than 1,600 fans here to bag its second straight Holiday Tournament title.

Berrien Springs jumped Lake Michigan Catholic 59-37 to take third place.

With 6-5 forward Mike Busby and 6-6 forward Ken Garrett directing the front line and the scrappy play of the Bucks guards forcing 15 River Valley turnovers, Wilson's Bucks played with the preciseness of a new watch.

"I think we're improving to the point where we adjust to what the other team is playing against us," Wilson said. "It takes a few minutes for the kids to see what they have to do and then they do it."

Garrett topped all scorers with 19 points and pulled down 16 rebounds. Busby added 12 points, grabbed 10 rebounds, blocked five shots and was awesome on defense. Add to that the scrappy play of guards Kevin and Walt Vanderbush and Gary Jones and it equals the unbeaten Bucks' eighth straight win. River Valley fell to 3-6.

Greg Johnson tossed in 17 points and Dave North 16 to lead the Mustangs. But center Kevin Griffendorf, who was guarded by Busby, tallied only two free throws.

"Mike never let Griffendorf have the ball," Wilson said. "He also played good help defense on the others. He not only covered his own man but helped out, too."

"He's improved so much with his inside defense that I may play him more there."

Griffendorf got off just three shots against Busby. Two were blocked and the Mustang center badly missed the other.

Garrett's point total brought his career total to 817. But it was his rebounding that Wilson was most pleased with.

"Ken is so consistent," he said. "He loves to rebound and is right up there with 15 or 16 every game."

It took just three minutes for Buchanan to take charge of the game. Trailing 6-3 with 5:29 left in the first quarter, Garrett scored three quick baskets to put the Bucks on top for good at 9-6.

Buchanan slowly but methodically moved the lead to 32-21 at halftime and the Mustangs got no closer than eight in the second half.

"To beat Buchanan you have to play just a real solid game and we didn't do that," River Valley coach Jerry Schaffer shrugged. "We didn't play a bad game but we didn't capitalize on the mistakes they made."

"It was not one individual but as a unit we just didn't play sharp. You have to give them credit, though. They caused the bad shooting and poor passing."

The intimidating Buchanan defense caused River Valley to hit just 14 of 54 from the floor for a measly 26 per cent. Buchanan, which has now beaten River Valley five straight times, meshed 23 of 57 for 40 per cent.

Buchanan held a 38-30 rebounding edge with Johnson pulling down nine for the losers.

Terry Hosbein tipped in a missed free throw with just two seconds left to give Berrien its wild consolation victory.

Tom Flood's basket with 10 seconds left had tied the game for Lake Michigan Catholic. But Bill Frantz fouled Berrien's Tim Sunday just four seconds later. Sunday missed the free throw, and the ball went to Hosbein who put it in.

Center Rick Thiele was game's top scorer with 26 points for Berrien. Flood tossed in 20 and Frantz 18 for the Lakers.

River Valley won the junior varsity portion of the tourney, nipping Lake Michigan Catholic 48-46. Steve Nash's 15-footer with five seconds left provided the difference.

Tom Humphrey scored 16 for River Valley and Tim Gentry had 12 for Lake Michigan.

Buchanan nipped Berrien Springs 54-53 in the consolation game. Rick Layher scored 19 and Larry Ott 18 for Buchanan. Tom Michienzi had 14 for Berrien.

Florida, Maryland Play In Gator Bowl

From Associated Press

The first full week of major college bowl games begins tonight when 13th-ranked Florida and No. 17 Maryland square off in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., and one of the two teams is almost sure to lose a reputation that it can't win the big ones.

Both teams have lost bowl games over the past two years. But a tie is the only thing that will keep one of the teams from breaking that jinx tonight.

Florida, 9-2, also lost close regular-season contests in 1975 to North Carolina State and Georgia. While Maryland beat N.C. State, the Terrapins, 8-2-1, lost to Southeastern Conference opponent Tennessee and could manage just a tie with Kentucky in another SEC game.

The first bowl game that could have a bearing on the national championship is Wednesday night when Penn State meets once-beaten Alabama in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans. Earlier Wednesday, N.C. State and West Virginia, both unranked, meet in the Peach Bowl at Atlanta.

The fourth-ranked Crimson Tide, 10-1, will be out to break a bowl jinx of its own and enhance its chances of a national championship if No. 1 Ohio State and No. 2 Oklahoma lose their bowl games. Third-ranked Texas A&M lost 20-0 to Southern California last Monday in the Liberty Bowl.

Alabama has lost its last eight bowl appearances. Linebacker Greg Buttle of the eighth-ranked Nittany Lions, 9-2, believes Alabama is the team to beat.

"Alabama deserves to be No. 1," he said Sunday. "The wishbone is hard to stop, and Alabama plays it better than anyone we've seen."

N.C. State, 7-3-1, scored a 49-13 victory over West Virginia, 8-3, in the 1972 Peach Bowl, and the two are expected to provide a high-scoring contest again this year.

On New Year's Day, Thursday, there are three bowl games, the Cotton, Rose and Orange Bowls, and all but the Cotton could provide this year's national champion.

Ohio State, 11-0, meets No. 11 UCLA, 8-2-1, for the second time this season in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., and Oklahoma, 10-1, and No. 5 Michigan, 8-1-2, meet in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

Twelfth-ranked Georgia, 9-2, and No. 18 Arkansas, 9-2, battle in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

The Buckeyes trounced UCLA 41-20 in midseason, but the Bruins have improved. Ohio State's chances of winning and topping Oklahoma as the country's best college football team will depend on how well they can contain UCLA All-American quarterback John Scaria, who accounted for 1,907 total yards last season.

Oklahoma closed out a two-year NCAA probation this season and is appearing in its first bowl game since they defeated Penn State in the 1972 Sugar Bowl. Michigan, likewise, is making its first appearance in any bowl game other than the Rose Bowl, where it's played six times, the last time following the 1971 season.

In Saturday's major bowl game, Texas routed Colorado 38-21 in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

Flyers' Win Streak Snapped By Boston

From Associated Press

Bobby Clarke, the man who's made so many big plays for the Philadelphia Flyers over the past two championship seasons, came up empty Sunday night.

With the score tied 2-2 and 1:08 to go, Clarke lined up against Boston's Gregg Sheppard for a faceoff in the Flyers' end. Sheppard then stunned the capacity crowd at the Spectrum in Philadelphia by winning the drop cleanly and rifling a shot inside the right post, beyond the reach of Flyers' goalie Wayne Stephenson.

An empty net goal by Bobby Schmautz 21 seconds later made the final tally 4-2, snapping Philadelphia's seven-game National Hockey League unbeaten string.

Elsewhere in the NHL Sunday night, the Chicago Black Hawks and Buffalo Sabres battled to a 2-2 tie, the Vancouver Canucks beat the Detroit Red Wings 3-2 and the Kansas City Scouts defeated the California Seals 3-1. In an exhibition, the Soviet Army team topped the New York Rangers 7-3.

"Clarke never touched the puck," said Sheppard of his big faceoff. "I guess he assumed I would go to my backhand. It was just a lucky thing — the first time I've ever done that."

Clarke, meanwhile, gave the credit to Sheppard.

"He just beat me clean," the Flyers' captain said.

Philadelphia had led after the first period 2-1 on goals by Tom Bladen and Gary Dornhoefer, while Brad Park netted a power play score for the Bruins. Schmautz converted his own rebound at 12:35 of the second period to tie the score, and that's the way it remained until the crucial faceoff.

Veteran Stan Mikita, missing from action since the second week of the season before returning Saturday night in Toronto, scored on a 35-footer with 1:08 to go to give the Black Hawks their tie in the battle between division leaders. Both Chicago goals came on power plays, John Marks scoring the other.

Buffalo's goals were by Rick Martin, his 25th, and Danny Gare.

Detroit, playing its first game in eight days, suffered its third loss in a row when Garry Monahan, Don Lever and Bobby LaLonde connected for second-period goals for Vancouver.

Guy Charron scored his 16th goal of the season and assisted on Kansas City's other two scores. It was only the second victory for the Scouts in the last 17 games.

Lion MVPs Are Bussey, Naumoff

DETROIT — Dexter Bussey, second-year man who led the team in rushing, and Paul Naumoff, veteran linebacker who led the team in tackles, have been named Most Valuable Players for the 1975 Detroit Lions in a vote by the players.

Bussey, who finished the season with 696 yards rushing, zoomed into a starting role this year after his reserve status as a rookie last season. Naumoff, who played in every game this year for the ninth straight year, racked up 143 tackles to rank second on the defensive unit.

Snyder Heeds Fitch's Advice, Shoots Cavs Past Buffalo

From Associated Press

A good shooter can't help his team if he's not taking his shots. That's what Cleveland Coach Bill Fitch told Dick Snyder, the veteran Cavs guard, and Snyder took his advice. After scoring 10 points in the first half, he erupted for 26 in the second half to lead Cleveland to a 111-88 rout of the Buffalo Braves Sunday night.

"He's a good shooter," said Fitch. "This may sound ridiculous, but if he's been looking for a shot in the first half he would have scored a lot more. We called time out early in the game and I told him he was hesitating when he was open."

"A shooter has to shoot when he gets the opening."

Elsewhere in the NBA Sunday night, the Portland Trail Blazers beat the Golden State Warriors 96-92, the Detroit Pistons defeated the Kansas City Kings 103-87, the Milwaukee Bucks edged the Phoenix Suns 88-85, the Boston Celtics beat the Los Angeles Lakers 123-113 and the Seattle SuperSonics defeated the Houston Rockets 116-106.

Snyder hit 15 of 24 shots from the field and all six free throw tries in helping the surging Cavs to their ninth victory in 10 games.

Buffalo made just three of 17 shots from the field in the second period, scoring only 11 points and falling behind 47-37. Snyder scored 12 points and Jim Clemons 10 in the third period as the Braves broke the game open.

Bob McAdoo, in his second game since his brief suspension last week, led Buffalo with 26 points.

Bill Walton, back in action after being sidelined with dislocated fingers, started an eight-point run midway through the fourth quarter that lifted

Portland to victory. After Walton's basket put the Blazers ahead 85-84, Geoff Petrie added a basket and a pair of steals to set up the other scores in the burst.

After Golden State closed to within one, Petrie, who had 24 points, iced Phoenix led by 10 points going into the final period, but went scoreless from the field through the first 9:13 of the fourth quarter and Milwaukee came from behind to win. Jim Petrie led the Bucks with 20 points.

Dave Cowens topped Boston with 23 points, including a layup with 9:15 to play that put the Celtics ahead to stay 97-95. John Havlicek also had 23 points, while the Lakers' Kareem Abdul-Jabbar had 28 and Gail Goodrich 27.

Seattle built an 84-72 lead through the first three periods, then reserve forwards Tal Skinner and Mike Bantom helped turn back a late Houston surge. Skinner grabbed several key rebounds while Bantom held Houston's Rudy Tomjanovich to just eight points in the second half.

Houston's Calvin Murphy and Seattle's Fred Brown tied for scoring honors with 23 points each.

BH 'Clean Slate' Candidates Spent $1,300

By JIM DELAND

Assistant City Editor

The "Clean Slate" ticket headed by Benton Harbor Mayor Charles F. Joseph spent more than $1,300 to elect four candidates in the city's general election last month.

Campaign expenses reported by the six-member Clean Slate ticket to Berrien County Clerk Forrest H. Kesterke showed actual expenditures of $1,129.97 and unpaid bills of $207.02.

Contributions listed for the Clean Slate campaign totalled $1,135.00.

The only campaign expense listed by the rival "Common Sense" ticket was one $5 expenditure by Ocie Mitchell, unsuccessful candidate for the fourth ward commissioner's seat.

Members of the Clean Slate included Joseph, Barbara Huckaby, Alfred Williams, Charles Shepherd, Helen Ford and Elias McGrew. Joseph was re-elected mayor while Mrs. Huckaby, Williams and Shepherd won commissioner seats. Mrs. Ford withdrew as an active candidate before the election.

Expenses for all six were listed in a joint report filed by Mrs. Huckaby, the state treasurer. None of the six reported any individual expenses or contributions.

Top contributions listed for the Clean Slate were $125 by each of the six candidates on the ticket.

The only other expenses reported by candidates for any position were $49.40 by Wilco Cooke, unsuccessful mayoral candidate; $12.72 by Edmund Eaman, who was re-elected First ward commissioner as an independent; and the $5 expenditure listed by Mitchell.

The names of two unsuccessful candidates were turned over to the Berrien prosecutor's office by Kesterke, who said they were in violation of state law by not filing an expense report within 20 days of the general election.

Kesterke said Mrs. Annie Robinson, who ran for commissioner-at-large seat, turned in a report that was not notarized as required by law and that Willie T. Burton, write-in candidate for an at-large seat, did not file a report at all.

Mrs. Robinson was a member of the Common Sense ticket, along with Mitchell, Charles Yarbrough and Carl Brown. Of the four, only at-large commissioner Yarbrough was elected.

Assistant prosecutor John Bruha said candidates who have not filed expense reports will be sent notification of their statutory obligation, and that if they don't comply would be subject to further legal action.

SECOND INAUGURAL BALL Ali To Be Mayor Joseph's Guest

Heavyweight boxing Champion Muhammad Ali is scheduled to make his second appearance within five months in the Twin City area when he attends the inaugural ball for Benton Harbor Mayor Charles F. Joseph Saturday, Jan. 24.

Notices of the inaugural ball are included in solicitations for advertisements being sent to area businessmen. The advertisements will be in a souvenir inaugural booklet, planned in conjunction with the event, according to Mrs. William (Elizabeth) Fowler, general chairman. Mrs. Fowler said

Mrs. Helen Ford is co-chairman of the inaugural event.

Mrs. Fowler said Ali is honorary chairman and has indicated he will attend.

The ball will be at Ramada Inn and will be preceded by a dinner at Benton Harbor

Holiday Inn, both in Benton township.

Muhammad Ali spent a full day in Benton Harbor last August. He toured the city and sparred in exhibition matches with Mayor Joseph and several other "contenders."

The champion pledged support of Joseph won re-election to a second four-year term in November.

for a quarter page, and $15 for one-eighth page.

Mrs. Fowler said the dinner and ball will be a formal affair. About 500 people are expected, she said. Details, on times, ticket prices, and possible guest speakers, will be announced later, Mrs. Fowler said.

After his last visit to Benton Harbor, Ali purchased an 80-acre estate just north of Berrien Springs.

BH Commissioners Freeze City Hiring

Benton Harbor city commission voted 6 to 3 last night to freeze all hiring, promotions and transfers of city employees in an attempt to save money for next year's budget.

The resolution was passed after the commission had voted 5 to 4 to fire Charles A. Morrison as city manager. But Morrison was critical of the freeze saying it would strip responsibility from the city administration, take away the hiring function of the city manager and cause three people to lose their jobs immediately.

Voting for the freeze were Mayor Charles F. Joseph, Barbara Huckaby, Charles Shepherd, Winston Minott and

F. Joseph Flaugh. Opposing it were Commissioners Arnold Bolin, Edmund Eaman and Charles Yarbrough.

The commission voted to make the freeze retroactive to Nov. 27. Morrison said this would cost the jobs of Ronald Weber, Mary DeFoe and Mark Detweiler because they had been transferred from Model Cities jobs to the city's community development program after that date.

Morrison said he previously had implemented a freeze on hiring to save money, but that did not include transfers and promotions.

The commission on Nov. 24 had tabled a resolution on freezing hiring, transfers and promotions.

In other business, the commission voted to oppose a recommendation by the Twin City airport board that land at Ross field be used as a disposal site for dumping of dredgings from the Twin City inner harbor.

Joseph said the commission had previously gone on record supporting other sites — Radio (Terminal) island and the old Benton Harbor ship canal as an interim site.

The St. Joseph city commission voted Nov. 17 for the use of Ross field property as a disposal site.

Both Benton Harbor and St. Joseph had to approve the airport site before it could be submitted to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for final approval.

The commission reaffirmed its position on granting Berrien County Action a special-use permit to operate a family planning program for teenage girls at 617 Pipestone street.

The request, which was approved last week, was tossed back at the commission by Commissioner Charles Yarbrough who said the city's planning commission guidelines required that planning commission recommendations had to be overruled by the city commission by at least a two-thirds vote.

The city planning commission had recommended denial of the request by a 3 to 2 vote and last week, the city commission overruled that recommendation and voted to grant the special-use permit by a 5 to 3 vote. The commission again approved the request last night by a 5 to 1 vote. Commissioner Eaman cast the lone vote against granting the permit.

In a related matter, the commission sent to committee a request by Suzy Edwards, Berrien County Action, Inc., coordinator, to use office space at the city-owned Highland House at 662 Highland avenue as BCA's headquarters.

Mrs. Edwards said BCA, which is presently located on the second floor of the Fidelity building in downtown Benton Harbor, needed room to expand its operation. Mrs. Edwards also asked that the city furnish the space and utilities at no charge to BCA.

The commission also elected Commissioner Minott as Mayor Pro Tem, replacing Virgil May whose term expired this year. Minott, nominated for the post by Mayor Joseph, was elected by a 5 to 2 vote. Commissioners Bolin, Flaugh and Yarbrough voted against Minott's election to the seat.

NEW BH COMMISSIONERS: Benton Harbor City Clerk Evelyn Grenawitzke administers oath of office to two new city commissioners, Charles Shepherd and Barbara Huckaby. Shepherd, who defeated Commissioner Carl Brown in Nov. 4 city election for Second Ward commissioner, was instrumental last night in causing City Manager Charles Morrison's contract to be terminated by 5 to 4 vote. Mrs. Huckaby was elected commissioner-at-large and replaces Virgil May. (Staff photos)

Option For Senior Citizens Tower In BH Is Approved

A proposal for a senior citizens housing project that envisions construction of a "twin" to the Harbor Towers high rise in downtown Benton Harbor got a first step of approval last night from the city commission.

A 30-day option to purchase a small plot of urban renewal land on the southeast corner of Pipestone and Market streets was granted to Dow & Associates C/M, Inc., and a Burling G. Doolittle, as general partners, 315 Post street, Midland, Mich.

The proposed developers were not present last night. City Manager Charles

Morrison said the option gives them 30 days to come up with a financing package and building plans for the project, all of which will be subject to further approval of the city governing body.

Morrison added there is no estimate of building costs at this time. He said the general intention is for a high rise apartment structure of approximately 100 units somewhat like the existing Harbor Towers. He stated he had no knowledge of the developers plans for financing the project, but suggested that "HUD (Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development) is the only source of money for senior citizen housing."

The city manager noted there is a demand for senior citizen housing in the city, adding that there were 127 names on the waiting list for openings in Harbor Towers.

Dimensions of the city-owned lot were reported at 225 by 178 feet, slightly less than one acre. Morrison said the planned building site would also include private property immediately to the south along Pipestone street. He identified the private property as the old OK Electric Co. property and the union hall of Local 1917, IAM union.

The price of the city lot was set at $12,000 in the option.

Nelson had arrears of $4,261 for one child on ADC in one case, and $1,578 arrears for two children on ADC in another case. Nelson received the same sentence in each case, and the jail sentences are to run concurrently.

Judge Chester J. Byrns found Jodie Lindley, of 804 West John Beers road, Lincoln township, in contempt for $225 arrears for one child not on ADC, placed him on two years probation, and ordered him to execute a wage assignment of $25 weekly child support and $2.50 weekly towards the arrearage.

Byrns also held Robert M. Walker, of 1181 Bishop street, Benton Harbor, in contempt for $1,866 arrears for two children not on ADC. He was placed on two years probation and told to sign a wage assignment of $44 weekly support and $5 weekly on the arrears.

Byrns also told Walker he's to verify that he has employment or is receiving unemployment compensation with Pastrick in two weeks or spend 30 days in jail.

Man Pleads Innocent Of Robbery

An ex-convict pleaded innocent Monday in Berrien Circuit court to two charges of armed robbery — a holdup at a St. Joseph jewelry store and robbing a St. Joseph police officer of his service revolver.

Robert Lee Williams, 34, of Lansing, was remanded to the county jail by Judge William S. White following arraignment.

Williams is accused of robbing Robert Green, owner of Green's Jewelers, at 315 State street, of more than $7,000 worth of rings and about $251 in cash and checks on Nov. 28. He is also charged with robbing Patrolman Max Keschull of his service revolver during the robbery of the store.

Keschull was reported to have entered the store while a man armed with a pistol allegedly was robbing the store.

Williams' alleged accomplices, Diane Stokes, of Benton Harbor, and Rolanda Carter, of Benton township, both pleaded innocent to single armed robbery charges when arraigned last week in circuit court.

Williams is also charged with another armed robbery and is awaiting circuit court arraignment in connection with a Nov. 3 holdup at Rees Jewelry store in Buchanan where $20,251 in cash and jewelry allegedly were stolen.

St. Joe Township Hall

To Be Open Special Hours

St. Joseph township hall, 146 West Napier avenue, Fairplain, will be open until 5 p.m. today and from 9 a.m. to noon Wednesday for collection of 1975 property taxes over the counter, according to Isadore DiMaggio, township treasurer. DiMaggio said township offices will be closed from noon Wednesday until Monday, Jan. 5.

New York Native Joins Shepherd

Frank F. Schoelch, 46, former president of Kreisel Canada, Ltd., Toronto-based jewelry manufacturer, has been named to the newly-created post of executive vice president of Shepherd Products U.S., Inc.,

St. Joseph. John Hogg, president of Shepherd Products, announced the appointment. Hogg said Schoelch has acquired wide experience in marketing, finance and manufacturing and will head operations at Shepherd, located at 203 Kerth avenue in the St. Joseph industrial park.

Schoelch was president of Kreisel for six years and before that was president of Lenox Jewelry Products of New York. A native of New York City, Schoelch was graduated cum laude from Pace university in New York City, where he majored in business administration.

Schoelch and his wife, Christina, have three children and will be residing in St. Joseph.

Approve Purchase

BUCHANAN — Bertrand township voters approved the purchase of a new township hall and authorized the sale of the present township hall during a special citizen township meeting last night.

Brayton Yaw, township supervisor, said 61 votes were cast on two questions voted on by those attending the special session.

A proposal to purchase the former Howe school at a cost of not to exceed $25,000 was approved by a 56 to 3 margin, Yaw said.

The 20-year-old former school building is located across the street from the present township hall on Buffalo road south of Buchanan.

In a second vote, the township board was authorized to sell the present 1900-built hall by a 39 to 22 margin.

Lab Results Awaited

Benton Harbor police and fire officials are awaiting results of tests at the state police crime lab in Holland in an effort to determine what triggered an explosion in a furniture store Sunday.

The explosion about 8:15 p.m. ripped through Service Furniture House, 300 Territorial road, extensively damaging the building and merchandise.

Store owner-operator Sidney Rosenberg, detectives reported, is still determining the amount of damage. The blast was believed to have been centered at the rear of the store. Natural gas, used for heat in the building, was tentatively ruled out as a cause of the explosion, fire officials indicated.

January Hearing Scheduled In SJ Fraud Case Appeal

An appeal by a special Berrien county prosecutor challenging dismissal of charges against three business and professional men accused of fraud will be heard next month by Cass county Circuit Judge James E. Hoff.

The hearing will be Jan. 15 at 1:30 p.m. in the Cass county courthouse, Cassopolis, according to Donald Johnston, special assistant prosecutor of Kent county.

The appeal was filed last September by Kent Prosecutor Harold S. Sawyer, who was ap pointed special Berrien prosecutor in charge of the cases against Thomas McCoy, James Boreham and William Lanphear.

Charges of conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses against the three were dismissed in September by visiting District Judge Donald M. Goodwillie, Jr., during a preliminary hearing in Berrien county.

McCoy is a St. Joseph attorney, Boreham a former president of Beaudoin-Stueland Electric Co. in St. Joseph, and Lanphear is a retired state police lieutenant.

Each was accused of three counts of conspiring to obtain a total of $24,372 from Beaudoin-Stueland through a series of invoices and purchase orders. Goodwillie ruled the prosecution may have shown unethical business practices, but failed to establish any criminal wrongdoing.

The appeal claims Goodwillie erred on certain points of law and asks that charges be reinstated and the men bound over to circuit court for trial.

Top-Ranked Indiana Feasts On New York Basketball

From Associated Press
Collegiate basketball has been trying to rebound for several years in New York City, but it took the Indiana Hoosiers only two days to set it back several steps.

The nation's top-ranked team has made the Holiday Festival Tournament virtually its own, dominating two outclassed New York teams and threatening to wipe out a third.

"They're awesome," says St. John's Coach Lou Carnesecca, whose team meets the Big Ten brutes tonight in the finals of the 24th Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden.

The Redmen represent the pride of New York basketball this year. They're ranked 17th in the country, have not lost a game in nine starts and figure to give Bobby Knight's monster team more than just token opposition.

But beating the boys from Indiana may be something else.

The Hoosier hotshots hardly broke a sweat while beating Columbia 106-63 and Manhattan 97-61 behind fabulous Scott May in earlier Festival games. St. John's, sparked by Frank Alagia, has struggled to beat Temple 67-59 and South Carolina 71-59.

"We can't run with them," says Carnesecca of Indiana, a team whose five starters average 6-foot-7. "If we try, they'll run us right into the East River. But we must play our own game as much as possible, the style that got us here."

The Redmen's game plan is to play a controlled, slowdown offense, stressing disciplined ballhandling and no wild shots.

While the country's No. 1 team was zeroing in on the Holiday Festival title in New York, No. 11 Louisville was locking one up at home. The Cardinals defeated Texas A&M 102-88 in the championship game of the Holiday Classic in Louisville.

In other weekend action, ninth-ranked North Carolina

State beat Auburn 79-74; 10th-ranked Tennessee defeated Penn 77-70 and Tulane walloped Ohio State 80-65 in first-round games of the Sugar Bowl Classic in New Orleans; Rhode Island stunned 14th-ranked San Francisco 85-77 to win the Ocean State basketball classic in Providence, R.I.; No. 19 Minnesota trimmed Creighton 80-74 to win the Pillsbury Classic in Bloomington, Minn., and in the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City, it was No. 19 Centenary 82, Bowling Green 69;

Utah State 105, North Texas State 87; Eastern Kentucky 74, Oklahoma City 62, and Long Island University 69, Long Beach State 62.

Elsewhere, Kansas edged Nebraska 69-66, Colorado beat Oklahoma 61-50, Missouri stopped Oklahoma State 81-79 and Kansas State routed Iowa State 81-67 in the first round of the Big Eight Tournament at Kansas City; Wake Forest won the Gator Bowl tournament by whipping Florida 78-75 in overtime, and Detroit took the Motor City Classic with a 74-67 whipping of DePaul.

After disposing of Columbia with ridiculous ease, Indiana tore up Manhattan as May scored 32 points. Alagia, St. John's little package of dynamite in the backcourt, exploded for seven points in a 13-2 run late in the game to help the Redmen beat South Carolina in Saturday night's semis.

Wesley Cox scored 13 of his 19 points in the first half and Phil Bond had 15 of his 23 also before intermission to lead Louisville past Texas A&M. Roy Roberts had 30 points, a Louisville Holiday Classic record, to lead the losers.

Kenny Carr scored eight of North Carolina State's last 12 points to help the Wolfpack survive a late rally by Auburn.

Ernie Grunfeld scored 36 points to lead Tennessee past Penn. Tulane came alive late in the game on a series of fast breaks triggered by Phil Hicks to rout Ohio State.

Rhode Island used its quickness and 39 points from Jim Williamson and Mark Cizynski to upset San Francisco. Michael Thompson blocked seven shots and scored 21 points to lead undefeated Minnesota to its eighth straight victory and second straight Pillsbury Classic.

Nate Bland pumped in 20 points to boost Centenary over Bowling Green. Utah State took charge of both backboards and center Ed Gregg hit for 26 points to lead the Aggies past North Texas State. Carl Brown's 25 points led Eastern Kentucky over Oklahoma City. Nate Revels produced 20 points as LIU stopped Long Beach State.

Wake Forest won the Gator Bowl tourney in Jacksonville, Fla., as Rob Griffin scored 23 points, including four foul shots in the final 43 seconds. Jon Ponsetto hurled in 22 points as Detroit won its own Motor City Classic.

Elsewhere, Gannon College defeated Navy 55-52 and Georgetown beat Colgate 51-49 in first-round games of the Porreco Cup basketball tournament in Erie, Pa. and Texas Tech turned back Colorado State 59-55 and Duquesne trimmed Oregon 78-74 in first-round action at the Far West Classic.

Soviet Army Iciers Dazzle Rangers, 7-3

Convincing In U.S. Opener

NEW YORK (AP) — The protests issued weakly from their mouths, like those of a child trying to convince a parent he didn't really break that heirloom lamp.

"We weren't disciplined," said one; "We didn't play very well," said another; "We got the penalties, they got the goals," said a third.

The excuses, by the New York Rangers, were as unconvincing as their performance Sunday night as the Soviet Army team opened a four game National Hockey League tour with an ironclad 7-3 triumph.

It was left to the Russian visitors then, after winning their first encounter with a complete NHL squad, to analyze their 657th victory — with 50 ties — in the 796 sanctioned games since the sport reached their frozen frontiers 29 years ago.

Why was it so easy? "They have a weight problem," observed Army Coach Konstantin Lotkev. "They have a carriage problem in skating. They're not as fast as we. They must improve their conditioning."

Could it be complacency from fat contracts? Lotkev's interpreter relayed the diplomatic response: "I can't answer that question. That's for your Canadian and American people to assess."

The response was written on the scoreboard. The sharply-honed Soviet style of dazzling short passes and ever-accurate shots fired with controlled speed was too much for the individual-oriented game the Rangers play. New York took a 1-0 lead after 21 seconds, courtesy of Steve Vickers' backhand from six feet. Then they got a lesson in hockey fundamentals and strategy.

"They really move the puck and they really skate. That's what hockey really is," analyzed Rangers' right wing Rick Middleton. "We knew what they could do, and we knew they don't retaliate when they get hit — so we tried to intimidate them a little bit."

Well, that didn't work. "They must not feel anything," said astonished defenseman Ron Greshner. "If I got hit the way I was hitting them, I'd be crawling around on the floor." And sending two men in to forecheck didn't work — the Russians just went to longer breakout passes, leaving the New York forwards in their tracks. And trying to play a Russian-style short passing game didn't work, either. The Rangers continually made one pass too many, once wasting a 72-second period when they had two extra skaters through penalties in the middle session.

"We weren't that disciplined, and they took advantage of our mistakes," explained goalie John Davidson, who faced 29 Soviet shots that are "always on target. They never shoot wide."

"And I noticed something else: they almost never just dumped the puck into our zone and chased after it. They always carried it in."

How unlike the Rangers, who were suffocated by the close Soviet defense and trailed 7-1 before Rod Gilbert and Phil Esposito scored late in the game. New York was forced to dump the puck in because nothing else would work.

"We killed them on faceoffs (winning 56 of 73) and we outshot them (41-29), but they outdid us on the scoreboard and that, unfortunately, is all that matters," summarized Esposito.

Bruins' Sciarra Holds Key

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — How well the "Three Bees," the swarming Ohio State trio of defensive linemen, handle John Sciarra could go a long way toward settling the 1976 Rose Bowl.

Middle guard Aaron Brown and tackles Nick Buonamici and Eddie Beamon forced the UCLA All-American quarterback into a 7-16 passing performance in the Bruins' 41-20 midseason loss to the Buckeyes.

Additionally, Sciarra managed no yards rushing in 14 attempts against the Big Ten conference champions.

In 10 other games, the 5-foot-10, 180-pound senior rushed for 806 yards. Sciarra has spent hours studying films of that loss and knows he's the hub of any hopes of upsetting the top-ranked Buckeyes.

"If we give them a break, Ohio State is going to score," said Sciarra, obviously thinking about his team's nine turnovers in a closing victory over Southern California.

"You wonder why these guys are so good? Look at them on film. They have 11 of the finest athletes you'll ever see on one defense team."

"They stick to their assignments. A lot of college teams don't do that. If Beamon escapes and pressures me, Buonamici and Brown seem to fill the spots behind him. They really swarm," continued the man who accounted for 1,907 total yards in 1975.

Such tactics fitted Ohio State to 11 straight victories, its sixth conference title or co-title and accompanying Rose Bowl berth in the last eight seasons. The Buckeyes yielded just over seven points and 250 yards per game.

Ohio State limited UCLA to 276 yards, 150 yards below par for the 8-2-1 Pacific-8 co-champions, the nation's third ranking offensive team this season.

Esco Sarkkinen, an Ohio State assistant coach in his ninth Rose Bowl, says the secret against Sciarra and UCLA's explosive Vee-T attack is disguising the defense.

"If you stay with the same readable defense," said Sarkkinen, "Sciarra knows what plays to go to. Give him a variety of defenses. It's the same as a fireball pitcher. Batters plant their heels and tee off on his fastball."

Linebacker Ken Kuhn, one of five Buckeyes playing in their fourth straight Rose Bowl, said, "Sciarra's the whole wheel of their offense. We've simply got to stop him."

Beamon, whose fierce pass rush played a vital role in the first victory, worries about the brute strength of UCLA.

"They're just big as hell," said the Ohio State sophomore.

Both sides will be in near perfect shape for their rematch. Only freshman tight end Jimmy Moore, recovering from knee surgery, will be missing for Ohio State. Three of UCLA's dependables, running back Wendell Tyler, offensive guard Randy Cross and offensive tackle Jack DeMartini, are off the injured list and expected to play.

Kalamazoo Earns Hockey Deadlock

From Associated Press
Kalamazoo and Columbus, the last place teams in the International Hockey League's North and South Divisions, proved they were evenly matched Sunday night, battling to a 5-5 tie.

Gordie Neilsen and Ken Mann each had two goals for Kalamazoo, which is 9-18-7 for the season.

Columbus, in last place in the South, is 8-23-7.

In other games Sunday, Saginaw downed Port Wayne 7-1, Flint defeated Port Huron 6-4, and Dayton edged Muskegon 4-3.

Dave Westner and Paul Evans each scored two goals for Saginaw.

The victory, watched by a crowd of 5,069, gave Saginaw a season record of 19-1-5 and first place in the North Division.

Fort Wayne is 13-16-7.

Scott Hudson scored the winning goal early in the third period to lead Flint to victory. The score had been tied at 4-all when Hudson netted the puck.

Flint took a 4-0 lead on goals by Murray Hanson, Bob Law, Clyde Simon and Mike Clarke.

Port Huron then came back with four goals of its own — by Chuck Shaw, Bud Stefanski, Len Chambers and John Bellio. After Hudson's goal, Frank DeMarco ended the scoring by hitting an empty net.

Flint, with a 15-13-6 record, is now in third place in the North division. Port Huron, 19-13-1, is second.

Paul Nicholson scored three goals, getting two with one minute left to play in the game, for the Dayton Gems.

The third period was a high scoring one, as Muskegon scored three times with goals by Earnie Moser, Carlo Ugolini and Rick Molinaro.

Les Auge scored for Dayton, also in the third period. Dayton now is in first place in the South Division with a 19-12-3 record. Muskegon, with 14-12-3, slipped to fourth place in the North Division.

Colonists Declared Equality But -- Not For Women

Many Colonial women heard the fervent calls of "liberty," "equality," and "freedom" and bridled at the circumstance that while the Patriots declared all men equal, they drew the line at declaring women equal to men.

In short, the seeds of modern feminism already were sprouting in America long before the Colonies declared their independence.

Researchers at the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration have unearthed records of many heroines during the American Revolution — and also found some strikingly advanced feminist thought.

Abigail Smith Adams, wife of the second president, was among the most forthright in her views. In a letter to her husband 200 years ago, she said: "I cannot say that I think you very generous to the ladies, for whilst you are proclaiming peace and good will to men, ennobling all nations, you insist upon retaining an absolute power over wives...we have it in our power not only to free ourselves but to subdue our masters."

Abigail remained in Massachusetts, taking full charge of family affairs including running a farm while her peppery husband, John, pursued revolutionary politics. As the Declaration of Independence was being debated, she wrote to her husband in Philadelphia: "I desire you would remember the ladies and be more generous and favorable to them than your ancestors...That your sex are notoriously tyrannical is a truth so thoroughly established as to admit of no dispute."

Mercy Otis Warren was another outspoken feminist patriot who like Abigail, rebelled at the social pressures against women who wanted a serious education. Writing that if women's minds seemed to dwell on trifles while men dealt with power and wealth, she noted: "The deficiency lies not so much in (the) inferior texture of female intellects as in the different education bestowed on the sexes."

She deeply resented the practice in the Colonies and elsewhere in the world of fathers using their marriageable daughters as a means of bartering for wealth or power. She is perhaps best remembered for her play, "The Group," a passionate plea for independence. The play was a major success, even though many men were upset that a woman should set her pen to such a serious subject.

There well may have been a wealth of feminist thought and sentiment during the Revolution. But women were discouraged from putting such things down on paper and much may have disappeared because no one thought such things were of much importance.

Abigail's grandsons, wrote: "The heroism of the females of the Revolution has gone from memory with the generation that witnessed it and nothing, absolutely nothing, remains on the ear of the young of the present day but the faint echo of an expiring general tradition."

What was true of heroism was almost certainly true of such radical ideas as women's equality.

Papaya Provides Vitamins

One papaya quite adequately serves two, weighs approximately one pound and contains about 136 calories (about 78 calories per seven-ounce half).

But to serve papayas as appetizers or finger canapes, they can be cut into slender wedges, chunks, rings or half-rounds to serve a crowd. Try alternating papaya chunks on skewers with ham cubes, other fresh fruits, chunks of cheese, balls of cream cheese rolled in finely chopped nuts, or cooked prawns.

Wrap slender papaya wedges with thinly-sliced prosciutto or ham.

Surround a bowl of fruit-flavored yogurt with papaya half-rounds for dipping.

HAPPY FEET

Give your feet a treat in warm weather — wear sandals instead of shoes. They allow a free flow of air for feet that perspire freely.

Add Punch To Party

Holiday Tradition

A punch may contain an alcoholic beverage or be a hearty mixture of fruit punch, frozen lemonade and ginger ale with a dollop of candy cane to please the younger set.

About one hour before serving, beat egg whites until foamy. Add remaining sugar, one tablespoon at a time and continue beating until soft peaks form when beater is slowly raised.

Fold egg whites into punch mixture, mixing well; keep refrigerated until serving time. Just before serving, stir gently, then spoon whipped cream on top. Spoon in just enough to give a marbled effect on the surface. Sprinkle top with orange peel and grated nutmeg. Ladle into

Texas Comeback Crushes Colorado

Royal's Halftime Talk Works

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas players said Coach Darrell Royal's halftime speech was not the fiery Knute Rockne sort of thing — but it worked.

The Longhorns, down 21-7 at the half and having looked real bad in getting into that position, roared back for 31 points in the second half — 24 in the third quarter — to defeat Colorado 38-21 in the 17th Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl Saturday.

Rockne, the late Notre Dame coach, was known for his inspiring halftime speeches. He also chided his players, once reportedly referring to them as "girls" after a ragged first-half performance.

Royal didn't do that. He just told them they were not going to quit.

"Coach Royal said we could lose but we couldn't quit and we decided we didn't want to lose either," tackle Bob Simmons said.

Linebacker Bill Hamilton said the team was "down in the first half, playing sloppy. The coach told us that and we knew it. We knew we could come back."

Royal said it was the team's desire rather than anything he said that caused the dramatic turnaround.

"I told them we had a chance as long as we didn't quit," Royal said. "I don't recall ever having a bigger turnaround. But true defeat comes from within — you are not defeated as long as you keep trying."

The 10th-ranked Buffaloes jumped to a 14-0 lead on a one-yard run by Terry Kunz and a four-yard pass from quarterback David Williams to Dave Logan.

Texas, ranked ninth, cut the lead to 14-7 on a 21-yard pass from quarterback Marty Akins to Alfred Jackson, but the Buffaloes hiked the lead to 21-7 seconds before the half ended on a 25-yard pass from Williams to Don Hasselbeck.

The second half was all Texas, with the Longhorns scoring on a three-yard run by Jimmy Walker, a four-yard run by Johnny Jones, a seven-yard scamper by Ivey Suber, a blocked punt and recovery by Tim Campbell and an Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl record 55-yard field goal by Russell Erxleben.

Colorado Coach Bill Mallory said the blocked punt by Campbell was the turning point. The touchdown narrowed the margin to 21-19 and Akins passed to Earl Campbell for the two-point conversion to tie it at 21-21. Erxleben's field goal two minutes later put the Longhorns ahead to stay.

"The blocked punt had to be the turning point," Mallory said. "It gave them momentum and just switched the entire attack."

Cincinnati Wins Fights, Game

From Associated Press

Whenever the Cincinnati Stingers and Indianapolis Racers get together, they should carry not only hockey gloves but boxing gloves as well.

The two World Hockey Association teams squared off again Sunday night and the result was a predictable brawl. In fact, two of them.

"What is it between Cincinnati and Indianapolis?" asked Stingers Coach Terry Slater after his team won the fights and then the game, 4-1. "They have a guy — Kim Clackson — on their team who needs to be taught a lesson. We can't afford to do it now but I guarantee you before the season is over some team will do it ... and it just could be us."

"He's had five fights with us so far and lost all five. All he wants to get is 500 minutes in penalties so he can get his name in the record book. If Indianapolis wants to play him it's sure okay with us because we can get a lot of five-minute penalties."

That's exactly how it worked out for the Stingers Sunday as they scored on three straight power plays to whip the Racers and cement their grip on second place in the East Division.

In the other WHA games, the San Diego Mariners beat the Minnesota Fighting Saints 2-1; the Quebec Nordiques tripped the Toronto Toros 6-1; the New England Whalers blanked the Cleveland Crusaders 4-0; the Calgary Cowboys beat the Winnipeg Jets 6-4, and the Phoenix Roadrunners whipped the Denver Spurs 5-2.

Pierre Guite and Ron Plumb slapped in goals one minute apart to help Cincinnati beat Indianapolis. The victory snapped a three-game losing string for the Stingers.

Gary Bredin and Ray Adduno scored second-period goals to lead San Diego over Minnesota.

Mark Tardiff scored his 33rd and 34th goals of the season, leading Quebec over Toronto. Tardiff, who leads the league in scoring, had second-period goals five minutes apart to break open a close game.

Tom Webster stretched his scoring streak to 13 games with a goal and two assists as New England beat Cleveland.

Danny Lawson and Ron Chipperfield scored two goals apiece to pace Calgary over Winnipeg.

Racers' Winning Streak Snapped

KALAMAZOO — The Benton Harbor Racers' unbeaten streak came to an abrupt halt here Sunday.

Century Buick of Kalamazoo toppled the Racers 7-5 at Wings Stadium to snap the Racer string at 13. The Racers, who played without the league's leading scorer Steve Schneek and defensive standout Mark Parrish, never led in the game.

A third-period rally brought the Racers to within one with less than two minutes to play. But a breakaway goal by Century's Greg Eckert sealed the victory.

Frank Grumbir and Wes Sonnenberg each scored twice for the Racers, now 11-1-2.

The Racers face Andy's of Kalamazoo Thursday at Wings Stadium.

U-D Captures Own Cage Tournament

From Associated Press

The University of Detroit swept its own Mgor City basketball tournament last weekend by defeating DePaul Saturday night.

Sophomore center Joe Ponsetto chalked up 22 points to lead U-D to the 74-67 victory.

In the consolation game, George Washington defeated Wyoming 57-55 as Les Anderson hit a 10-foot jump shot with five seconds to go.

The Detroit-DePaul game was a see-saw battle most of the way. But DePaul hit a dry spell in the final minutes, scoring only four points in the final eight minutes.

The triumph gave U-D a 6-3 season record.

In other Michigan college basketball action, Tiffin of Ohio defeated Mercy College of Detroit, 88-86, Saturday.

Fred Burnett was top scorer for Mercy with 25 points. The school is now 8-7 for the season.

At the Marshall tournament Saturday, Albion slipped by Manchester of Indiana, 94-89, and Kalamazoo whipped Taylor of Indiana, 91-82.

Coolers Win League Title

PAW PAW — Bangor Coolers won the Paw Paw men's basketball league title with an 87-77 win over second-place Mitchell's Sunday night here.

The Coolers, who end the season with a 19-1 record, were led by John Martin with 36 points. Dave Anderson led Mitchell's, now 17-3, with 33 points.

In the only other Sunday game, Tappan Olds beat Lovely Lady Homes 58-44. Preston Vowels of Lovely Lady led all scorers with 26 points.

Young, Mueller Head Skate Team

U.S. Squad Selected For 1976 Olympics

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — World sprint champion Sheila Young of Detroit and Peter Mueller, 21-year-old sensation from Mequon, Wis., head a seven-man, eight-woman speed skating team named Sunday to represent the United States in the 1976 Winter Olympics.

Mueller, who won seven of the nine events in which he competed during six days of trials here, joins 1972 Olympic veterans Young, Leah Poulos, Northbrook, Ill.; Dan Carroll, St. Louis, and Charlie Gilmore, Alameda, Calif., on the team. Mueller and Miss Poulos are engaged.

Other men chosen were Eric Heiden and Dan Immerfall of Madison, Wis.; Jim Chapin, St. Louis, and Mike Woods of Milwaukee.

Other women named were Beth Heiden and Lori Monk, both Madison; Peggy Crowe, St. Louis; Kim Kostrom, St. Paul, Minn.; Cindy Seikkula, Minneapolis, and Nancy Swider, Park Ridge, Ill.

The U.S. International Skating Association had said in May that it would specify at the end of trials in which events team members would compete during the Feb. 4-15 games at Innsbruck, Austria. However, meet director George Howie, Oconomowoc, Wis., said Sunday the lineup had not yet been determined.

While no members of the new team won medals in the 1972 games, men's coach Peter Schotting and women's coach Dianne Holm were optimistic over chances of winning medals.

Miss Holm won a gold medal at 1,500 meters and a silver at 3,000 four years ago. Anne Henning, also retired, won a gold at 500 and a bronze at 1,000 in 1972. The men were shut out.

"We may have had more overall talent in 1972," Schotting said. "Right now we don't have as much depth, but we may have as much or more medal potential."

The association could have chosen a maximum of 12 men and eight women. But officials had said they would take only those athletes they considered capable of earning medals. The best team members are expected to compete in several events.

"Sheila, Leah, Peter Mueller and maybe to a lesser extent Dan Carroll are the best potential candidates for medals," Schotting said. "Peter, Sheila and Leah probably have their best chances at 1,000 meters. But the international level is very tight. At 1,000 or 1,500 meters, half a second could be the difference between first place and 10th."

"I think we have strong replacements for Anne Henning in Sheila and Leah, but we don't have anyone to replace Dianne," Schotting said. "She was at world class levels in the distances. The girls' distances are our weakest level."

Miss Holm, a two-time Olympian, disagreed. "We've already replaced Anne and myself," she said. "This is our best team ever."

Why there's a shortage of Miller High Life.

We're brewing more Miller High Life® Beer than ever. But Americans are also drinking more Miller High Life than ever. In each of the last two years, we've experienced greater sales percentage increases than any other major brewer in the industry. And this overwhelming demand has created shortages in some areas.

If you're having a problem finding enough of our beer, please accept our apologies. We're working around the clock to bring you an adequate supply as quickly as possible.

We're even building another brewery, our fourth, which will be in operation early next year. There's only one thing we refuse to do. And that's rush our brewing process.

Because it's the quality of our beer that has made us a success in the first place.

America's quality beer. Since 1855.

RELAX WITH NEW YEAR'S GUESTS

Make Hors D'oeuvres Ahead

Pate has been described as the ultimate in hors d'oeuvres, a luxurious cold meat loaf, or a fancy liver spread. Whatever the definition, pate should be part of the holiday scene. It's special — like the season.

PATE EN CROUTE

One chicken breast, split (about twelve ounces)
Two cups water
One bay leaf
One-fourth teaspoon each: rosemary, basil, salt

One-half cup minced onion
Two tablespoons butter
Three tablespoons flour
One-fourth teaspoon seasoned salt
One-half cup heavy cream
One tablespoon brandy or

sherry

One-half pound (eight ounces) braunschweiger liver sausage
One can (eight ounces) refrigerated crescent rolls
Two ounces sliced bologna, cut in strips
Two tablespoons pistachio nuts, halved
One egg, beaten

Combine chicken breasts, water and seasonings in a small skillet. Bring to a boil; reduce heat, cover and simmer 20 minutes. Remove from broth. Cool slightly; remove skin and bones. Cut into one-half-inch wide strips; set aside.

Saute onion in butter in a medium-sized saucepan. Stir in flour to make a smooth, thick paste. Gradually add cream, stirring until smooth and thick. Remove from heat; stir in mashed braunschweiger. Set aside.

Unroll crescent dough. Separate two rectangles of dough and place long sides together; pinch dough to join and to seal triangle seams. Roll out to nine by six-inch rectangle. Roll up around rolling pin. Unroll over nine by five-inch loaf pan. Ease dough into pan, pressing and patting to stretch into corners and three-quarters way up sides of pan.

Spread one-third of braunschweiger mixture on bottom; top with half chicken strips, bologna strips and pistachio nuts. Cover with one-third braunschweiger mixture; top with remaining chicken strips, bologna strips and pistachio nuts. Top with remaining braunschweiger mixture. Brush edges of dough in pan with beaten egg.

Pinch remaining dough rectangles together, end to end; pinch to seal triangle seams. Cut off three-fourths of this dough and roll out to fit top of pan. Place over filling, pressing edges to seal; brush top with beaten egg. Cut slits in top to allow steam to escape. Cut designs in remaining dough with aspic cutters or paring knife; brush with egg and place on top.

Bake in preheated 375 degree oven 30 minutes. Cool one hour.

Loosen edges with spatula, tip pan on side and ease pate out. Place upright on rack and continue to cool. Seal in plastic wrap and refrigerate several hours or overnight. Slice to serve. Makes 12 servings.

PATE PARTY MOLD

One tablespoon (one envelope) unflavored gelatin
One can (ten and one-half ounces) beef consommé
One hard-cooked egg, shelled and sliced
Six pimiento stuffed olives, sliced
One-half pound (eight-ounces) liverwurst
Two tablespoons finely chopped green onion
One teaspoon fresh lemon juice
One-fourth teaspoon grated lemon rind
Dash liquid red pepper seasoning

Soften gelatin in one-third cup of the consommé in a small saucepan. Heat and stir over medium heat until gelatin is dissolved; add remaining consommé. Pour into measuring cup.

Pour one-third cup consommé mixture into two-cup mold which has been placed in a bowl of ice and water. Swirl gently until thin coat of set gelatin builds up inside mold. Arrange center egg slices and eight to ten of the olive slices on bottom and part way up sides. Spoon one-third cup consommé mixture over decoration. Chill in ice water, while preparing pate mixture.

Mash liverwurst with a fork; stir in green onion. Chop remaining egg and olive slices; add to liverwurst along with lemon juice and rind and liquid red pepper seasoning. Stir in remaining consommé mixture. Carefully spoon over partially set mixture in mold. Chill several hours until firm. Unmold on serving plate. Serve with crackers. Makes eight servings.

LIVER PATE TARTS

Nine thin slices sandwich bread, crusts removed
One-half pound (eight ounces) braunschweiger liver sausage

NEW YEAR'S HORS D'OEUVRES

Two tablespoons dairy sour cream
One tablespoon dry sherry
Two teaspoons instant minced onion
One teaspoon bitters
One teaspoon Dijon-style mustard
One-eighth teaspoon thyme

Cut bread slices into quarters; press each square into a buttered miniature baking cup, about one and three-fourths inches in diameter. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven eight to ten minutes until lightly browned. Cool.

Mash braunschweiger; add remaining ingredients, stirring until blended. Spoon about one teaspoon braunschweiger mixture into each tart. Refrigerate until serving time. Garnish with chopped parsley or paprika. Makes 36.

Deviled eggs and liver spread are two items that may be made ahead of time to give the hostess a breather before guests arrive.

WORCESTER DEVILED EGGS
Six hard-cooked eggs
One-third cup dairy sour cream

One-fourth cup minced celery
Two tablespoons minced scallions or green onions

Two teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
One-fourth teaspoon salt

Cut eggs in half lengthwise; remove yolks. Mash yolks with sour cream, celery, scallions, Worcestershire sauce and salt.

Spoon or pipe with a pastry bag and tube into egg whites. Garnish with sliced scallions or sprinkle with paprika, if desired.

CHOCOLATE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

Untrim the tree. It's Twelfth Night — January 6.

Every last vestige of decoration and green must come down to insure good luck in the New Year if you follow the medieval custom.

On this twelfth night after Christmas, often called the Festival of the Three Kings, the last of the fun-making was heightened with supper and Twelfth Night cake, which had a dried bean and a pea baked into it.

The man whose cake slice had the bean was crowned King of festivities. The woman who found the pea was his Queen. If the bean was discovered by a woman, she selected her sovereign. This custom probably goes back to ancient Greece when beans were used as ballots.

By selecting some elements of European tradition, you can adapt them well to a modern family party. Call in neighbors, too, especially youngsters. They'll enjoy the games, untrimming the tree and packing away ornaments.

Historically, the King or Queen presides over the entire party, so have refreshments first as you select the "reigning monarch," by a voting system or by drawing tabs from a hat.

Let the simple supper be a favorite hearty casserole or zesty chili and bean casserole with crusty corn bread. Later, bring on the dessert. Chocolate Upside-Down Cake will be your updated version of the Twelfth Night cake.

This moist, light-textured cake made with sweet cooking chocolate is topped, when turned out of the pan, with a coconut-pecan topping. It's even richer when garnished with dollops of prepared whipped topping at serving time. A traditional wassil bowl can be a hot fruit punch with or without spirit. Everybody will reign at these last-of-the-season parties.

CHOCOLATE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

One-fourth cup butter or margarine
One-half cup firmly packed brown sugar
Thirty-six (two-thirds cup) pecan halves
Two-thirds cup flaked coconut
Two tablespoons milk
One package (four-ounces) sweet cooking chocolate
One and one-half cups sifted cake flour
One cup granulated sugar
One-half teaspoon baking soda

One-half teaspoon double-acting baking powder
One-half teaspoon salt
One-third cup butter or margarine
Three-fourths cup buttermilk
One teaspoon vanilla
Two eggs

Melt one-fourth cup butter in a nine-inch square pan; blend in brown sugar. Arrange pecan halves in a decorative pattern on the sugar mixture. Then sprinkle with coconut and milk; set aside. Melt chocolate over low heat; cool.

Sift flour with granulated sugar, soda, baking powder and salt.

Stir one-third cup butter to soften. Add flour mixture, one-fourth cup plus two tablespoons of the buttermilk and the vanilla. Mix until all flour is moistened; then beat two minutes at medium speed of electric mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand, scraping bowl occasionally.

Add melted chocolate, eggs and remaining buttermilk. Beat one minute longer with electric mixer or 150 strokes by hand. Pour over topping in pan.

Bake at 350 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes, or until cake springs back when lightly pressed. Cool cake in pan five minutes; then invert on serving plate. Serve warm or cooled, topped with prepared whipped topping, if desired.

Note: In place of three-fourth cup buttermilk, you may combine three-fourths cup whole milk with two teaspoons vinegar and let stand five minutes.

HEALTHY NEW YEAR
EVERYBODY!

Okay, so it is sort of a corny take-off on Happy New Year. But the fact of the matter is if you are not healthy it is very hard to be happy. And with that thought in mind let's all make just one important, easy to keep New Year's resolution.

That is — Resolve to get an early physical check-up from your physician and then to see him at the first sign of illness without waiting until it gets serious. Further resolve to follow his advice faithfully and to promptly get the medicine he prescribes for you from the pharmacy at your choice.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Layoff Hurts Red Wings

Vancouver Downs Sluggish Detroit, 3-2

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Coach Alex Delvecchio blames an eight day layoff for the Red Wings' failure to take advantage of early scoring opportunities against the Vancouver Canucks Sunday night.

"Eight days without a game certainly didn't help," Delvecchio said following the Canucks 3-2 victory over the Wings. "That's what did it to us."

"Going that long without playing a game kills you. I was scared something like this was going to happen."

The Red Wings had been scheduled to take on the New York Islanders last Friday but postponed the game because of a snow storm in Detroit.

Delvecchio wasn't the only one upset about the missed game, however. Islanders General Manager Bill Torrey is seething.

"It's questionable the game should have been postponed," Torrey said Sunday. "We were in Detroit and ready to play. I can assure you I'm going to be hard-nosed as hell when it comes to settling a make-up date."

"I'd just as soon take the two points (for a victory) and not play the game. It would save us a lot of time and money."

"We didn't play too bad a first period," Delvecchio said about Sunday's game with Vancouver. "We had two lapses to give them easy goals in the second."

Garry Monahan snapped a scoreless tie with a second-period goal and ignited the Canucks three-goal spurt.

The victory increased Vancouver's second-place margin over St. Louis to three points in the NHL Smythe Division and moved the Canucks to within nine points of first-place Chicago.

The loss was the third in a row for the Red Wings.

Don Lever and Bobby LaLonde also scored in the middle period to give Vancouver what seemed to be a safe 3-0 lead.

But Nick Libett scored a power play goal at 5:35 of the third to give Detroit a surge.

Then Dan Maloney beat Vancouver goalie Gary Smith with a blistering shot just inside the blue line at 9:15 as his mates were killing off a penalty to stir the 10,117 fans who were hoping for a comeback.

Two Red Wing penalties to Mike Korney and Bryan Watson in the last seven minutes eased the pressure and enabled Vancouver to withstand Detroit's desperation thrust in the final few seconds for a deadlock.

The game was enlivened by a fight between Gregg Boddy of Vancouver and Detroit rookie Dennis Polonich at the close of the second period. Boddy suffered a broken nose and was taken to a Detroit hospital for repairs.

BLOCKING ACTION: Detroit Red Wings' center Walt McKechnie (11) blocks Vancouver Canucks' Bobby LaLonde (20) during Sunday night's NHL action in

Dickey Worrying About Injuries

Florida Favored By One TD

By F.T. MACFEELY / Associated Press Writer
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — While they await the 9:10 p.m. EST kickoff in tonight's 31st annual Gator Bowl football game, Coaches Doug Dickey of 13th-ranked Florida and Jerry Claiborne of 17th-rated Maryland have a couple of things to occupy their minds.

Dickey worries whether two defensive regulars, tackle Darrell Carpenter and end Joe Allen, will recover from ankle sprains in time.

Carpenter stepped in a hole on an unfamiliar practice field

Friday a short time after Allen tripped on a motel staircase. The two players have had their bad ankles packed in ice to reduce swelling, and doctors said only time will tell if they can play.

Claiborne's concern is more pleasant. He is making up his mind whether to start Larry Dick or Mark Mangas at quarterback.

Dick is better at passing and Mangas better at running from Maryland's I formation. They have shared the job through an 8-2-1 season.

Florida is a one-touchdown favorite. The Gators finished in a tie for second in the tough Southeastern Conference and wound up with a 9-2 record after losing two close games. Maryland won the Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

"I don't think there's any question Doug's team should be favored," Claiborne said. "Florida is ranked higher than we are, they have a better record and, I think Doug would agree, more quality players."

The Maryland coach termed his Terrapins a no-name team that won't have many players drafted by the pros although seven were named to the All-ACC team. Five are on the defensive unit, not surprising since Maryland ranked 12th nationally on defense.

Florida, running from a wishbone offense led by quarterback Don Gaffney and fullback Jimmy DuBose, was 12th in the nation on rushing offense. DuBose gained 1,307 yards, only five off the SEC record, and averaged 6.8 a carry.

Dickey tried to escape the role as favorite.

"I look at it as an even game," the Florida coach said. "Most bowl games are. You look at what Maryland's done and what we've done and it's about the same."

The teams met two common foes this season. Against Kentucky, Florida won 48-7 while Maryland had a 10-10 tie. However, against North Carolina State, Florida lost 8-7 and Maryland won 37-22.

The last time Maryland and Florida met was in the 1974 regular season. Florida scored a 17-10 upset.

The Gator Bowl game will be televised nationwide by ABC, but there may be a few empty seats in the stadium. A crowd of 65,000 is predicted, about one thousand short of normal capacity and well below the record 72,248 crammed in when Florida edged Tennessee 14-13 in 1969.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

No Big Honor For Boss

Dear Ann: I thought your column was to read, not to write to, but now I've got a doozie!

I named our baby after my boss. I've been working for him for 12 years and think the world of the man. But honestly, Ann, there was never anything but friendship and respect between us.

My problem is two-fold: (1) People around the office kid him about the baby. Typical: "Well, how is your new son today?" (2) I've been told that his wife doesn't appreciate my naming the baby after him. (He is 30 and she is 51.)

I'd hate to give up my job over this but I can't continue working here if I don't find a solution. Can you help? — Rae

Dear R.: To quit would look like an admission of guilt. Stay put.

It's too late to change the baby's name, so laugh it off. Before long the jokes will wind down and things will be back to normal again.

Fatal Drink

Dear Ann Landers: You've probably told your readers a thousand times, but once more won't hurt. Please tell them again: "If you drink, don't drive. If you drive, don't drink."

A young man of 34 was killed two days ago. He was a wonderful guy, but on occasion he drank a little too much. He apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car, rammed into a light post and was killed instantly. His passenger was critically injured.

This man had seven children — the youngest, three years old. His wife was so despondent she tried to commit suicide. She is in the hospital now, hovering between life and death.

I overheard one of the deceased's friends say, "I was with him that night. In fact, I was going to drive him home but he insisted he could manage O.K. I didn't want him to get mad at me."

How that man wishes he had risked his friend's wrath and taken his car keys away. Had he done so, seven children would not be mourning the death of their father — and maybe their mother as well. — Sad In Illinois

Dear Sad: Yes, I have said it time and time again, but it's worth repeating, especially since tomorrow night is New Year's Eve. "If you drink, don't drive. If you drive, don't drink." A bonzed-up driver behind the wheel of a car is a potential suicide and/or a murderer.

Dr. Lester Coleman

How do stones form in the gall bladder? When the gall bladder is taken out what replaces it?

Mr. N.N., Wash.

Dear Mr. N.:

The gall bladder is a small, pear-shaped sac that lies on the underside of the liver.

The liver is a large organ that occupies the area below the diaphragm, in the upper right hand side of the abdomen.

The liver is the chemical warehouse of the body. It produces about one pint of bile each day.

The gall bladder stores some of this bile and sends it into the intestines through a tiny tube. When food, especially fatty food, is eaten, the flow of bile into the intestines increases.

Bile plays an important role in the process of digestion. Bile consists of a mixture of pigments and chemicals. Sometimes this mixture combines with calcium to form gall bladder stones.

The stones may then interfere with the flow of bile from the gall bladder into the intestines.

Chronic infection of the gall bladder, or large interfering stones in the gall bladder, may require its removal.

When the surgery is performed, the bile that continues to be manufactured by the liver flows directly into the small intestine.

Thus, the important function of digestion continues.

I get an attack of hives about every two months. No one has been able to track down the cause. Can you make any helpful suggestions?

Miss D.F., S.C.

Dear Miss F.:

I can sympathize with you because I know the difficulty in tracking down the source of your food.

Food, food additives and their coloring agents, drugs, antibiotics, inhalants, cosmetics, singly or in combination, may be the cause of hives.

Exposure to cold, to heat, to sun may also produce these itchy, blotchy round welts of the skin.

In addition, it has been well established that emotional stress and tensions may be responsible.

When any of dozens of factors may be involved it is clearly understandable why the offender may be so difficult to pinpoint.

Close cooperation with your doctor, especially an allergist, can start an elimination technique whereby suspected causes may be eliminated, one by one.

A detailed record must be kept of all foods, beverages, drugs and cosmetics used or taken before the onset of the hives. This may lead to the culprit responsible for your recurring hives.

Do-It-Yourself Security Can Make Home Safe

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

It is possible to live alone without fear, women are advised by long-time expert on burglaries Robert J. McDermott of New York.

A few precautions and do-it-yourself security even can make your home a safe place.

More women are living alone and many are too trusting. One woman viewed a rapist through the peephole. He had a package that she hadn't ordered but she opened the door anyway, his feelings because he was poorly dressed, she said.

It is all the more puzzling because such crimes — "the fellow who wants his victim to be home" — are common occurrences, he says.

"Burglar or rapist, the name of the game is: keep him out," McDermott advises.

Precautions should include: Don't list a feminine first name in the telephone book or mail box — use an initial, have a telephone at bedside, a key-controlled lock (or do-it-yourself nail lock) on your bedroom window, and a pick-resistant lock, peephole and chain on your door. He and others have often decided that although it may not protect property, "it can protect physical well-being."

A stranger can be asked to leave the package at the door and to pass the paper needing a signature through the chained door gap.

The majority of burglaries are committed by burglars coming through doors in apartments and through windows and glass doors in houses, he claims.

"In houses they choose a floor-level window instead of the small basement window, which most people keep locked — they don't want to encounter another lock when they creep up to the basement door."

"A burglar must have an easy way out. He chooses a window — unlocked probably — on the opposite side of a driveway or where shrubbery provides cover. Or he may choose a back door."

McDermott, 48, learned every trick and ruse used by criminals in his two decades as a detective with the New York police department — he retired four years ago — where he "established methods of entry to investigate sophisticated burglaries — where means of entry were not readily apparent."

He is security consultant to Enlhart, maker of locks and vice president of Holmes Protection, running their guard services that investigate the effectiveness of international security.

Although a ferry-gate (iron grille) is the best form of window protection, he explained, it is usually aesthetically unacceptable.

"But a good way to prevent a window being forced open is this: Drill a hole in the upper corner of the lower sash and half-way into the lower corner of the upper sash. Insert a ten-penny nail into it. Drill a second hole in upper sash about four inches above the first so the window can be opened for ventilation. The hole should be slightly larger so the nail will stay when pushed in, but can be removed easily."

If a key-controlled window lock is used, leave the key in it for fire escape. For back doors, French doors and some other doors he likes a drop-bolt lock that can be opened only with a key from the inside. These are a waste of a burglar's time — after he breaks a door glass, he can't turn the bolt, he says.

On sliding glass doors, a charley-bar controlled device will allow ventilation, but if you don't want to spend the money, close the door, cut a broom handle to size and drop the handle into the track to obstruct the door movement.

A door needs only one pick-resistant lock, which is available, he insists. These have interlocking series of tumblers in one unit of the cylinder instead of two, require a special key and cannot be picked, in his opinion.

Some people use as many as five locks, locking three on the "ludicrous assumption" that a burglar will lock himself out picking the two unlocked ones "but a good lock picker knows when he has thrown a bolt."

Strangely, McDermott has observed the multi-locks on doors of those engaged in criminal activity, and he has picked them.

"Lock picking has become garden variety burglary. A door that locks when it is slammed can be picked in seconds with a celluloid strip or bank calendar, the most common forms of surreptitious entry. A good lock that requires a key can keep a burglar busy while you call the police."

McDermott has won prizes picking "unpickable locks" — he has been stymied by one — and as a detective on homicide burglaries he often had to determine "how the guy got in — did he admit him?" He knew that "if the man picked his way we were dealing with a different breed of cat."

"Some people believe burglary is a sexual crime with Freudian elements," he observes, and from the things he has noticed, "if a lock picker comes upon a woman alone, he is likely to rape."

What to do if you wake up and the burglar is in your bedroom? Feign sleep, he says. He may take valuables and leave. If he is in another room, lock the bedroom door. If you can, telephone the police and then scream. This should scare him off unless the bedroom lies between him and his exit. Then if he can conveniently reach the room, he may try to silence the screamer.

Now let's see what happens in the extraordinary very good bridge game.

West cashes one heart and stops to think. It is obvious that South started with just one heart. It is also obvious that his trumps will be solid so West shifts to a trump. South still uses that ace of clubs to get to dummy to lead a second heart and runs off all his club and diamond winners but the squeeze fails to operate. East hangs on to his jack of hearts and West to his king-jack of spades.

Ask the Jacobys

A reader from Pompano Beach wants to know how we play the three-spade overcall of an opening bid of one in a lower suit.

We play it just the same as an opening three-spade bid. Not much in high cards, but seven tricks if vulnerable and six if not vulnerable. Thus, we would overcall three spades with seven to the king-queen-jack, if not vulnerable. However, you don't have to play it that weak if you don't want to.

Judge Refuses To Bar Layoffs

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — An Ingham County judge has refused to issue an injunction barring the state Department of Mental Health from laying off several hundred employees as a result of state spending cuts.

Ingham County Circuit Court Judge John Warren said Monday he could not order the in-

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

EARLY IN 1776 British Gen. Sir Henry Clinton led an expedition down the Atlantic coast to cooperate with the strong Tory factions in the southern states. The command got off to a late start and, by the time Clinton reached an appointed rendezvous, Tory forces in Virginia and North Carolina had been defeated and dispersed. He then decided to capture Charleston, S.C., for use as a base of operations, but a four-week siege, beginning on June 1, was beaten off by the determined resistance of Col. William Moultrie's small force on Sullivan's Island.

junction as asked by a state employees union in a suit filed last week because the union failed to prove "immediate, irreparable harm" would occur to patients if the layoffs occurred.

The suit was filed by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME). The union contended plans to layoff some 600-800 mental health employees were unconstitutional, because they threatened adequate patient care as guaranteed by the Michigan Constitution.

But Judge Warren said Monday that "courts ought not to be too hasty in declaring invalid the conduct of the governor and the legislature."

"It has to be a very clear case," Warren said, "and the proofs today did not demonstrate irreparable harm."

AFSCME maintained the layoffs will begin Jan. 3-4 throughout state mental health institutions, but department director Dr. Donald Smith said he did not yet know where the layoffs will occur.

State budget director Gerald Miller said he expects only about 500 employees would be laid off.

The department was told to cut $7 million from its spending under Gov. William Milliken's order to trim state spending.

Hearings on the case are set to resume in late spring, but Warren said they could begin as early as February because of the urgency of the suit.

Protests Greet Ombudsman Entry Into Flint Probe

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Flint's new ombudsman has entered the investigation of a shooting in which two Flint police officers, one of them a woman, were wounded at the Flint police garage Saturday.

Police Chief Herbert A. Adams and Teamsters Local 214, which represents Flint police officers, both expressed opposition to the move by ombudsman Joseph E. Dupeza.

Dupeza obtained an order Monday from District Court Judge Dale Riker directing that all records in the case be turned over to him.

The intervention of the new ombudsman, who took office a month ago, added another to the string of city and county investigations of the shooting, which was touched off when the two officers argued over which was to drive their patrol car.

Policewoman Madeline C. Fletcher, 21, remained hospitalized with a bullet wound to the chest. Genesee County Prosecutor Robert Leonard said the female officer, who had been placed under arrest at one stage of the investigation, was no longer under arrest. She was still confined to her hospital bed.

Also hospitalized was patrolman Walter Kalberer, 34, an eight-year veteran of the force. Kalberer was recovering from a bullet wound in the thigh.

Flint police Capt. William Barniser repeated his contention Monday that, "As far as we can determine, this was not a racial confrontation or a sexual one."

Miss Fletcher, who recently completed her probationary year on the force, is black. Patrolman Kalberer is white.

Dupeza, who took office last month when a new city charter went into effect, has the responsibility of representing citizens in any disputes they might have with city government. Dupeza said he entered the case after a complaint was filed with his office. But he refused to say who or what group had filed it.

Chief Adams said he did not want to relinquish department records to the ombudsman but at the same time did not want to face possible contempt of court charges by refusing to do so.

The Teamsters local protested the handing over of the records in the case, contending that under its contract with the city, all reports involving police officers are for departmental use only.

Hurley Hospital attendants declined to release any new reports on the medical condition of the two wounded officers. The last report Saturday night said both were stable.

Preliminary police reports indicated Miss Fletcher fired the first shot and that she was shot in return either by Kalberer or one of several other officers in the garage area during the shift switchover.

Lenawee May Not Get Whalen Back

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP) — Lenawee County officials say they are taking a "wait-and-see" attitude about whether convicted burglar John Whalen should be returned to the county to serve a jail term.

Whalen has been in the custody of U.S. marshals since Christmas Eve.

"As long as they've got him, we're not concerned," said Lenawee Circuit Court Judge Rex Martin on Monday.

Sheriff Richard Gormond and Martin said there is no guarantee of when or even if Whalen will be returned to the county.

Eastern Michigan U.S. Marshal Anthony Rozman said on Monday that Whalen remains in the protective custody of the marshals. Rozman said he understands from "hearsay" from his agents that Whalen's physical condition is improving.

Whalen, a government informer, was hospitalized Dec. 19 in Macomb County for treatment of gunshot wounds and burns. He said he had been abducted and tortured.

Whalen was the prosecution's key witness against John Swainson, state Supreme Court justice and a former Michigan governor, last fall in a bribery conspiracy-perjury case. He is wanted under a court order to serve time for the 1969 burglary of an Adrian jewelry store.

"To my knowledge, Whalen won't be turned over" to Lenawee County authorities, Rozman said. He indicated an agreement had been reached between state and federal officials that Whalen would serve his jail term in a federal rather than a state institution.

Rozman said Whalen would enter a federal institution "in the near future." He added that Whalen's prison whereabouts may not be disclosed either before or after he enters a facility. This could be a precaution to protect the government informer while he serves his term.

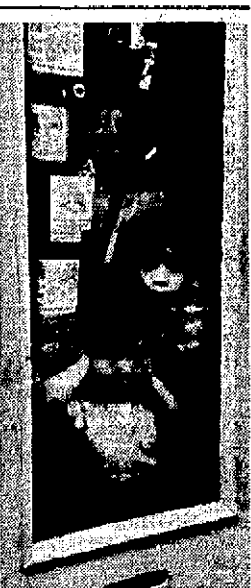

Robert Ozer, U.S. Organized Crime Strike Force chief, refused to talk to reporters about Whalen. FBI agents in Detroit said they had no comment on the case.

The Lenawee County sheriff said he filed a detainer with the U.S. Marshal's office Dec. 19, the day Whalen was shot. That same day Martin revoked Whalen's $50,000 bond and issued a bench warrant for him.

Lottery Rich Get Richer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mary Glonek, who won $10,000 in the state's instant lottery in October, will win at least that much all over again shortly.

Mrs. Glonek, of Hamtramck, was one of six "lottery losers" who won spots Friday on the Lottery Super Play television show, where prizes range from $10,000 to $200,000.

Another 800 people won $500, $200, $100 and $50 cash prizes or lifetime lottery subscriptions valued at $24.

The winners were drawn from hundreds of thousands of losing tickets from the Dec. 18 weekly drawing.

A second losers drawing will be held Jan. 7, from losing tickets submitted from the Dec. 26 drawing.

Losers should send two tickets, with their name, address and phone number, to Lucky Losers, P. O. Box 4040, Lansing 48904. Losing tickets from the Dec. 18 drawing may also be submitted, lottery officials said.

New Faces Highlight State Class D Basketball Race

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
There will be plenty of new company rubbing elbows with the elite of Michigan High School Class D basketball this winter.

Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart, minus graduated All-Stater Dave Simons, is back and certainly in the mood to add another state championship crown to the one it won last March.

But a galaxy of new Class D entries, plus some traditional powers, appear bent on cutting the reign of the Irish off at one year.

One of the newcomers dropping from Class C to D in enrollment and a challenger will be Saginaw St. Stephen, long-time all-sports power guided by veteran coach Sam Franz, who is in his 28th year.

Franz, although not going out on a limb in predicting a state title, points out that "we probably have the toughest schedule of any Class D school in the state." St. Stephen plays a flock of Class A and B schools plus has a matchup with Sacred Heart.

While St. Stephen, led by Anthony Stevenson, won its first four games, Sacred Heart has been plagued by inexperience and was only 3-3 in the early going.

An experienced Homer quintet and junior-laden Marcellus are two more "C" schools that have dipped in enrollment and have definite title ideas in Class D. Homer was 5-1 record and Marcellus, which starts all underclassmen, 4-0 heading into the Christmas break.

Familiar names loaded with talent include Covert, Ann Arbor St. Thomas, Crystal Falls, Harbor Springs and Detroit DePorres.

TALK WITH COACH: Leroy Selmon (center), defensive tackle, and brother Dewey (right), middle guard, talk with head coach Barry Switzer of Oklahoma during picture day in Miami, Fla. The Sooners will play the University of Michigan in the 42nd annual Orange Bowl Classic on New Year's Night. (AP Wirephoto)

Even though the myth of Detroit invincibility was shattered Covert, winner of three state titles in the past 11 years, was off to a 6-1 start behind freshman sharpshooter James DeBoe.

St. Thomas, meanwhile returns three starters from last year's 17-3 regular season team, including 6-foot-3 Mark Richard and John Wright, and was 7-0 this season in a bid to stage a rerun of its state title performance of two years ago.

Crystal Falls, 5-1, is ranked No. 1 in the Upper Peninsula media poll and would like to win back-to-back state titles.

Brian LaChapelle, an All-Stater on the championship football squad, knows his way around the hardwood, too.

Hoosiers Seek Hearings In Berrien District Court

Two Indiana men charged with carrying a concealed pistol demanded examinations yesterday in Berrien Fifth District court.

Also yesterday two people were bound over to Circuit court. 15 were sentenced, one pleaded innocent and a charge against another was dismissed.

Demanding examinations on the weapons charges were Del A. Turner, 21, and Lel R. Newlin, 19, both of Michigan City. They were jailed under $5,000 bonds. New Buffalo city police reported Turner and Newlin were arrested early Monday when a car was stopped on US-12.

Bound over to Circuit court were:

David E. Hawks, 25, of 1989 John Beers road, Stevensville, charged with obtaining over $100 using false pretenses Sept. 17 in Lincoln township. He continued free on $2,000 bond. He waived examination.

Josephus W. Williams, 31, of Youngstown, Ohio, charged with receiving and concealing stolen property valued over $100 — a 1975 Cadillac — Dec. 16 in Benton township. He was returned to the county jail in lieu of posting bond of $20,000. Vincent A. Thomas, 25, also of Youngstown, who was originally charged with the same offense, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge involving property under $100 and was sentenced to 13 days in jail.

A charge of second degree criminal sexual conduct, indecent liberties, was dismissed against John L. Ward, 30, of 1307 Agard avenue, Benton township. The charge was dismissed because the mother of the alleged victim, a 7-year-old girl, said that she and the girl were mistaken about the identity of the suspect, said Asst. Prosecutor Patrick Murphy.

Pleading innocent to a charge of entering a Benton township home without breaking Dec. 29 was Larry M. Yerrington, 32, of 4009 Atherton, Coloma. He was jailed in lieu of $750 bond.

Sentenced were:

Gary Norton, 19, of 777 Ogden, Benton Harbor, fine and costs of $75, or 14 days in jail, for attempting to elude police in Benton township Dec. 28.

Richard L. Nelles, 53, of 669 East High, Benton Harbor, 120 days in jail for aggravated assault against William Alexander Dec. 20 in Benton Harbor.

James L. Cartwright, 24, of Haggar Shore road, Coloma township, three days in jail and $75, or 30 days in jail total, for driving while license revoked; and $150 and six months probation for driving while intoxicated. Both offenses happened in Benton township Dec. 23.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Assault and battery — Wanda Sue Lively, 17, of 1442 East Napier, Benton township, $100 and one year probation, against Benton township Sgt. David Parsons; Moses J. Moore, 17, of 638 Clay, Benton Harbor, 90 days in jail, against Benton Harbor Patrolman William Kronbitter.

Petty larceny — Sarah A. Brown, 26, of US-33, Berrien Springs, $121 or 24 days in jail; Victor A. Jackson, 18, of 108 Cherry, Three Oaks, $120.

Impaired driving — George L. Kirby, 54, of 3075 St. Joseph River drive, Sodus township, and Russell B. Weld, 29, of 1324 Pipestone road, Benton township, each $101.

Driving while license suspended — Dorman L. Johnson, 29, of Racine, Wis., three days in jail and $75; Rona Burke, 27, of Detroit, three days in jail and $100 or 15 days in jail total; Albert Clark, 40, of Detroit, three days in jail and $90.

Use of marijuana — Charles E. Adams, 19, of 511 Rose Hill, Berrien Springs, and George P. Mueller, 17, of Blue Island, Ill., each $90 or 10 days in jail.

Suspect's Hearing Is Friday

ALLEGAN — A preliminary examination for a South Haven man charged with the Dec. 23 slaying of a Michigan State university coed from South Haven has been postponed until Friday in 57th District court here.

The preliminary examination for Roger Dale Sparks, 19, 717 Lee street, South Haven had been scheduled for today. It was postponed to allow attorneys additional time to prepare their case.

Sparks is accused of the knife slaying of Miss Deborah Knapp, 19. Her body was found along a Saugatuck township road the morning after she had disappeared while grocery shopping in South Haven.

STILL NO BUYER: U.S. government has spent more than two fruitless years trying to find a buyer for passenger ship United States, despite what an original builder calls a "fire sale" price. The ship is shown outbound from New York on her 1952 maiden voyage. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Queen Of The Seas Still In Need Of A Buyer

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite what one of her original builders calls a "fire sale" price tag, the government has spent more than two fruitless years trying to find a buyer for the SS United States.

Embodiment of the heritage of Yankee clipper ships, the swift North Atlantic passenger ship ever built is moored free of charge at a state-owned pier in Norfolk, Va., still the victim of the same economic factors on which she foundered six years ago.

The ship represents taxpayers' investment of more than $175.4 million. But even at the current price tag of $7.5 million — a 38 per cent markdown in two years — the government cannot find any takers.

The latest in a series of auctions was canceled by the Maritime Administration earlier this month because no one submitted any bids.

Since buying the liner in February 1973, from United States Line, Inc., the Maritime Administration has received proposals to convert the liner into a residence for senior citizens, a floating college and a "follow the sun" condominium for people willing to spend up to $2.5 million for an individual suite.

All the proposals were rejected, either because the offers weren't backed up with enough cash, or because they didn't measure up to the congressional condition that the ship sail under the U.S. flag.

The closest the liner ever came to changing hands was the condominium proposal by W. W. Ventures of Charlottesville, Va., in February. The promoters were to offer 704 investors a chance to buy a cabin for prices starting at $650,000 for a one-room berth.

After remodeling, the proposal called for the ship to cruise the Caribbean, the Mediterranean and other sun spots of the world.

But the promoters delayed coming up with their $13 million offering price, and the deal was canceled.

Industry and government officials say the factors blocking sale of the ship are the ship's unique design and the costs of refurbishing and operating it.

"The situation needs someone with just a lot of money and a great love for the vessel to make it go," said Nicholas Bachko, the U.S. Lines senior vice president who supervised construction of the liner. "And such a person hasn't come forward."

Government officials say privately they are pessimistic that such a person will ever come along.

The United States was built at a cost of $79.5 million, and launched in 1952. The government paid $44.5 million, and U.S. Lines the rest, partly with a government loan.

The ship is capable of carrying 1,962 passengers and operates with a crew of 1,000. Its top speed of 40 knots and its design to knife through the North Atlantic in winter made it the swiftest ship to ply that route. It set the speed record in its maiden voyage, crossing in three days, 10 hours and 40 minutes. The record still stands.

In its early years, the United States was running virtually at capacity and turning a profit for her operator with the help of government subsidies of at least $6 million a year. But 1980 was the last year of profits for United States Lines.

By 1980, the airlines were diverting passengers from the ocean liners, and "in the winter months we only had a few hundred passengers rattling around," said Bachko.

From 1960 to 1970, while the number of people crossing the Atlantic jumped by 190 per cent, from 2.2 million to 4 million, the number traveling by ship fell from 501,000 to 152,000.

Ships accounted for 23 per cent of the transatlantic travelers in 1961, but only 2 per cent in 1970.

Although air travel was cheaper, the Pentagon was ordered to transport servicemen and their families by U.S.-flag passenger liners whenever possible. That policy accounted $74.7 million of the traffic on American liners from 1962 to 1971.

The government granted permission for the ship to forsake the North Atlantic in the winter to cruise the Caribbean. The move kept the ship operating at peak capacity, but the government subsidies and United States Lines' losses continued.

In November 1980, the United States made her last crossing. The 18 years of operating subsidies had cost the government $118.8 million.

Club Praises Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is to be commended for improving White House relations with the press, but his chief spokesman gave a "disastrous nonperformance" on the recent China trip, the National Press Club says.

Was Dinner A 'Fund-Raiser?'

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — President Ford, heading home after an eight-day skiing holiday, may find his campaign committee embroiled in controversy because of a departure-even party in his honor.

The key question is whether the Monday night party was planned as a social gathering by Ford fund-raiser Sheila Gramshammer or to funnel money into Ford's presidential campaign. Ford, who planned to fly back to Washington today, said he didn't know if Mrs. Gramshammer was raising money for him.

Ford spokesman Ron Nessen said Ford's campaign committee and aides had tried to keep the dinner out of the fund-raising category.

Nessen told reporters the event originally was planned as a $1,000 a couple fund-raiser. But he said that would have meant the President Ford Committee would have had to reimburse the Air Force for a portion of Ford's flight to Colorado because part of the trip, paid for by the taxpayers, would then be classified as political.

A Ford aide who declined to be identified said Mrs. Gramshammer was cautioned by the Ford committee to mail cards seeking money from Vail residents only after the party. This source said she apparently misunderstood, sending the cards at the same time as the invitations.

Nessen acknowledged Mrs. Gramshammer had mailed about 100 pledge cards before the dinner. He said cards and invitations were not in the same envelopes but might have been sent in the same mail.

He said Mrs. Gramshammer, a former Las Vegas showgirl, proposed a year ago that she plan a campaign fund-raiser for Ford's visit and that there was a series of communications between the White House, the campaign committee and Mrs. Gramshammer before the party was set. He said Ford agreed to attend if it were not labeled a fund-raiser.

Ford skied during the day with Mrs. Gramshammer. When he was asked by reporters if she was raising money for his campaign, Ford replied, "I don't know anything about it. I've got a lot of friends here."

Mrs. Gramshammer said mailing the pledge cards had nothing to do with the party. Asked about reports from residents that they were being asked to contribute to attend the party, she said, "People can give what they want. There is no force. They can give $10 or whatever. I don't know what they've given."

But some Vail winter residents reported they had been solicited to give $1,000 a couple for the dinner and said they felt pressured.

Sources said the party, held in a club owned by Mrs. Gramshammer, included contributors as guests, but Nessen said in advance, "Some of the people who are coming are not contributors and some who are contributors are not coming."

As of Dec. 23, Nessen said, 11 persons had pledged $10,000 as a result of Mrs. Gramshammer's efforts. He referred reporters to the Ford committee for later information. But in Washington, a committee aide said only a skeleton staff was on duty during the holiday and that "our finance people don't know anything about it."

Ford campaign manager Howard Callaway said, "I don't think it's a fund-raiser in the sense that you can only come if you donate so much money... I really don't know much about this party."

Hospital Officers Get New Terms At Watervliet

By LARRY MACINTYRE
Staff Writer

WATERVLIET — Watervliet Community hospital's board of trustees last night re-elected its four officers to second one-year terms. Officers re-elected were Richard Lindenberg of Sister Lakes, president; Mrs. Maxine Brule of Watervliet, vice president; Mrs. Mary Tatter of Watervliet, secretary; and Edward C. Balers of rural Watervliet, treasurer.

The officers were re-elected at the board's monthly meeting which followed its annual meeting. Lindenberg was first elected president one year ago.

During the board's annual meeting, four trustees were re-elected to three year terms on the 12-member board. They were Robert Strasburg of Benton Harbor; Claude Unrath of Hartford; James DeLapa of Coloma; and Harry Cherry of Hartford.

Also during the annual meeting, the board got its first glimpse of the financial statement prepared for the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30.

The report noted that operating expenses for the hospital in fiscal year 1975 totaled $1,889,993, which was a 10.3 per cent increase over 1974's operating expenses of $1,621,906.

Revenue for fiscal year 1975 also showed a percentage increase, but not quite as much. The hospital took in $1,953,724 in 1975, a 14.7 per cent increase over 1974's revenue of $1,703,088.

That left the hospital with a net income in 1975 of $66,731, according to James Vandenberg, the certified public accountant who presented the report to the board.

Vandenberg, of the Lansing firm of Danielson, Schultz and Company, said the hospital overall was in a "sound financial situation."

He warned, however, that revenue during 1976 will be reduced because of ceilings placed on the payment of hospital bills by Blue Cross-Blue Shield, and federal Medicare and Medicaid programs.

About 75 per cent of the hospital's revenue comes from these sources, according to Howard Parker, hospital administrator.

Vandenberg said reserves in the Michigan Blue Cross fund and the Medicaid fund were being depleted, and consequently, the hospital could expect a slowdown in payments through 1976.

In another area, Parker said after the meeting that the board hopes to undertake an early construction date on its planned replacement facility which could result in a savings of $400,000.

Parker said if construction could begin on the facility by July 1, 1976, the total construction cost could be reduced from $5.2 million to $4.8 million. The construction cost of $5.2 million is based on a starting date of April, 1977, he said.

The $400,000 savings would be realized through the purchase of materials and labor at 1976 prices rather than 1977 prices, he said.

No decision on the starting date can be made until the hospital's fund-drive goal of $750,000 is reached and a low-interest federal loan is secured, Parker said.

Rezoning Needed For Hospital Site

WATERVLIET — A Watervliet city commissioner last night told the commission that property proposed as the site for a new community hospital is not zoned properly for the development.

Commissioner Thomas Murphy said the property, a 23-acre tract of land adjacent to the Watervliet high school, is zoned rural-residential which permits only residential homes, churches, parks and playgrounds to be built on the property.

Murphy said, "the hospital board, either doesn't realize there's a zoning problem or they don't want to face it."

Murphy recommended the city zoning board, whose members attended last night's meeting, contact the hospital board and notify them the property must be rezoned, or the hospital can't be built on the site.

Murphy further suggested the zoning board strongly consider obtaining a letter from the hospital board saying it would not oppose light industrial developments around its location or further development of the area which conforms to present zoning surrounding the property.

The Community hospital board is presently in the process of purchasing the property for constructing a $5.2 million, 70-bed hospital facility.

Under the city's zoning ordinance, only a multiple dwelling district would allow for construction of a non-profit hospital according to Murphy.

Murphy added the zoning surrounding the proposed hospital site could be developed in many ways, including light industrial. The eastern edge of the property abuts a Watervliet township farm.

William McLain, chairman of the city's zoning board, said he would contact hospital officials regarding the need to have the property rezoned.

In other areas, the commission accepted the bid of Art Overhuel Motor Sales, South Haven, for a 1976 Dodge pickup car, for $4,196.

Commissioner William Loshbough, chairman of the police committee, said the cost is

Rash Of Crashes Blamed On Icy Twin City Roads

A total of 40 traffic accidents were attributed by police to snow, slush and ice covered roads in the Twin Cities area during a 10-hour period Monday. Five of the accidents resulted in apparently minor injuries to 17 people and hospitalized one man. One of the accidents involved five cars in Benton township. Another, St. Joseph police said, resulted when two drivers, surveying damage to their cars in a non-injury mishap, were pinned between their cars when a third car hit the rear of one of the cars.

Reported in "fair" condition today at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, was Robert A. Bain, 1212 Mohawk lane, St. Joseph. He was identified by Benton township police as the driver of one of the cars in the five-car accident. A passenger in one of the cars, Kim Kiessling, 17, of 1646 Pipestone road, Benton township, was treated and released from Mercy. She was in a car driven by Robert D. Owen, 19, route 2, Box 408, Blastock road, Bainbridge township, who was uninjured. Police said Owen was ticketed for speed too fast for conditions.

Police reported the accident occurred on Napier avenue at the intersection of Union street, Fairplain, about 6:45 p.m. None of the other three drivers involved in the accident was injured, police said.

Two drivers standing between their cars were reported treated and released from St. Joseph's Memorial hospital after they were pinned between the cars when a third car hit the rear of one of the cars. Injured were Matthew Alfred Shulke, 17, of 1310 Wokotik avenue, St. Joseph, and Vernon Robert Ullig, 22, of 4436 Terra lane, Royalton township, St. Joseph police said.

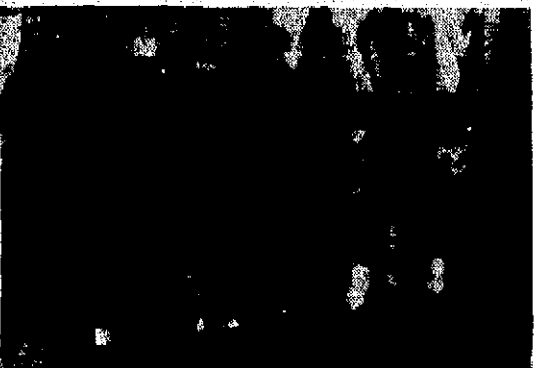

Driver of the third car was identified as Howard M. Hutchinson, 61, of 2523 Thayer drive, St. Joseph. He was uninjured and police said he was ticketed for failure to stop in an assured, clear distance. The accident occurred on Main street south of Park street about 7 p.m.

Another accident, involving two cars, investigated by Benton township police resulted in injuries to seven members of a Covert family and the driver of the second car. All were treated and released from Memorial hospital. Police said the accident occurred at 3:30 p.m. on US-33 south of Monte road.

The injured were identified as Sharon A. Snyder, 33, and her six children, Gene, 11, Jeff, 9, Trina, 8, Lance, 6, Missy, 4, and Derrick, 3, all of route 2, Box 211, Covert. The injured driver of the other car was identified as Judy A. Holman, 27, no address reported. No tickets were issued, police indicated.

In another accident on US-33, north of Coloma road, Hagar township, Berrien sheriff's deputies said two people were hurt shortly before 5 p.m.

Deputies said a car driven by Bonnie Jean Everett, 48, route 2, Box 214, US-33, Hagar township, slid on an icy spot and went into a ditch off the road. She and her passenger, Donna Blaylock, 22, of 817 Pearl street, St. Joseph, were treated and released from Memorial hospital. No citations were issued.

Two St. Joseph township police officers escaped injury Monday when a gun, that a woman allegedly aimed at them and pulled the trigger three times, turned out to be empty.

Officers Gregory Duerr and Kevin Kramp said they were attempting to talk a woman into giving up the .22 caliber revolver when she allegedly tried to fire at them about 6 p.m. at her home.

The officers identified the woman as Betty L. Seymour, 47, of 709 Grant avenue. Officers reported filing no charges, but Mrs. Seymour was admitted to Riverwood Community Mental Health clinic, St. Joseph, after being treated for a cut to her hand. The cut was sustained apparently from a glass storm door, officers indicated.

According to police, the woman's husband, Walter, who was at home during the incident, was uninjured. Seven suspected bullet holes were found by police in the kitchen and garage of the home.

Duerr and Kramp reported they were in the driveway of the home and the woman was standing in the garage service door when the gun was allegedly pointed at them. They said they were able to subdue the woman in the kitchen. She was not holding the pistol at that time, officers indicated.

Police said they were called to Grant avenue by a report of gunshots.

GUN CONFISCATED: St. Joseph township police officers Kevin Kramp and Gregory Duerr said this gun, allegedly pointed at them and trigger pulled three times by woman Monday, did not go off because it was empty. They said they were trying to talk woman into giving up gun.

who started the job with apparent good relations with the mayor. However, evident conflict developed between the two over the past year.

Morrison declined to comment on his termination last night.

Under the conditions of Shepherd's resolution, Morrison's contract will be terminated when it expires Wednesday. The resolution and the city charter also provide that a lump sum cash payment equal to three months' base salary and payment for incurred vacation and sick leave be made.

Joseph has tried unsuccessfully to get the city charter revised to provide for a strong mayor government. His pay from the city under the present charter is $5 a meeting, the same as the rest of the commission.

Joseph currently is on leave from his job at Whirlpool Corporation as manager of urban affairs.

Attendant: Robbery Try Foiled

NEW BUFFALO — State police here are investigating a report by a New Buffalo truckstop attendant that he foiled an armed holdup attempt early this morning when the would-be robber's gun did not fire.

Carl Simmons, 41, 518 West Buffalo street, New Buffalo, an attendant at the Hildebrand's Truck garage, located at corner of M-238 and I-44, south of New Buffalo, reported the holdup attempt about 1:35 a.m. today.

Simmons told troopers that a lone gunman in his early 20's entered the garage, demanded cash and was given about $100.

Police said Simmons reported that as the gunman walked past him out of the garage, he pointed a revolver and pulled the trigger twice but the gun did not fire.

Police said Simmons reported he wrestled with the man after the gun failed to fire and the cash fell to the floor during the scuffle.

Simmons told officers that the man fled from the store empty-handed, running towards the interstate.

Simmons described the man to police as about 5 foot 7 and white.

Five Berrien Villages Will Have Primaries

Five of six Berrien county villages with elections slated for March will hold party primary runoffs Feb. 16.

The runoffs became necessary because of the number of candidates from the same party filing for a particular office within one of the villages by the deadline yesterday.

The five are Berrien Springs, Eau Claire, Galien, Stevensville and Three Oaks. The sixth village is Baroda. Galien, Eau Claire and Stevensville have party battles on tap for the village president's post. General elections will be held March 8.

By community, the filings were:

Baroda

BARODA — All incumbents will seek re-election without opposition in the Baroda village election March 8.

Filing were Jerry Pliley, Republican, for president; Mrs.ileen Tullas, Democrat, clerk; Mrs. Leona Ott, Democrat, treasurer; and Henry A. Nitz, Republican, assessor. The terms are for two years.

Filing for three four-year terms of council trustees were Albert Reifschneider, Republican, and Howard Gaul and Ronald Zordell, both Democrats.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions was yesterday at 4 p.m.

Berrien Springs

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Four Republicans will be seeking their party's nomination for three, four-year seats as trustees in a village primary election here Feb. 16.

Filing nominating petitions prior to yesterday's deadline for the three seats were Republican incumbents Larry French, Rexford Koetsier, and Harold Wagner. They are challenged by Republican Edwin Raelne. No Democrats filed for their party's nomination for trustee.

Other candidates filing for various village offices were: President — Edgar Kesterke, incumbent Republican; Clerk — Wade Gorham, incumbent Republican; Treasurer — Olga Spaulding, incumbent Republican; and Assessor — Glen Briggs, incumbent Democrat. The offices are for two years.

Three incumbent Republicans also filed for their library board posts. They were Elva Motholino, Marlon Nichols, and William C. Rice. The seats are for four years.

The general election will be March 8.

Eau Claire

EAU CLAIRE — A race for the Democratic nomination for the office of village president faced this village as the deadline for candidates to file passed yesterday.

The contest forced the scheduling of a primary election for Feb. 16. Involved will be Marvin LaVanday, incumbent village president, and James C. Crowder, a current village council trustee whose term there is expiring. No Republicans filed for the two-year office.

Only one formal Democrat-Republican battle was on tap for the March 8 election as a result of the filings. Incumbent Clerk James Newman, a Democrat, will face Ruth Sharpe for the new two-year term.

Others filing without opposition were, according to Carol Runnabaugh, deputy clerk:

Treasurer — Peggy LaVanday, incumbent Democrat, Assessor — Kenneth Karn, incumbent Democrat.

Filing for three, four-year seats as trustees were: Billie

Retiring Mayor Views Watervliet

WATERVLIT — Mayor Robert Flaherty, who will leave office Dec. 31, after serving nearly 15 years as this city's mayor, has outlined several areas where he would like to see the city improved in future years.

Flaherty said his main concern would be that the new city commission and mayor explore the possibility of revising the city's 50-year-old charter.

Flaherty did not seek re-election as mayor in the November election, but sought a commission seat and was defeated.

Many parts in the city's existing charter, adopted April 6, 1925, have been altered by new state laws, according to Flaherty, and the duties of office holders are not well defined. Flaherty cited the city's assessor's position as an example of one that should be appointive and not elected, since all assessors must be certified by the state to serve. Reviewing other areas in which he would like to have more work done, Flaherty cited the following:

Full use of the city's public works garage on Butternut street. According to Flaherty, the garage, built in 1970, is not being used to its full capacity. He said city equipment is scattered throughout the city.

The northwest drain, where excessive flooding has occurred over the past two years, also needs corrective measures, according to Flaherty.

Flaherty said he would also like to see a centerline painted along Paw Paw avenue and Riverside road, to help eliminate the possibility of traffic accidents. The roads were resurfaced earlier this year, but no centerlines were painted, he said.

Two Teen Robbery Suspects Captured

Two Berrien county teenagers have been arrested in connection with the armed robberies within an hour of each other last night of a small Niles grocery store and a Benton township service station.

The pair was apprehended some five minutes after the second robbery was reported at the Niles Kwik-Serv Mart, 1703 Oak street, Niles. The arrests came after the auto the two were in slid out of control at an icy intersection east of Niles and crashed into a tree.

Police said neither youth was hurt in the 8:15 p.m. accident.

Lodged in the Niles city jail on two counts of armed robbery was Michael Wilson, 17, 1400 North Kephart lane, Berrien Springs.

Police said a second youth, Bill Harmon, 16, 128 Arctic street, Buchanan, was lodged in the Berrien county juvenile home and will be petitioned into probate court in connection with both holdups.

The first robbery, of the Checker service station, 928 Territorial road, Benton township, was reported about 7:15 p.m.

Attendant Gary Conner, 18, of St. Joseph, told state police from the Benton Harbor post that one man approached the service window of the station and brandished a revolver.

A second man pumped about $7 worth of gasoline into an auto and the pair then fled, police said they were told.

About an hour later, Vicki Herrell, 21, 1521 Cherry street, Niles, told Niles city police that a man wearing a green ski mask and a green trench coat entered the Kwik-Serv store about 8:10 p.m.

The man produced a revolver, demanded cash, and fled with $74 in a brown paper bag, she told officers.

Police said that officers who went to the accident took the two into custody after receiving a description of the holdup man.

Police said they had gone to investigate the accident after receiving a call about a property damage accident at the intersection.

Township police reported that while enroute to the accident scene, they found a brown paper bag containing a ski mask at the intersection of 17th and Lakes streets. A green trench coat was found near the accident scene, police said.

Niles city police said that $98 in cash was found in the personal belongings of the two arrested teenagers.

Niles city and township police said no weapon was recovered, but a search of the accident scene has been scheduled for today to look for the gun.

Head-On Crash Kills Woman, Injures Four

DECATUR — A Hartford woman was killed and four other people were injured in a two-car, head-on collision southwest of here yesterday afternoon.

State police at Paw Paw said Mrs. Maxine Ward Evans, 47, 38 West South street, was pronounced dead on arrival at Lee Memorial hospital, Dowagiac.

Troopers said Mrs. Evans was the driver of a car westbound on M-51 near Celery Center road, when an oncoming auto driven by Funeral arrangements were incomplete this forenoon at Calvin funeral home, Hartford, where friends may call after 7 this evening.

Memorials may be made to the Diabetes Foundation or Van Buren County Drug Abuse program.

17 Auto Deaths In Van Buren County In 1975

Mrs. Mary Ort, 18, 612 North Fifth street, Niles, reportedly slid into the path of the Evans car.

Police said a light film of newly fallen snow made the road slippery. Mrs. Evans' death was the 17th traffic fatality on Van Buren county roads this year. The accident occurred about 12:55 p.m.

Mrs. Evans' former son-in-law, Lloyd Yates, 36, box 332, Hartford, a passenger in her car, was listed in critical condition after undergoing surgery at Lee Memorial, according to a hospital spokesman. Police said he suffered a broken leg, and had possible fractures of both arms.

Mrs. Ort, who is pregnant, suffered a broken right arm, according to police, and is listed in good condition. Her daughter, Leah, 20 months, was treated for cuts and released, a hospital spokesman said.

Four Democrats also filed for the three, four-year seats as village trustees, at stake in the village elections. They are incumbents Raymond M. Backus, Jack B. Canfield, and Paul Warner, plus challenger James R. Foster. Also filing nominating petitions was Stephen M. Nichols, Republican challenger.

Running without opposition in the primary on the Republican ticket will be incumbents Mrs. Bernice Schoenfelder, clerk; Ervin Fechner, treasurer; Robert Sturmer, assessor; and Donald DeMorrow, Republi-

Filings Assure Two Van Buren Runoffs

Primary election contests took shape in two of six Van Buren county villages yesterday as the result of candidate filings by the filing deadline yesterday.

Both primary contests were for village council offices. In Paw Paw, the battle will be among Republicans while in Decatur, it will be among the Democrats.

The filings also produced four potential contests for March 8 regular election voting.

Of the four, one was already in doubt. Involved was a contest for village presidency in Decatur where a petition was filed for the incumbent who had previously announced he would not seek re-election.

Lawrence also has a contest for the presidency on tap while in Bloomingdale, contests are scheduled for the treasurer's office and the village council offices at stake.

By community, the filings, showed:

Bloomingdale

BLOOMINGDALE — No primary election contests developed here yesterday as the filing deadline for candidates for the village elections passed, but two races shaped up for the regular balloting in March.

According to Jim Petty, village clerk, the races will be for the treasurer's office and for three available village council seats. The general election will be held March 8.

In the trustee race, Republican incumbents Stephen Dickerson and George Seamehorn will oppose Democrats Herbert Vanforn, Jr., an incumbent, and Petty. Terms are for four-years and the top three vote getters will be the winners.

In the race for treasurer, Republican incumbent Mrs. Julia Murray will oppose Mrs. Velma Knapp, a Democrat.

Candidates for the other two-year offices at stake in the voting will be unopposed. Incumbent Village President Richard M. Dickerson is seeking another term, Miss Janet DeKam is seeking the clerk's position, and Morris Harpham is seeking the assessor's post. All three are Republicans.

Breedsville

BREEDSVILLE — All candidates for village offices in the March 8 election will run unopposed, and all are incumbents, according to Mrs. Elleen Monahan, village clerk. Her statement came after the deadline for candidates to file passed yesterday.

Raymond Johnson is seeking re-election to the post of village president, Mrs. Monahan is again running for clerk, Mrs. Grace Fish is again seeking the treasurer's post, and Bruce Mortenson is seeking another term as assessor. All these offices are two-year terms.

Three incumbents on the village council are seeking re-election to four-year terms. They are Walter Tomszak, Robert Taylor and Tony Klinge.

Decatur

DECATUR — Keith Leighton who announced in November he would not seek another term as village president here got a surprise yesterday.

A petition putting his name on the ballot for re-election was filed by the 4 p.m. deadline for candidates for the village's March 8 election.

Leighton said he was not sure who had filed the petition and said it was a surprise. He said he would make up his mind in the next couple of days about what to do.

Leighton and others with petitions of candidacy have five days to decide whether to withdraw or become a candidate.

Leighton has been president for six years and was a village trustee for six years prior to becoming president. He is a Democrat.

Filing for the Republican nomination as president was Clarence Blaine Rex, an incumbent councilman whose council post is to be filled in the election also.

Clerk Harry Schmidt said

that, because of other filings by the deadline, a primary would be necessary Feb. 16 to determine one party race.

The filings came in for the three available council positions involved in the balloting. Seeking the positions were incumbents Bruno Dragan and Travis Graves and challengers Donald Wickett and Carl Keyes. All four filed as Democrats. The top three vote getters will receive the nominations.

Incumbents filing unopposed were Schmidt and Treasurer Mrs. Virginia Lezan and Assessor Hans Petersen.

All terms are for two years.

Lawrence

LAWRENCE — The office of village president will be the only contested race in the Lawrence village election March 8, following yesterday's filing deadline.

Eugene Carr, incumbent Republican president, will be opposed by Arthur Haney Jr., a Democrat. The seat is for two years.

Other candidates filing for various village offices prior to yesterday's deadline were: Clerk — Laurelee Duncan, Republican; Treasurer — Llewelyn Bowen, incumbent Republican; Assessor — Mrs. Joyce Alburtus, Republican; and current clerk. All are for two-year posts.

Filing for three, four-year seats as village trustees were Glen Thomsen and Paul McGowan, incumbents, and Ralph Webster, Republican. Mrs. Virginia Sanborn, incumbent trustee is not seeking re-election.

No primary election will be necessary, as a result of yesterday's filings.

Lawton

LAWTON — Unopposed Republican incumbents were the only candidates to file nominating petitions for Lawton village offices prior to yesterday's deadline.

Moon; Clerk Mrs. Barbara Weurding; Treasurer Mrs. Florence Fale; Assessor Robert Howard; Trustees — Russell Hackenberg, Douglas Noble, Marshall Sanderson, and Donald Bitley; Library board members Mrs. Katherine Atwater, Charles Gibson, and Mrs. Marian Pfister.

The general election will be March 8.

Paw Paw

PAW PAW — Five Republicans, including three incumbents, will vie for three seats on the village council here during a Feb. 16 primary election, according to Mrs. Maxine Chipman, village clerk.

No Democratic candidates filed petitions for any village offices, Mrs. Chipman said. All offices are two-year terms.

The three highest vote getters in the primary will be slated on the ballot for the March 8 elections.

Filing for trustee posts were incumbents Mrs. Ann Griffith, George Kolosar and Charles Cusumano and challengers James Cella and James W. Smith, Jr.

Republicans unopposed are Charles F. Smith, for village president; Mrs. Chipman, again seeking the clerk's post; incumbent Burton Harrison, treasurer; and incumbent Mrs. Juanita Thomas, assessor.

Two newcomers have filed for two, two-year seats on the library board. They are Mrs. Margaret McNeil and Carl R. Jernberg.

The deadline for filing nominating petitions was yesterday at 4 p.m.

Medic Pleads Innocent; Drug License Restored

By DENNIS COGSWELL

Paw Paw Baroda

PAW PAW — A Paw Paw physician pleaded innocent Monday in Van Buren circuit court to four counts of prescribing a controlled substance without having a required state license. Dr. Timothy McManus, 43, route 2, Red Arrow highway, is charged with having written two prescriptions each for two women on Nov. 5 for Dexametone Spasule, an amphetamine, while not having a valid license to do so. Under state law, doctors must have a license to prescribe controlled substances in addition to their medical licenses. During an earlier preliminary examination, Van Buren Prosecutor Frank Willis alleged that McManus' state license had expired July 1, 1974. According to Carl Cross, executive secretary of the Board of Pharmacy, a division of the state Department of Licensing and Regulation, which brought the complaint, McManus re-registered for and received a state license to prescribe controlled substances on Nov. 20 of this year.

Joint Fund Proposal First In Michigan

BARODA — A planned joint application by Baroda village and township for $300,000 in federal Community Development funds is the only joint application to be prepared so far in the state, a planning consultant said at a special hearing on the fund application last night.

Leslie R. Cripps of Berrien Springs made his comments as some 13 township and village residents discussed ways the money would be used if the grant is approved.

Cripps said a second public meeting will be held in Late January.

Discussed as priority projects to be financed by the grant were housing rehabilitation, including loan guarantee programs, and construction of water lines, sidewalks and a new Lake street bridge.

The village council at its regular meeting next Monday and the township board at a special meeting to be held sometime next week, will review projects discussed at the hearing and adopt individual budget programs.

These programs will be submitted to the regional and state planning agency in Lansing on Jan. 13 by Cripps who has been hired by the local agencies as the community development and planning consultant.

Cripps said if the pre-application is approved, notification will be made by HUD by mid-March and a final application will follow.

A consultant fee of $4,000 will be shared equally by the village and township. A final application fee of $1,000 will be reimbursed to the local agencies by HUD, according to Cripps.

Cripps said the application can be updated and resubmitted for the next four years.

AIR TRAFFIC CONTROL TEST: LIFE-DEATH GAME

By CHRIS CONNELL
Associated Press Writer

POMONA, N.J. (AP) — In a darkened room at a federal test facility here, a game of make-believe is being played which could spell the difference between life and death for airline passengers.

Air traffic controller Fred Ranger is seated before a console with a green screen criss-crossed by lines, plane identification numbers and altitudes and the flashing words, "CONFLICT ALERT."

"CAT 2601, make a 90-degree right turn and descend 1,000 feet," he said into the microphone attached to his headset.

"Roger," responded a woman's voice over the intercom.

In a moment, the squiggle that represented airplane CAT 2601 veered to the right and its vector lines moved out of the way of another plane marked CAT 2602 on Ranger's screen. The flashing stopped and the alert sign disappeared.

Ranger proceeded to direct both planes back to a collision course, then moved them away from it again.

None of the action took place in the skies. Ranger was seated in one Federal Aviation Administration lab here, and the woman "pilot" was in an adjacent building at a simulated control panel.

The FAA and two computer firms worked jointly for three years on the 14,000-word computer program that makes "conflict alert" possible. The warning flashes automatically when flight patterns indicate that two planes will pass within five miles of each other at about the same altitude.

Ranger is among 40 controllers at the FAA's National Aviation Facilities Experimental Center here who test methods used to direct America's air traffic. The base near Atlantic City employs 1,800 persons in all phases of test work.

The conflict alert system is the one of the newer systems in the FAA's safety network, and a recent rash of near-miss jet collisions has made it one of the most talked about.

The lab here is a mock-up of the 20 Air Route Traffic Control Centers the FAA operates throughout the country to direct traffic between airports.

Unlike their fellow controllers who guide takeoffs and landings from towers at airports, the controllers at these outposts work at consoles like the one manned by Ranger in similar darkened rooms.

The area over which Ranger's planes were flying does not exist. It is a mythical region called the "universal data set" that was designed to mirror the topography and the troubles that pilots encounter throughout the nation.

The screen technically is not a radar scope, an FAA spokesman explained. It is a televised re-creation of radar soundings filtered through an array of computers.

For the controllers who make split-second decisions on life-and-death matters, "It's an added safety feature," said Ranger. "It requires no additional workload to the controller. It is a backup tool. I haven't heard a bad word about it yet."

FAA centers in Memphis, Denver, Kansas City and Fort Worth already have added "conflict alert" systems to their computers' programs. In the wake of five near-misses since Nov. 26, the FAA has stepped up plans to install the program at the other 16 centers by next month, Ranger said.

The system is currently pegged only for flights above 18,000 feet. The FAA requires all planes above that level to fly on instrument flight plans with a radar beacon and identification number, regardless of the weather. The controllers' job is to keep these flights separated.

The FAA has directed the Kansas City center to experiment for 30 days with conflict alerts down to the 12,500-foot level.

A simple change in the computer program could bring the alert system down to ground level, Ranger said. "But we're not sure of the true impact on the computer itself." The computers' memories may not be able to sort out that much data and operate effectively.

That is why testing is done over the mythical radar fields here first.

"These guys — these mathematicians — can write programs, but the question is, 'Does it really work when we get it?' Ranger said.

'CONFLICT ALERT': Air traffic controllers view simulated radar transmission recently as they check a "conflict alert" system that warns when two planes are on collision course. Seated, back to camera, is

Gandhi Is Urged To Delay March Parliament Elections

By MYRON L. BELKIND
Associated Press Writer

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Leaders of India's ruling Congress party today urged Prime Minister Indira Gandhi to postpone the March election of a new parliament for a year.

The proposal, put before the annual party convention which opened today in Chandigarh, was linked with others by the party leaders calling for continuation of Mrs. Gandhi's emergency rule and for sweeping changes in the constitution.

All the proposals were certain to get an overwhelming endorsement from the party convention.

Postponement of the elections would insure adoption of constitutional changes because the Congress party has an overwhelming majority in the present parliament. There is widespread speculation that Mrs. Gandhi will replace the present parliamentary system of government with strong presidential rule and that she will then take over the presidency.

The resolution introduced at the party congress said extension of the emergency and postponement of the election was necessary because "forces of destabilization are still actively at work within the country and from outside.

"While dangers lurk and our internal tasks remain unfinished, the emergency, which was proclaimed to meet an immediate threat, now requires to be continued till there is the full assurance that these dangers have been effectively contained."

A few hours earlier, Mrs. Gandhi in a speech to the youth wing of the party warned: "Some internal and external forces still continue to pose a threat to India, although they are lying dormant at the moment. These forces are waiting for a small mistake to pounce upon India and create chaos in the country."

The United States appeared to be her target when she said:

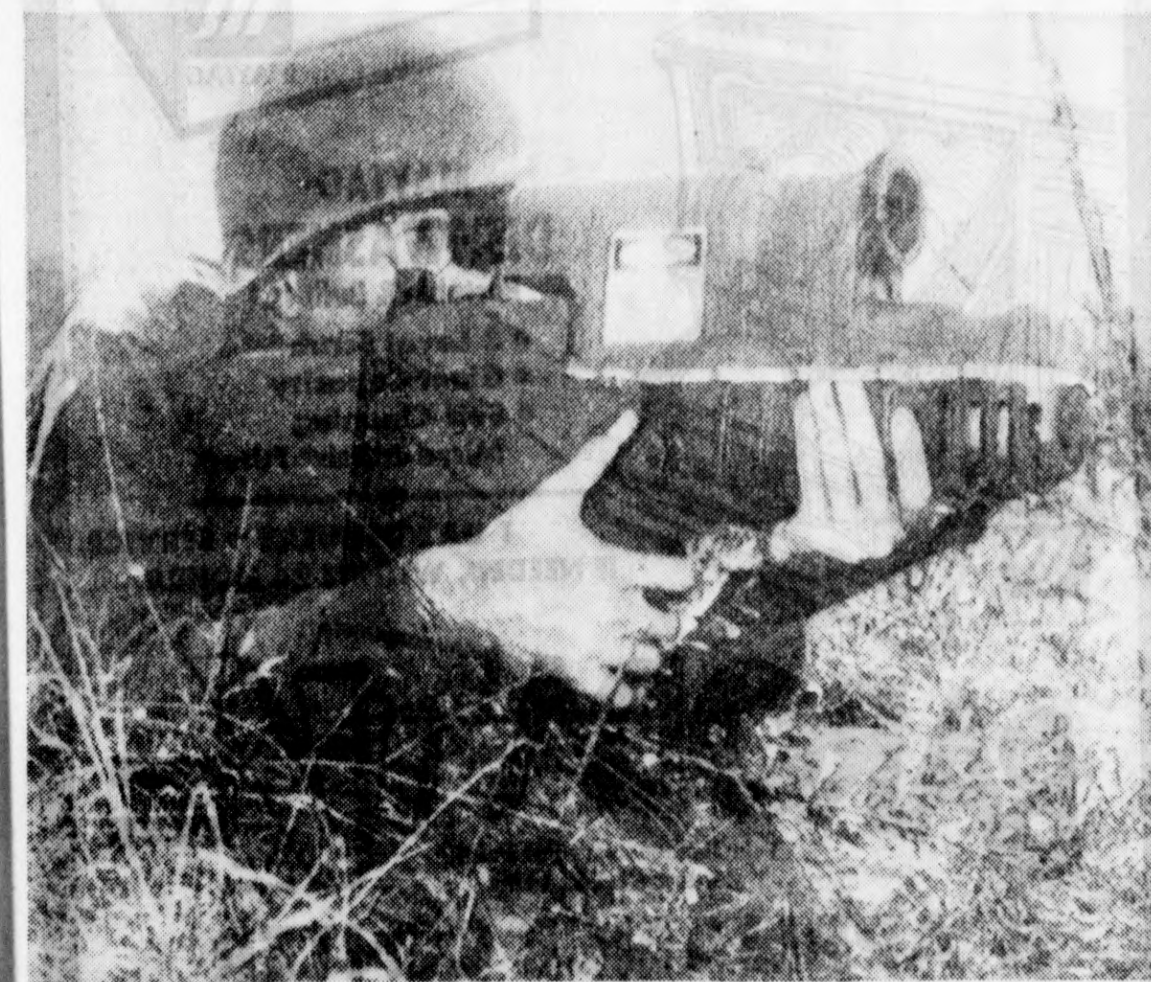

"Some foreign forces have always helped our enemies and not tolerated our becoming strong. Now they are trying to teach us what democracy is and what we should do."

"Our people will have to show their strength to make these forces realize that India does not pay any heed to their propaganda against her."

The United States has been a strong ally of Pakistan, India's enemy in three wars since independence, and President Ford publicly described Mrs. Gandhi's assumption of emergency powers last summer as a temporary demise of Indian democracy. Mrs. Gandhi and her associates also were upset by the widespread criticism of their actions by the American press.

TIGERS HAND SJ FIRST LOSS

BH Faces Denby In Finals

By JOHN VANDEN HEED
Sports Editor

The House that Denby built stands as an awesome and towering challenge for Benton Harbor tonight in the championship basketball game of the St. Joseph Holiday Tournament.

Denby's 6-11 Stuart House — called the best high school prospect in the state by University of Michigan coach Johnny Orr — led the unbeaten Detroit school to the finals Monday night in a 67-65 triumph over Saginaw, the defending tournament champion.

Benton Harbor earned a shot at House and Denby by using an effective zone defense to down previously undefeated St.

Joseph 52-50 before a standing room only crowd of about 2,600.

Tonight's title tilt at the St. Joseph gym between Denby, a newcomer to the fourth annual tournament, and Benton Harbor is set for 8:30 p.m., following the 7 p.m. consolation game between St. Joe and Saginaw.

House, who is averaging more than 30 points per game for the 5-0 Denby Tars, tallied 29 points Monday while pulling down 13 rebounds and blocking five shots.

Benton Harbor coach Earl McKee and his 3-3 Tigers know they are underdogs tonight, but they think they know the best way to overcome House and Denby.

"We're going to try to run them," explains McKee. "That seems to be our only chance. If they slow us down, we're in trouble."

McKee also plans to "collapse on him (House)" with the zone defense which stymied St. Joseph and ended the Bears six game winning streak — the school's best start since the 1959-60 campaign.

St. Joe was held to its fewest points of the season by Harbor, including just three points in the fourth quarter when the Bears had frigid one for eight field goal shooting.

"Our inability to attack the zone effectively was the key," confirmed St. Joe coach George Gaumer. "We played around on the edge of it most of the night. It was a pathetic performance in that respect."

"It was the defense that turned the game around," agreed McKee. The Tiger mensor said his players "never got it completely right... we always had somebody out of position by half a step." But he said his squad "moved somewhat better inside" in the zone during the second half.

St. Joe blew a 12-point first quarter lead while on the way to its first defeat. The Bears also led 15-10 after the first quarter, 29-22 at halftime and 47-43 going into the final period.

Benton Harbor tied the game for the first time at 47-47 with 6:58 left to play on a rebound shot by 6-4½ center Bennie Bowers. Bowers, who finished with 11 points and a game-high 15 rebounds, also gave the Tigers their first lead at 49-47 with 3:10 left on another rebound shot.

After Henry Follman had put St. Joe back in front 50-48, a 20-footer by Ray Thompson at the 1:42 mark put the Harbor on top for good. Russell Steele added a free throw with nine seconds left for the last point of the game.

St. Joe's Dave Ziebart, who missed a one-and-one free throw opportunity with 36 seconds left, also tried a long desperation shot at the final buzzer, but the attempt was off target.

Ziebart did guard Steele in St. Joe's man-to-man defense, and he held the high-scoring Tiger (25.6 average going into the game) to 13 points.

Thompson led Benton Harbor pointmakers with 18 points and Steve McNutt added 10 as the Tigers meshed 23 of 57 field goals (40 per cent) and six of 11 free throws (55 per cent).

The Tigers hit a deadly 10 of 11 shots in the third quarter, including four of five shooting by Thompson and three for three efforts by Steele and McNutt.

Guards Cory Benford and Mike Collier netted 15 and 10 points, respectively, as St. Joe connected on 23 of 57 field goals (40 per cent) and six of 11 free throws (55 per cent). The Bears were nine for 14 in the third quarter shoot out, with Benford going five-for-five from the outside.

Rebounding also proved to be a decisive part of the outcome, with Benton Harbor posting a solid 42-25 advantage. St. Joe's was hampered in that department after its leading scorer and rebounder 6-5 Dale Wright suffered a sprained ankle in the opening quarter. He returned to action but not at full strength.

St. Joe did have the best floor game with just 12 turnovers, compared to 19 for Harbor.

In the Denby-Saginaw game, the Tars also got 20 points from James Newman and 11 tallies from Ray Bradley to go along with House's 29.

The Trojans from Saginaw, now 4-2, got 19 points from Paul Roby, 14 from Mike Peterson and 12 from Ivory Jones.

Denby, which trailed by 10 points in the third quarter, rallied for the victory with House scoring 12 points in the fourth frame.

Denby won the game at the free throw line by making 21 of 29 (72 per cent) while Saginaw sank five of eight (63 per cent). Saginaw, which had seven more field goals than Denby, hit on 30 of 90 from the floor (40 per cent) while Denby sank 23 of 51 (45 per cent).

Rebounding and turnovers were about even, with Saginaw having 32 caroms and Denby 31. The Trojans had 17 turnovers and the Tars 18.

In the junior varsity portion of the tournament at Benton Harbor high school, Benton Harbor got into the finals by beating St. Joseph 66-64. Saginaw also reached the finals with an 89-44 romp over Denby.

Ronald Page led the little Tigers with 27 points and Ray Jones added 12. Keene Taylor and Mike Thumm netted 20 and 16, respectively, for the St. Joe jayvees.

Today's jayvee consolation game was set for 1:30 p.m., with the title tilt following at 3.

Terps Win Gator Bowl

Maryland Joins Grid Elite After Upsetting Florida

By HERSHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A no-name team has put the old familiar name of Maryland back among the royalty of college football.

From the time Jim Tatum collected his ninth consecutive winning season in 1955 with a 73-15-4 log and one national championship, until Coach Jerry Claiborne arrived on the scene four years ago, Maryland managed only three winning campaigns, the last in 1962.

The 17th-ranked Terrapins completed their resurgence Monday night with an impressive, near-perfect 13-0 whipping of favored Florida in the rainy Gator Bowl.

They had just enough offense, but essentially they did it with a swarming, relentless defense which apparently took personally some hints in the local media that they weren't a fitting opponent for No. 13 Florida ... and rammed the insults down the Gators' throats.

"They said we couldn't win the big game. They said we couldn't beat a Southeastern team. Well, that fired us up and we did it," crowed linebacker Kevin Benson, whose first-period interception at the Florida 44-yard line set up

Larry Dick's 19-yard touchdown pass to Kim Hoover.

Mike Sochko accounted for the other points with a conversion and field goals of 20 yards in the second period and 27 yards in the fourth quarter.

"I don't know how much the pre-game publicity inspired our players, but they wanted to convince people they belonged here — and I think they did it," said Claiborne, who notched his first bowl triumph in five tries as a head coach. "We have a good solid program and we convinced people we can win the big one."

Their first victory over an SEC team in 11 tries since 1966 enabled the Terrapins to conclude their best season in two decades with a 9-2-1 mark.

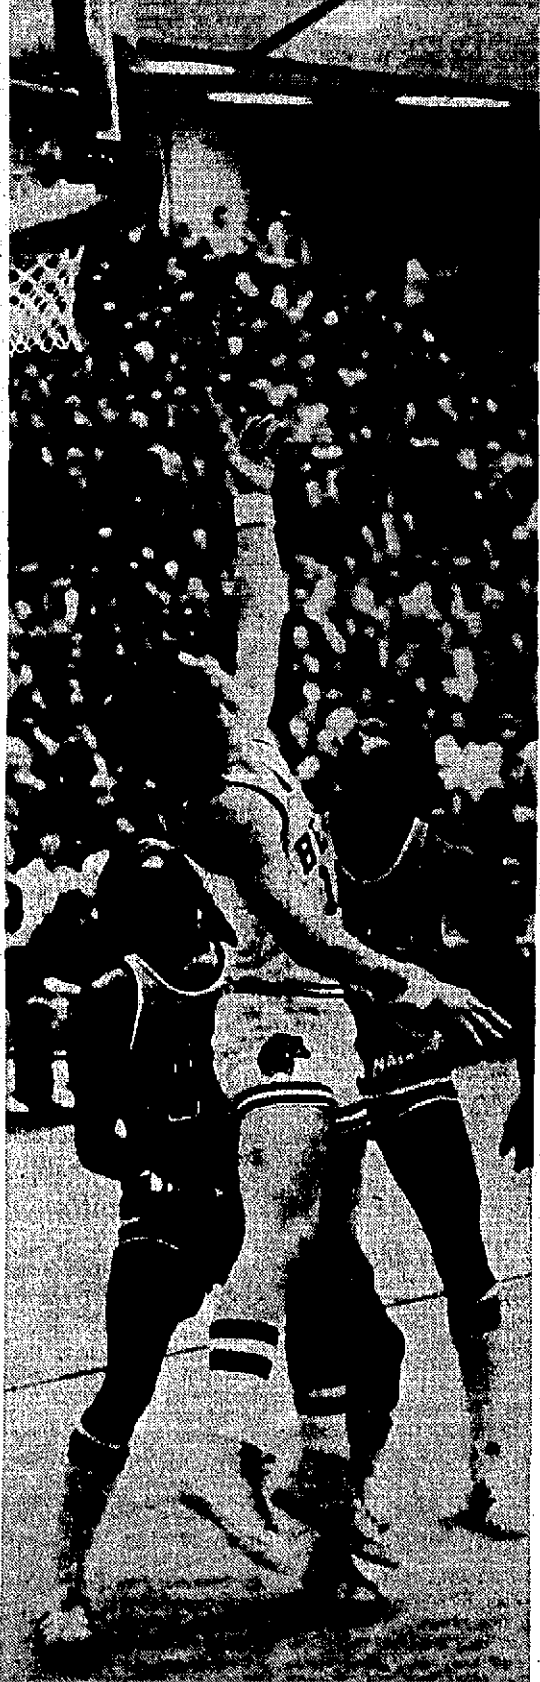

In practice sessions during Maryland's week in Florida, Claiborne had labeled his club a bunch of no-names.

"Steve Atkins kind of stood out tonight, but we still have no big star," Claiborne said. "But there's a lot of heart on this team. We knew we could play good defense and we had time to prepare for Florida's Wishbone. Our scheme was good against it and our players were super."

Atkins, a bruising 225-pound freshman tailback, barreled for 127 yards on 20 carries, all but nine yards coming in the second half.

While Maryland's aggressive defense — Claiborne is among the last remaining proponents of the old wide-tackle-six with its six-man line — was keeping Florida pinned down in its own half of the field until the third period, the Gators turned the ball over via three interceptions, and a fumble, and also committed several costly penalties.

"Mistakes of execution and concentration will almost always get you beat against a good opponent," said Gator Coach Doug Dickey, who suffered his sixth straight bowl setback. "Maryland has a fine team, very sound and well-balanced."

Red Wings' Grant Remains Sidelined

DETROIT (AP) — Captain Danny Grant is expected to miss at least another week of Detroit Red Wings games, the National Hockey League team said Monday.

Grant, sidelined Dec. 19 after 556 consecutive games, has a muscle pull in his right leg.

The Red Wings management said it was working with the New York Islanders to reschedule a game cancelled last Friday because of snow in Detroit. No date has been set for the make-up game.

Woody Named Coach Of Year

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Woody Hayes, whose Ohio State Buckeyes are only a Rose Bowl victory away from the national championship, has been named Coach of the Year by the Football Writers Association of America.

Balloting by some 600 members produced strong support for a record number of coaches. But Hayes won by an 80-56 margin over Bud Moore, whose first Kansas club was picked to finish near the bottom of the Big Eight but won seven games and pinned the only loss in the past three seasons on Oklahoma, 23-3.

Gil Krueger, who guided Northern Michigan from 0-10 in 1974 to the NCAA Division II title in 1975, was third with 53 votes.

California's Mike White had 47, Arkansas' Frank Broyles 39, Navy's George Welsh 37, Texas A&M's Emory Bellard 36 and Arizona State's Frank Kush 32.

Oklahoma's Barry Switzer, runnerup to Johnny Majors of Pittsburgh and Grant Teaff of Baylor in 1973 and 1974, received 13 votes this time and was 11th, trailing Miami of Ohio's Dick Crum with 17 and all-victorious Arkansas State's Bill Davidson with 15.

In all, 50 coaches were mentioned by voters. Receiving 10 each were Dave Maurer of Wittenberg, Tom Osborne of Nebraska and Ken Cooper of Mississippi.

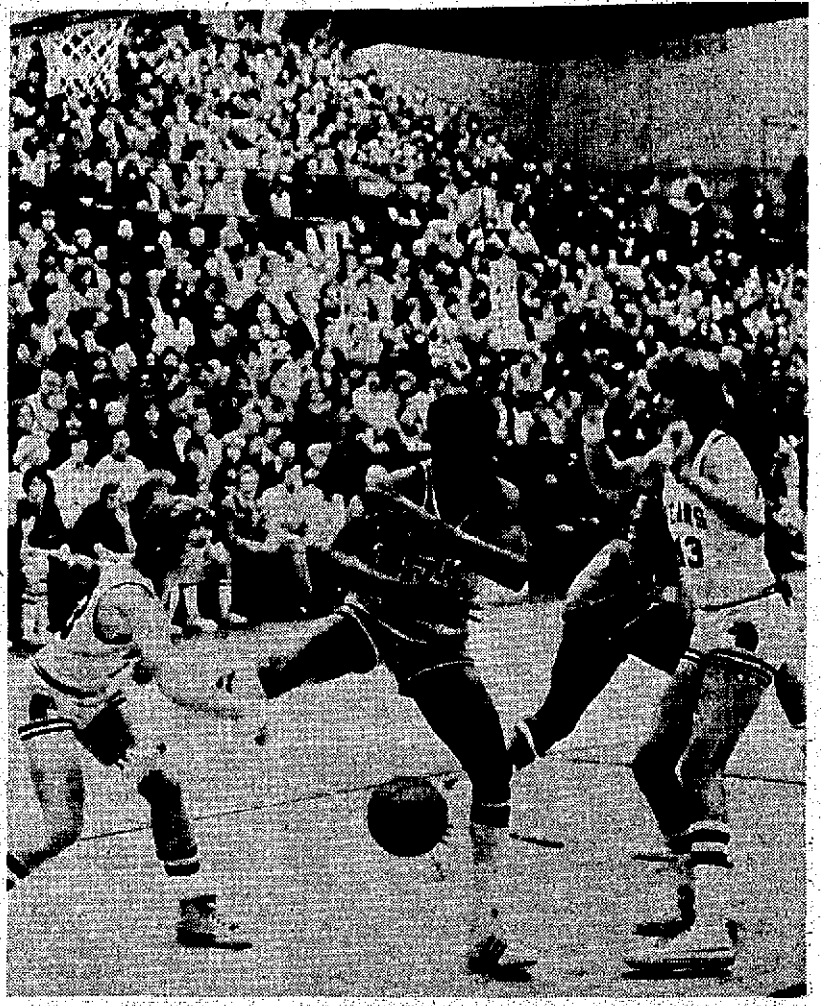

In winning, Hayes became the first three-time recipient of the award. He won the writers' first Coach of the Year honor in 1957 and repeated in 1968.

Only two-time winners have been Texas' Darrell Royal in 1961 and 1963 and Southern California's John McKay in 1962 and 1972.

The 1975 selections were announced here Monday by Volney Meene, secretary of the association and sportswriter for the Oklahoman and Times.

Economic Disaster For Baseball--Kuhn

If Stripped Of Reserve System

NEW YORK (AP) — Big league baseball could become chaotic and lose its position as a major sport if stripped of the reserve system, Commissioner Bowie Kuhn insists.

"The economic consequences to the clubs could be enormous," he told The Associated Press in an interview. "The minor leagues — 140 clubs which provided entertainment for 12 million last season — if not erased completely, could be seriously curtailed."

"I think you could expect bankruptcies, sharp retrenchment of franchises and great dissatisfaction among the players themselves as the money gravitates to the top — to the super stars — at the expense of the majority of players."

The interview marked the first time Kuhn had addressed himself fully to the decision by arbitrator Peter Seitz last week, rendering pitchers Andy Messersmith and Dave McNally free agents because they had played this year without contracts.

"Our basic players agreement specifies that the reserve clause should not enter into any arbitration of grievances," Kuhn said. "Seitz had no right to rule on an issue of such broad impact on the foundation of the game."

It is on this point — a flaw in the law — on which baseball is basing its appeal before a federal court in Kansas City.

The only other grounds on which an arbitration ruling may be reversed is proven bias on the part of the arbitrator.

Baseball fired Seitz immediately after his ruling. The arbitrator insisted that he did not rule on the reserve clause but merely on the issue of a man's right to freedom when no longer bound by contract.

Seitz argued that baseball could have solved the problem — had it chosen to do so — without the "adversary atmosphere" of an arbitration board.

Comments on the ruling have been varied. Proponents of the baseball establishment have termed Seitz a "little man with a Napoleon complex." Kuhn and the baseball establishment have been pictured as "old fogies with their heads in the sand — reluctant to change."

Some critics have argued that the reserve clause, binding a player to one team unless traded or sold, is not basic to the continuing health of the game, that a compromise between players and owners could be worked out in the new players' labor contract which is now in the process of renegotiation.

Four other persons sustained apparently minor injuries in two other traffic accidents, both in Lincoln township on Saturday. Police said Russell was a passenger in an auto operated by Jewel Elsie Crawford, 56, of 1428 East Napier avenue, Benton township. He fell out of the car when the front passenger door flew open as the vehicle started up from a traffic light on Napier at Langley avenues,

State police at the Benton Harbor post said two St. Joseph township residents were injured in the collision of their auto and another on eastbound I-94, near Red Arrow highway, Lincoln township, about 9:15 p.m. Saturday.

Reported treated and released from Memorial hospital were the driver, Walter A. Seymour, 63, and his passenger, Betty L. Seymour, 47, both of 709 Grant avenue, St. Joseph township.

Troopers were told the Seymour auto moved from one freeway lane to another and collided with an auto driven by Bruce Reeser, 21, Vicksburg, Mich. Reeser was reported unhurt. No summonses were issued.

Troopers at 5:20 p.m. Saturday investigated a two-car injury accident on Red Arrow highway at Glenlord road, Lincoln township.

Reported treated and released from Memorial hospital were a driver, Lou Ann Exum, 27, of 2411 Willa drive, St. Joseph, and her passenger, Darold Exum, 30, Champaign, Ill. Mrs. Shelton said that her son was injured about 9:30 p.m. Saturday while sledding near his home with neighborhood friends. She said his sled hit concrete steps and flipped over.

Further tests are scheduled today to determine the extent of the boy's back injuries, Mrs. Shelton said.

New officers include Mayor Richard W. Lewis and first ward Councilman Ronald Kozlik. Second ward Alderman Rex Lineberry will be sworn into his third four year term while third ward Councilman Robert Warren will begin his second. FIRE DAMAGES BH HOME: Benton Harbor firemen Saturday night battled blaze that extensively damaged house occupied by Mrs. LaVerne Page and her four children at 715 Ogden avenue. Mrs. Page and her children escaped unhurt, reported Fire Lt. Les Hartman. Hartman said cause is unknown, but fire apparently began in basement near furnace and spread upward through air ducts. Fire was reported at 6:54 p.m. House and contents were reported insured and owner was identified as Berrien Real Estate Co., St. Joseph. Loss totaled about $3,000, Hartman said. (David Arndt photo)

ALLEGAN SHERIFF'S AUCTION

Wanna Buy Some 'Hot' Items?

By BRANDON BROWN
Staff Writer

Wanna buy a pair of size 7½ tennis shoes, a switchblade knife with broken blade or a steam iron?

How about a bird cage, spent .38-caliber shells or toy-type scissors?

These and scores of other items are scheduled to go on the block during an Allegan sheriff's department auction set for 10 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 30, at the Allegan county fairgrounds.

Virtually all are stolen goods whose owners haven't been located, says Sgt. Warren Engelsman. Some items date back 10 years.

The auction is open to the public and sales are to the highest bidder, he said.

It's the department's first stolen goods auction. Sheriff Robert Whitcomb calls it a "junk sale" with many of the items in various stages of disrepair, but concedes bargain-hunters may find some buys.

He says, for example, that "you couldn't make one" bike of the 10 mini-bikes on sale "but the tires and wheels are all right."

A couple switchblades are listed in the auction notice, as is a purse containing firecrackers. But the knives' blades will be broken before sale and the firecrackers won't be in the purse when it's sold, the sheriff says. They're illegal.

Potential buyers can view auction items on the fairgrounds starting about 9 a.m., the sheriff says. All sales, he added, are final.

The auctioneer is Alfred Brenner of Burnips, and proceeds go to the Allegan county general fund, the sheriff said.

Sheriff Whitcomb says the Allegan County Board of Commissioners "thinks they're going to get wealthy" from the auction "but they can't do anything but lose, lose, lose."

Judging from the notice of sale, a high bidder could:

—Get ready for July 4th with a box of sparklers.

—Outfit all the Boy Scouts in the neighborhood with sheath and pocket knives.

—Ward off winter's chill with an electric heater.

—Set up housekeeping with a vase, candy dish, stainless steel pans, steam iron, griddle, cupcake pan, vegetable shredder, tea strainer, laundry basket, jewelry box, dishpan, ashtrays, toaster, light bulbs, stereo tape player, shot glasses and alarm clock.

—Put several three-wheeled cars back on the road with "spares," some of them snow tires.

—Clean up with a "Kleen vacuum sweeper."

—Head for the great outdoors with a Coleman two-burner stove, wooden-handled can opener and machete.

—Peddle the old homestead with a "House for sale sign, wood."

—Take Rover for a walk with a different leash.

—Tackle all those fixup chores with a variety of hammers, wrenches, screwdrivers, etc.

—Smell good with a bottle of after-shave lotion.

—And take up fishing and hunting with a variety of tackle and gear, including poles, cartridges and field glasses.

There are also some one-off items waiting for just the right buyer. Like a top set of false teeth, a damaged parking meter head, toe stops for roller skates and a coffee table leg.

Swimmers Think Of Florida

GRAFTON, Ohio (AP) — "When I hit the water I always think of something warm, like Florida," said 50-year-old Mrs. Kenneth C. Sandhoff after leading about 40 members of the Polar Bear Club in their annual swim at a frozen lake.

The water temperature was 38 degrees Sunday as scuba divers broke through six inches of ice to clear a path for the swimmers at a private lake.

Lee Hoover, 45, of Lyndhurst, one of the leaders of the organization of swimming instructors and lifeguards, said the roughest part of the icy swim is "walking barefooted in the snow when you get out of the water."

The swimmers take their winter dip to demonstrate their physical fitness and their ability to perform rescues under frigid conditions. No one spends more than 40 seconds in the water.

When they came out of the water, they huddled to sing the polar bear song, which begins:

"We're the polar bear generation."

U.S. Sends Big Pumps Instruments To Flooded Mines Are Stolen

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The U.S. government is supplying high-capacity pumps to help pump out the flooded coal mine in northeastern India in which at least 372 trapped miners are feared dead, Minister of Mines Chandrajit Yadav announced today. But it was doubtful that any of the missing men would be found alive.

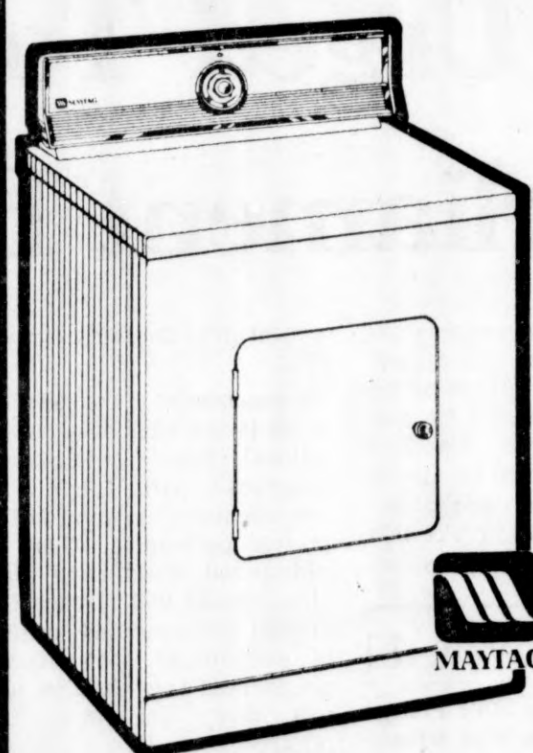

Yadav said the pumps were being flown from the United States by Air India, India's international airline. He did not announce how many were being sent or when they would arrive. Earlier he said it would take the five pumps on hand at the mine at least 10 days to remove the 110 million gallons of water he estimated were in the flooded shaft.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi said "everything humanly possible is being and will be done to rescue the workers" trapped Saturday by an explosion and subsequent flooding in the Chasnala colliery 160 miles northwest of Calcutta.

Officials said Mrs. Gandhi has asked several other countries to send rescue and pumping equipment. But they acknowledged it would be a miracle if any of the men survived.

High-powered pumps sucked water from the mine Sunday while the grieving wives of the trapped men remained at home, certain their husbands were dead.

May Keeps Indiana Perfect

Michigan, MSU Bag Tournament Victories

From Associated Press

Unbeaten, top-ranked Indiana came within a heartbeat of defeat in the championship of the Holiday Festival basketball tournament in New York.

Undaunted St. John's (N.Y.) forged a 65-65 tie with the Hoosiers with five minutes left Monday night before Scott May scored seven of his game-high 29 points to lead Indiana to a 76-69 victory.

In other tournament action involving Big Ten schools Monday night, Michigan State trounced Southern Mississippi 89-77 in the semifinals of the VCU Invitational, Ohio State dropped a 78-64 decision to Pennsylvania in the consolation game of the Sugar Bowl tournament, and Northwestern fell to 13th ranked Washington 70-57 in the "Far West Classic" at Portland, Ore. unbeaten Iowa squandered a 28-point lead, then finally edged Arizona 82-80 on a pair of free throws by Dan Frost after time had run out in their game in the Rainbow Classic at Honolulu.

Bo Admits '75 Club Not Best He's Had

But Wolverines Have 'Character'

MIAMI (AP) — Michigan's Bo Schembechler admits that the players he'll use against Oklahoma in Thursday night's Orange Bowl game aren't the best he's had. But he says attitude will make the difference.

"This Michigan team probably is not as good man-for-man as the last six teams, but it's young and it's got character," Schembechler said Monday. "That makes up for a lot."

Schembechler's 8-1-2 club started slowly, tying Stanford 19-19 and Baylor 14-14 in the second and third weeks of the season.

But the Wolverines bounced back to win seven in a row before dropping a tough 21-14 decision to top-ranked Ohio State in the Big Ten championship game.

"I know we're playing a team that's capable of beating us if we don't play well," said Leroy Selmon, standout defensive end for Michigan's opponent, once-beaten and third-ranked Oklahoma.

Selmon's worries New Year's night include Gordon Bell, who averaged 121.4 yards rushing a game and scored 13 touchdowns, and fullback Rob Lytle, who averaged 91.6 yards a game. The Wolverines' freshman quarterback, Rick Leach, has run for 490 yards and passed for 647 yards.

Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer said his Wishbone offense has lost the edge it might have had over Michigan's defense because of the month-long gap between the end of the season and the bowl contest.

"Defending the Wishbone is preparation and Michigan will have had plenty of time to get ready," he said. "We have an advantage during the season because teams are faced with preparing for us in six days. Michigan will have had enough time."

Sooner quarterback Steve Davis said, "We had better be ready because these people can play. I read all that junk about them not having played a Wishbone team, but that doesn't make any difference."

Switzer said, "The game will be decided on how well the people involved in it perform. If we give the ball to their eight times, we'll get our tails kicked. Our people will win the game, not our style."

Big Eight representatives Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas lost their bowl games last week, leaving Oklahoma as the conference's only hope of avoiding a bowl shutout.

Schembechler said he isn't viewing the game as a Big Ten-Big Eight show of strength, adding, "This game is between Michigan and Oklahoma."

As to the tarnished Big Eight reputation as the nation's best football league, Schembechler said, "They were good enough to get in bowl games. It's kind of evident they had better teams than about any teams in the country."

Michigan Kicker Bob Wood Visualizes Scoring Big TD

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bob Wood sees himself as Michigan's hero in an Orange Bowl football victory over Oklahoma — not by booting a field goal but by scoring a touchdown.

Coach Bo Schembechler says Wood is dreaming.

"The only way Wood will get in the game as a wide receiver is if they decimate our squad," said Schembechler as he prepared for the New Year's night battle with the Big Eight champion. "And I don't think that will happen."

Wood, a 170-pound junior, had said earlier, "I visualize me playing a lot. I see myself going into the game and catching the winning touchdown or running 50 yards to score."

"I'd like to play, but if Bo says no, that's it," added Wood, who at only 5-foot-8 could progress no farther than second-string tailback for his London, Ohio, high school team.

"Wood's a heck of a kid and a great little athlete," said Schembechler. "If he was only two or three inches taller and 20 pounds heavier, he could play for us. But he's so small, I'd rather he just concentrate on kicking. We need him most there."

Wood converted 11 of 14 field goal attempts this season, a school record, but missed a critical 37-yarder against Ohio State that would have given Michigan a 10-7 halftime lead. Michigan lost, 21-14.

"My primary goal for the season was to kick a field goal against Ohio State," said Wood. "I thought about it all year. I guess I thought about it too much."

Wood decided to attend Michigan because "Ohio State was too close to home," some 20 miles away. He beat the heavy odds against a walk-on player succeeding at a major school.

"I probably could have gone to some small school and played, but I always wanted to go to Ohio State or Michigan," he said. "I knew I couldn't play with those giants, but I had done some kicking in high school and I felt if I worked hard enough, I could kick for Michigan."

He was a backup to Mike Lantry for two years and was red-shirted last year, leaving him with another year of eligibility in 1976.

Size isn't the only reason Schembechler wants Wood to concentrate on kicking.

"We'll go down in history as the great field goal missers," he said in looking back to unsuccessful kicks in the past few seasons. "If not for four or five field goals here or there, Ohio State would never have beat us."

All of Michigan's injured players except defensive end Dan Jilek were back in uniform Monday for the last complete workout for the Orange Bowl game.

Offensive guard Mark Donahue, tackle Bill Dufek, fullback Ron Lytle and wingback Jim Smith were all in pads.

Jilek, who hurt his right knee in a scrimmage last week, ran during the 2½-hour workout and is expected to be ready for the game New Year's night.

The Wolverines work out tonight on their kicking game in the Orange Bowl Stadium. It will be their only chance to practice under the lights for the 8 p.m. game Thursday.

downing LaSalle 88-71.

Indiana, now 9-0, had breezed by Columbia and Manhattan to gain the final at Madison Square Garden. But the 15th-ranked St. John's squad, led by George Johnson with 23 points and 10 rebounds, wouldn't let the Hoosiers pull away.

Finally, May, the Hoosiers' 6-foot-7, All-American forward who was the tournament's most valuable player, popped in a jump shot to give the Hoosiers a 67-65 lead they never again relinquished.

In the VCU tourney at Richmond, Va., Cedric Milton's three-point play gave Michigan State the lead for good with 18:18 left in the first half.

Michigan State boosted its record to 4-4 behind the 22-point scoring of Terry Furlow.

In New Orleans, Pennsylvania blew open a close game against the Buckeyes with a second-half scoring spree by Keven McDonald, who had 32 points for the night. With Craig Taylor pouring in 21 first-half points, Ohio State took a 35-32 halftime lead.

But the Buckeyes attack faded when Taylor, who finished with 27 points, fouled out midway in the second half.

Northwestern's hot-shooting Billy McKinney was held to 18 points by Washington, who advanced to the finals of the Far West Classic.

The young Wildcats, now 4-4, trailed 40-39 with less than 14 minutes to play, but made several key turnovers, then started fouling in desperation.

Wisconsin, meanwhile, blew leads of 12-0 and 17-4, before closing on four free throws by Brian Colbert and three by Pete Brey in the last minute and a half.

The Badgers, now 6-1, play sixth-ranked archrival Marquette in the final tonight. Marquette pulled away in the second half to defeat Miami of Ohio 79-52 earlier Monday.

Freshman Kyle Macy scored 24 to lead the Bolleermakers, now 4-3, but was overshadowed by the Billikens' 6-5 senior forward Louis McKinney, who turned in a 34-point performance.

At Las Vegas, the 17th-ranked Wolverines were paced by Ricky Green's 24 points. Michigan meets Nevada-Las Vegas for the tournament championship tonight.

Michigan, winning its sixth game in seven starts, fashioned a comfortable 47-33 lead at halftime by hitting 20 of their 35 shots and then held on as the Explorers narrowed the margin to within six in the second half.

The 10th-ranked Rebels of host UNLV won the second game of Monday night's twin bill by blasting Houston 116-92 for their 11th straight victory and their 28th consecutive win at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

It was also the eighth game this year and the sixth in a row in which the Rebels have raced past the 100 point mark.

"It should be a great matchup," Michigan Coach Johnny Orr said, anticipating the midnight (EST) showdown.

"The teams are very similar. We both like to run and shoot. Nobody's going to hold the ball in this one."

Three other Wolverines hit double figures, junior forward John Robinson with 13, junior guard Steve Grole with 11 and freshman center Phil Hubbard with 11 points and 13 rebounds.

LaSalle, now 11-4 on the season, received 18 points from forward Mike Arizin.

Bay City All Saints Again Class C Power

Cass, Buchanan In Tough Field

Bay City All Saints has been a Class C basketball power and journey terror the last two campaigns, and it looks like more of the same this season from coach Lefty Franz.

Although hit hard by graduation, including the loss of all-star Bill Harris, All Saints is off to a 5-4 start with seven returning lettermen.

Franz says the team, which is led by 6-6 Jeff Szczepanski, Craig Learman, Mike Nutt and Mark Holka, could be as good as any he's had at All Saints.

But matching the past two seasons will take a Herculean effort. The Cougars have won two straight Class C titles while being ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press poll both seasons. The Cougars stand at 58-2 over the last three campaigns and the eight-year school has an overall 152-18 mark.

Also working against repeat efforts by All Saints is a powerful Class C field, which includes Cassopolis, which lost to the Cougars in the state finals last winter, and Negaunee, which bowed to the defending champs in the tournament semifinals last season.

Among other returning ranked teams with little thoughts are Unionville-Sebewaing, Traverse City St. Francis, Benzonia Benzie Central, Norway, Lakeview and White Cloud.

Several other schools which have dropped from Class B to Class C in classification also figure prominently in the picture. These include Buchanan, West Iron County Carlton, Hemlock, Grandville Calvin Christian and Grand Rapids Forest Hills Northern.

St. Francis is now 5-1 — losing only to River Rouge by two points — while being led by returning all-star Jim Swaney, a 6-6 senior forward.

Benzie Central, ranked No. 5 a year ago, is 6-0 with all-around athlete B.J. Lathwell leading the way.

Norway stands at 4-1 — losing only to Negaunee — while White Cloud is 6-0 and Lakeview 4-0. The Kimichik brothers, Al and Dave, lead Norway, while a top point-maker at White Cloud is Ernie Reigel, the coach's son.

Pre-holiday records for the other newcomers to Class C include West Iron County at 4-0, Carlton 4-0, Hemlock 4-1, Calvin Christian 8-0 and Forest Hills Northern 6-0.

Ray Drake, a transfer from Cassopolis lost all-star Roger Walters through graduation but returns two double figure scorers from last season's No. 7 ranked team — 6-5 Gary Young and 6-3 Kevin Loder. The Rangers are now 5-1, with their only loss being to 8-0 Buchanan, which has three starters back from last winter's Class B regional finalist team. Leading Buchanan is 6-6 Ken Garrett.

Negaunee, which lost to All Saints by two points in last season's tourney, is now 7-0 while being led by three returning starters — Chuck Vercoe, Phil Gleason and Dean Ellis. The defensive-minded Negaunee squad is allowing less than 50 points per game.

Unionville is 5-0 and the only unbeaten team in the Big Thumb Conference. The team, which lost only to All Saints last season, is paced by Dennis Dumekel — the coach's son, Paul Treiber and Bret Bitzer.

St. Francis is now 5-1 — losing only to River Rouge by two points — while being led by returning all-star Jim Swaney, a 6-6 senior forward.

Benzie Central, ranked No. 5 a year ago, is 6-0 with all-around athlete B.J. Lathwell leading the way.

Norway stands at 4-1 — losing only to Negaunee — while White Cloud is 6-0 and Lakeview 4-0. The Kimichik brothers, Al and Dave, lead Norway, while a top point-maker at White Cloud is Ernie Reigel, the coach's son.

Pre-holiday records for the other newcomers to Class C include West Iron County at 4-0, Carlton 4-0, Hemlock 4-1, Calvin Christian 8-0 and Forest Hills Northern 6-0.

Ray Drake, a transfer from Marquette, tops Iron County while Carlton is after its sixth Northern 'B' League title in seven years. Leading Calvin Christian is 6-7 Jim Feyen while Forest Hills is sparked by Dave Kuelen and Mike Hoffman.

A statewide newspaper survey produced another long list of Class C potential powers, including Shelby (5-2), Lansing Catholic Central (5-0), Lansing Catholic Central (4-1), Hancock (6-0), St. Ignace (6-2), New Haven (5

1,000 Saplings Will Be Distributed 'Liberty Trees' From Niles

Off-shoots from an historic stand of Berrien county sugar maples gathered last September have yet to sprout leaves, but some folks are already forecasting a healthy crop of "Centennial - Bicentennial" seedlings by May.

That's when the Michigan Bicentennial Commission plans to distribute about 1,000 of the sapling-size "liberty trees" to community groups statewide as a commemorative project during America's 200th birthday year.

The saplings are being raised this winter through an accelerated growth process by foresters at Michigan State University, in cooperation with the Department of Natural Resources, and should be 18 inches tall by planting time.

Lieutenant governor James J. Dattman headed the list of prominent state officials who plucked the seeds from a Niles area farm from trees planted in 1876 in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Orders for the saplings must be received by the DNR's Forestry Division, however, by Jan. 15, says James A. Bryant, the department's bicentennial coordinator.

"A first-come, first-served basis is being used to fill the orders, so local bicentennial committees should hurry if they are interested," notes Bryant. "There is no cost for the seedlings, although we are notifying customers that a $1.50 shipping cost per tree may be set at the time of shipping because of the current state fiscal situation. All orders will be acknowledged by March 15."

Bryant adds that orders should be made directly to the DNR Forestry Division, 474 Hollister Building, Lansing 48926.

Some seedlings will be planted on the State Capitol lawn in downtown Lansing, while others will be planted at the State Secondary Complex in Eaton county, and at several state parks.

"In September, Lieutenant governor Dattman probably captured the spirit of this project when he observed, 'A simple, very personal act 100 years ago, requiring considerable effort and a tremendous feeling of patriotism, is now bearing rewards for this and future generations to enjoy,'" says Bryant. "Hopefully, ceremonial plantings of these Centennial - Bicentennial seedlings will add an extra measure of significance and meaning to activities of community groups during this historic year."

Area Ice Fishing Finally Underway

Freezing weekend temperatures finally made most southwestern Michigan lakes safe for ice fishing.

The cold weather, if it continues, comes just in time for Thursday's opening of the two-month spearing season for northern pike and rough fish.

There have been no reports of outstanding catches by hook and line anglers, but top baits again are cornbore and minnows.

Elsewhere on the fishing

scene, the Department of Natural Resources expects a major thrust for steelhead after the first of the year on the St. Joseph River in Berrien county and the Black River in Van Buren county.

Meanwhile, the bow season for deer ends Wednesday and the put-and-take pheasant season concludes Sunday, Jan. 4.

Hunters are already turning their attention to rabbits.

Bendix' Side-Looking Sonar Counts Salmon

A new side-looking sonar system is being used by the Alaska Department of Fish and Game to preserve the sockeye salmon population of the state.

The system is a fish counter developed by Al Menin, an engineer at the Bendix Electronics Division in North Hollywood, Calif.

Last year Menin devised an underwater hi-fi system that scares hungry Beluga whales from the mouths of Alaskan rivers. The whales had been gobbling up sockeye salmon during spawning runs.

The side-looking sonar employs a narrow-beam transducer that sends a sound through the water and "listens" for the echoes made by passing salmon. The echoes are recorded on magnetic tape and the image printed out on a paper tape for additional analysis.

Heading upstream to spawn, the salmon are thus counted as part of the department's fish management program. The counts are used to achieve the proper balance between catches of commercial fishermen and a supply of survivors to ensure adequate spawning activity.

Menin's side scanner was installed in the Kenai River at Soldotna near a bottom-mounted, 30-transducer sonar system that has been used for several years to count sockeye salmon. A 96 per cent correlation between the two independent systems was observed during tests.

In addition to being more compact and reliable than the bottom-mounted system, the side scanner can also be used in streams where high water velocity and debris precludes use of the 30-transducer unit.

According to Tom Namtvedt, commercial fisheries research biologist for the fish and game department, another side scanner has been ordered for use in Cook Inlet and elsewhere in the state to replace test fishing.

Last year the Alaska Department ordered 10 Beluga whale spookers developed by Menin. The underwater hi-fi sets play recordings of killer whale voices, which the Beluga whale fears. They are being used to scare Beluga whales from the mouths of Alaskan rivers where they were eating up sockeye salmon as they entered the rivers to spawn.

Snowmobiling Starts

Snowmobiling is now open on state park lands (four inches of snow required) in southwestern Michigan, as well as on the leased trail from Barry into Kent counties. Designated areas on state game lands open for snowmobiling Thursday.

"Care of Animals During Winter Weather"

Even though water will freeze in the winter, it is still a good idea to provide your dog with fresh water daily. At least this allows him the opportunity to drink the much needed water before it does freeze.

It is true that animals will lick snow and gain their water in this manner-but how about when there isn't any snow? FRESH WATER DAILY—THEN IS A MUST!!!!

Be careful that dogs do not eat snow that has had road salt thrown onto it as this can prove quite dangerous to the animal.

Check to see that a dog's food doesn't freeze. This is quite possible, especially if the animal was not hungry when you put out his food. If it has frozen, bring it back into the house so that it can thaw out and then serve it to the animal later.

Fur Prices Very Good

Raw fur prices are very good in southwestern Michigan this year and spurring a lot of trapping activity.

Some prices from a recent fur sale at Jackson include:

Fox — top, $69; average, $36-$64; range, $44-$69.

Raccoon — top, $32; average, $24-$28; range, $16-$32.

Muskrat — top, $4.60; average, $3.85; range, $3.20-$4.60.

Skunk — average, $2.50.

Coyote — top, $27; average, $22-$24; range, $20-$27.

Mink — Top, $8-$12 for males and $4-$5 for females.

Numbers High

Winter waterfowl numbers continue high at the Allegan State Game Area. The Department of Natural Resources reports about 11,000 Canada geese and 11,500 ducks are continuing to take refuge at the game area's Fenwick farm unit.

State-Operated Porcupine Skiing Area Has Additions

"Ski the Porkies," advises the Department of Natural Resources, but only if you seek the raw challenge of a unique outdoor area where steep, winding slopes race toward the icy shores of western Lake Superior.

The ski area at Porcupine Mountains Wilderness State Park boasts rugged slopes up to 6,000 feet long for advanced skiers, and mellow ones for beginners, with everything including cross-country skiing trails in between, says Dave Balbough, park manager.

The winter skiing season here is only a week old, but it has already been a good one," notes Balbough. "All of our snow is natural — we don't need snow-making equipment in this part of Michigan — and our base ranges from 10 inches on the open slopes to 30 inches on some of our interior cross-country trails."

Nearly 52,000 skiers visited the park last winter, he adds, while predictions this year are for even greater numbers.

One big reason is the 5,000-square-foot addition to the park's main warming house-snack bar that is expected to open in January, including a cozy fireplace and dining area, says Balbough. Expanded parking for 654 cars (doubled in size from the 1973 season) was completed a year ago.

"A few primitive campsites will be kept open throughout the season across the road (M-107) from the ski hill, but aside from these there are no overnight accommodations available at the ski area," Balbough states.

"Most out-of-town visitors generally stay in nearby Silver City, White Pine or Ontonagon, although lodging arrangements should be made in advance. Outside of those communities, the nearest rooms are 30 miles away."

The only state-operated ski facility in Michigan, the Porcupine Mountains area is considered "the finest skiing slopes in the Midwest by many ski experts," observes Balbough, park manager since 1964.

Park facilities include two tow ropes, serving the main open slope; a double T-bar, opening five intermediate and advanced slopes, with a capacity of 1,200 riders an hour; and a double chairlift (with a vertical rise of 344 feet), traveling 2,800 feet with access to three advanced trails and an intermediate trail over 6,000 feet in length.

Fees, in addition to a required State Park Motor Vehicle Permit, are $4.50 daily or $40 seasonal for adults; $2.50 daily or $25 seasonal for persons under age 18 or over age 62.

Hardke 1st President

Leonard Hardke of Benton Harbor has been named the first president of the new Southwestern Michigan Chapter of the Michigan Steelhead and Salmon Fishermen's Association.

Joe Kimmerly of Niles is vice president. Bill Hoffman of Stevensville secretary and Jim

Doan of Stevensville treasurer.

Directors include Dick Bell, Walt Olmslead, Gary Troop, Chuck Knipschild, Walt Pettigrew, Dick Willard, Paul Mallonee, Don Troop and Charlie Williamson.

The area chapter now has about 250 charter members.

Will Kill Wolves To Aid Moose

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Armed biologists flying in helicopters will be deployed early next year to kill wolves preying on moose herds in three areas of Alaska.

The State Board of Game on Thursday approved the plan, which has drawn a flood of protests from conservation groups across the nation.

The wolf-control program will begin during mid-February in two game management units south of Fairbanks and a third near Yakutat if the weather is right.

Skiing Starts

Cross country skiing is now underway on the marked trails on the Allegan State Game Area.

Few Bucks Killed During Muzzle-Loading Season

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Few bucks were killed by muzzle-loaders during their special 10-day deer hunting season, the state's top wildlife official says.

"The effect of the hunt by muzzle-loaders on the deer herd is minimal at best, but we can't measure the harvest with any assurance because we don't know how many muzzle-loaders went afield," said David Jenkins, chief of the Department of Natural Resources' Wildlife Division.

Butterflies' Status Studied

Even butterflies are entitled to their spot in Mother Nature's realm.

At least, that's the thinking of U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service officials who believe a number of the beautiful little creatures are possibly threatened or may even be in danger of extinction.

They intend to find out the status of 41 species of butterflies, even though they know some will call the plan of insect-brained bureaucrats to make another raid against the taxpayer.

Only 1,107 permits were issued to the muzzle-loaders, who use black powder and a round ball like hunters used 200 years ago. Another 100,000 hunters with annual licenses were allowed to use the old fashioned weapons during the season, Dec. 4-15.

Jenkins said dates for next year's muzzle-loaders season won't be set until mid-1976.

The federal study covers 26 states — including Michigan — and Cuba, Canada and Mexico.

Most of the butterflies under consideration owe their reduced populations to two related problems — dependence on one primary food and land development.

All interested parties are requested to submit any factual information which is germane to this review to the Director, Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Department of Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240.

Michigan Minimum Per Hour Going Up

LANSING — A 20-cent an hour increase in the state's minimum wage to $2.20 an hour takes effect Jan. 1, according to Keith Molin, director of the Michigan Department of Labor.

Workers eligible for the increase from the current $2 an hour are individuals between ages 18 and 65 who are working for employers who employ four or more employees at any one time within a calendar year. Minors age 16 and over who are employed in or about the area where beverage alcohol is consumed, distributed at retail or sold for consumption on the premises are also covered by the State minimum wage.

Increases in piece rates for farm labor harvest operations required to be paid to agricultural employees were also announced. Farm laborers between ages 18 and 65 paid on an hourly basis rather than a piece rate basis must also be paid at least $2.20 an hour as of Jan. 1.

Molin also announced that tipped employees who receive and report tips to their employers must be paid a cash wage of not less than $1.65 an hour as of Jan. 1. The present tip credit of 15 per cent allowed to be taken by an employer was increased to 25 per cent effective Jan. 1. Molin emphasized that employers utilizing the full 25 per cent tip credit cannot take any deductions for meals or lodging since the statute prohibits the taking of total deductions of more than 25 per cent of the hourly wage rate.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Liquid Reserves For The Student

Q. There seem to be many ways to maintain liquid reserves these days — Treasury bills and notes, bankers' acceptances, commercial paper. Which is the most liquid and safest? What kind of investment would you suggest for a 20-year-old college student with $30,000 available? The money is not needed for college costs.

A. The most liquid, "dollar-safe" investment, to my way of thinking, is a day-to-day savings account in a bank insured by FDIC or in a savings and loan insured by FSLIC. I don't see how you can beat that: the money is insured by a government agency and it is there any time you want it.

A Treasury bill is, of course, just as safe — being guaranteed by the U.S. Government. The money can be invested for a week, two weeks, a month or up to a year, with no question but that you will get the face amount of the bill when it comes due. Of course, if you liquidate it before maturity, you will have to take your chances in the marketplace — although a short-term bill is not going to fluctuate much.

Bankers' acceptances and commercial paper are as good as the bank and the issuing corporation standing behind them.

None of these, it seems to me, would be the "ideal" investment for 100 per cent of a young man's money, especially money he does not need now, nor in the foreseeable future.

A savings account, of course, is a "must." Part of your funds should always be available for emergency purposes. But at least two-thirds should be invested in high grade, growth-type equities. At 20, you have years ahead of you in which to hope for economic growth, and time is, perhaps, the most important investment ingredient — once you've selected a quality company.

Q. We're getting $30 a month, clear, from a rented house. Should we hold on?

A. I have no way of knowing since you don't tell me what the house is worth, how much money you have in it, whether the depreciation means anything to you in your tax bracket, etc.

Q. What investments would you suggest for a person just retired?

A. Retired at age 55? 60? 75? With wife? With four children in college? With only Social Security? Or $25,000 a year pension from former employer?

With $5,000 capital? Or with $500,000 capital?

Q. I am a lady in my mid-60s. I dropped into a brokerage firm to ask about AAA and AA quality corporate bonds. The salesman suggested a bond type mutual fund. He promised 10 per cent with tax-free withdrawals and said a person in my circumstances would be better off with the fund.

A. And, incidentally, so would he.

If you put $10,000 into some triple-A bonds you would pay him a commission of somewhere between $25 and $50. If you buy $10,000 worth of the bond fund, the commission will come to $40. O.K. — salesmen have to live, too.

But what's this malarkey about a "promised 10 per cent" and just what is a "tax-free withdrawal"? Where do you pay a tax when you withdraw your own money? Interest withdrawn would be taxable.

Now that I've worked off a bit of temper I can take time to point out that it's a good bond fund, that for the extra $400 or so of commission (plus a continuing annual fee of about 1/2 of 1 per cent) you will get professional management of your funds, and safekeeping of your securities. You can get a monthly income check. And you can take your money out at any time — at no commission, at current asset value, which means your money is subject to bond market fluctuations, just as it would be if you invested it yourself.

So it all boils down to your paying a few hundred extra dollars of buying commission, plus the annual management fee for a service which may well be worthwhile if you don't want to do the investing and safekeeping and management yourself.

All I want is that you understand what you are paying for what you are getting.

Market Moves Upward

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved ahead again today, building on last week's gains.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials showed a gain of more than a point in the early going, and advancing issues took a 4-1 lead over declines on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said it appeared money was flowing into the market from investors who had held back earlier in the month to let year-end tax selling run its course.

They also cited last-minute buying by investing institutions reworking their portfolios for end-of-the-year reports.

A favorable force in the background was the recent decline of interest rates, most notably in a spirited price rally in the bond market.

Today's early prices included Westinghouse Electric, unchanged at 13 1/2; Union Carbide, off 1/8 at 61; Citicorp, up 3/8 at 30 1/2; and General Telephone & Electronics, ahead 1/8 at 25 1/2.

On Friday the Dow Jones industrial average rose 7.87 to 859.81, stretching its gain for the week to 15.43 points.

Gainers outdistanced losers by more than a 3-1 margin on the NYSE, and the exchange's composite index was up .42 at 47.60.

Big Board volume, at 10.20 million shares, was the highest total in more than three months.

Brokers noted that many investors took an extra day off after Christmas Thursday.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index rose .22 to 82.58.

Kazoo Man Bludgeoned To Death

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Authorities said today they were seeking a motive and a weapon in the weekend slaying of a 61-year-old Kalamazoo man.

Friends found the body of Joseph Stanchik on the floor of his home Sunday afternoon. His head had been battered with an unidentified blunt instrument, police said.

An autopsy performed Sunday night showed Stanchik was bludgeoned to death.

Michigan Man Dies In Crash

MOUNT OLIVET, Ky. (AP) — Donald P. Dierkes, 33, of Southfield, Mich., died Sunday when his single-engine plane crashed in Northern Kentucky, officials said.

State Police said witnesses reported that the plane caught fire in the air and exploded when it crashed in a field near the Central Ridge Road, 4 1/2 miles north of Mount Olivet in Robertson County.

Jobless Figure Credibility Questioned

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of four columns about the criticism of official government employment figures.

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Criticism of the government's official employment statistics is growing among the professionals who use them, with some openly claiming the extent of job distress is understated by many hundreds of thousands, even millions.

If true, the consequences are almost immeasurably vast, distorting economic planning, government policy decisions, political strategy, revenue sharing and prospects for the jobless themselves.

The statistics have defenders too, but the claims by some critics appear to be so telling that the general credibility of the monthly figures could be severely damaged.

Strong sentiment exists among some economists for a high-level review of concepts and procedures, and it appears to be growing.

Although he defends the figures as sound, Julius Shiskin, the commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, is among those seeking a review. He said the matter is now at the White House for consideration.

Also seeking a review is Prof. Robert A. Gordon, who headed the most recent study of the job figures — the Committee to Appraise Employment and Unemployment Statistics. It was established by President John Kennedy in 1961.

Gordon, who completed today his term as president of the American Economic Association, observes that hundreds of millions of dollars in revenue sharing is distributed on the basis of local job figures that cannot be fully trusted.

Much of the general criticism is centered on interpretations used in formulating the official jobless rate figure, but it extends far beyond that to include the techniques employed and the accuracy of the raw data.

The BLS itself notes that in most of 1975 more than 1.1 million jobless Americans were excluded from both the labor force and the unemployment figures because they were discouraged and not actively seeking jobs at survey time.

In addition, many hundreds of thousands of people in temporary government work projects, who would have been counted as jobless a decade ago, were considered employed because of changes in standards, one of which — in 1965 — appears never to have been announced publicly.

These factors, and one other definitional change, would have pushed the 9.2 per cent peak of unemployment, reached last May, to near 11 per cent, and November's 8.3 per cent rate close to 10 per cent.

Prof. Charles C. Killingsworth of Michigan State University, an esteemed authority on labor, contends that even some so-called experts are unaware of statistical deficiencies, and thus compound the impact.

One common mistake, for example, is to attribute a declining jobless rate during the late 1960s to the effect of fiscal and monetary policy, when in fact much of the decline resulted from definitional changes and other factors.

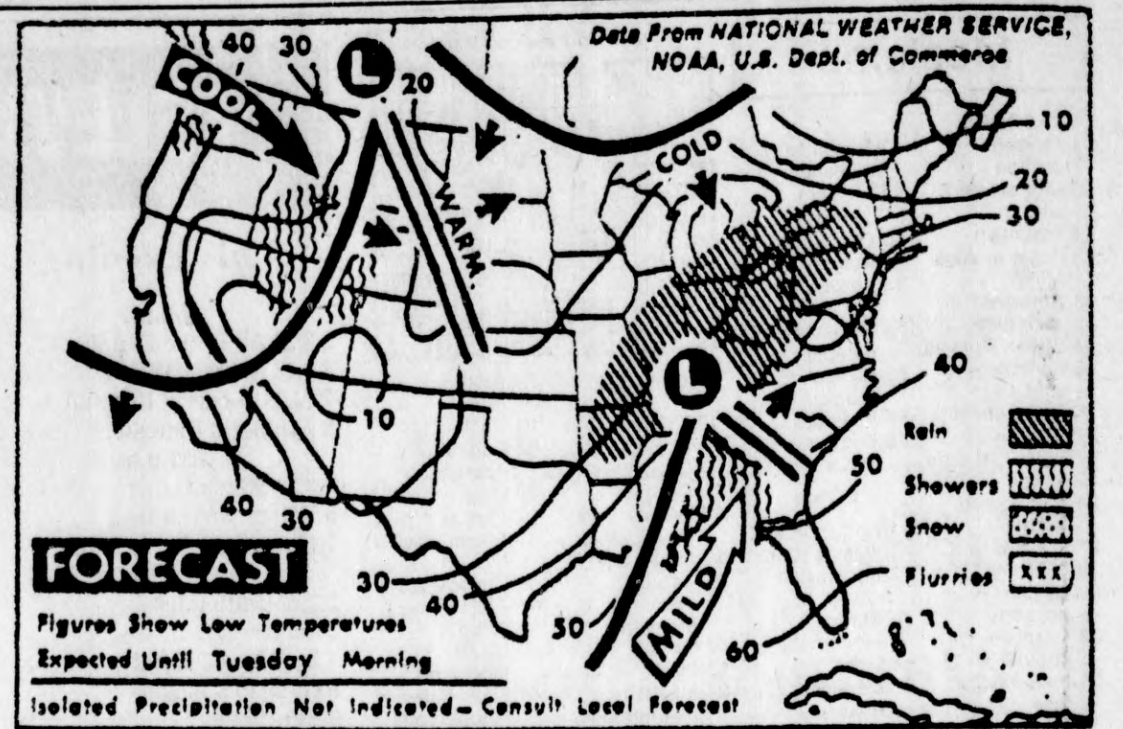

One of these factors was a military draft that took 900,000 young men out of the labor force directly, and, says Killingsworth, "drove thousands — between 100,000 and 200,000 at one point — into schools."

Econometric model makers, who construct numerical equations of the economy and how it interacts, erroneously assumed the changes were caused solely by fiscal-monetary policy, and thus reached misleading conclusions.

Similar errors are being made again today, he said. From a recession low point last March, the work force has expanded by 1.5 million jobs. Even academics and government officials tend to think of these jobs as market-generated.

The fact, says Killingsworth, is that one-third of the improvement has been in publicly supported work programs supported by federal funds to help provide work for the unemployed during economically difficult times.

"These jobs have nothing to do with economic recovery and expansion, but they are in-

Better Check Your Van Before Driving Away

HAYS, Kan. (AP) — It took two tries and 50 miles of driving to convince him, but a Colby, Kan. man was finally persuaded Sunday that he had left his wife and daughter behind at a stop near Ellsworth, authorities said. Highway patrol troopers stopped Terry Schneider in Russell, after receiving a call from Mrs. Schneider saying that her husband had left her and her daughter behind when he drove from the highway stop. According to the patrol, Schneider told officers the first time he was stopped that he had not let anyone off and continued driving westward on Interstate 70. The troopers again stopped Schneider near Toulon, between Russell and Hays. He told them his wife and daughter were in the back of the van asleep. After checking and finding his family missing from the van, Schneider drove back to the highway stop to get them.

Detroit News Ups Sunday Price To 50c

DETROIT (AP) — The price of the Sunday Detroit News will rise to 50 cents next week.

In announcing the increase, the News said continuing inflation has forced an increase in costs of producing and distributing the paper, thus making the 10-cent increase necessary.

The move is in line with a price increase which went into effect this weekend for the Sunday edition of the Detroit Free Press, which also now costs 50 cents.

Weekend editions of both major metropolitan dailies will remain 15 cents.

ALL ABOUT FOODS

BEEF CUTS

An average steer, weighing approximately 1,000 pounds, yields about 75 pounds of porterhouse, T-bone, club and sirloin steaks. The same steer produces over three times as much of the less tender beef cuts—round, chuck, rump and beef for stew.

Beef varies in quality meat. Therefore, to be certain of tender, juicy steaks, you should know about cuts and grades. But regardless of the grade, some cuts of beef are naturally more tender than others.

Cuts from the less-used muscles along the back of the animal—the rib and loin sections—will always be more tender than those from the active muscles, such as the shoulder (chuck), flank.

In the past, steaks given beef cuts sometimes varied from store to store and in different parts of the country. However, this is no longer the case and we will talk about this change later in another article.

Regardless of the name, the bone in the cut still helps to identify the grade of meat. For example, the T-bone and rib bone indicates tender cuts, while a round bone, such as that in the arm chuck, means a less tender cut.

Incidentally, the most tender of all steaks, the tenderloin has no bone and very little fat. The steaks cut from the eye of the beef rib is also tender. It has a well developed flavor and is very tender.

If you're the average American, you will eat over 100 pounds of beef this year. In fact, you will eat about 170 pounds of beef, pork, veal and lamb.

In summary, for the best savings, the meats here at Schneck's are priced and cut just the way you want them.

AREA POLICE ROUNDUP

Injured Man Tells Of Robbery

A Benton Harbor man was hospitalized with head wounds allegedly inflicted by three men who stole his wallet containing $75 early Sunday.

Reported to be in "serious" condition this morning at Mercy hospital was John W. Tuell, 51, of 281½ Pleasant street.

City police were notified at 12:47 a.m. by Tuell's landlord, Mary Selvidge, 283 Pleasant.

She told police Tuell knocked on her door, seeking help after the attack.

Police said evidence showed the attack occurred on the street in the 200 block of Pleasant, where a knife and broken bottle were found. Tuell received multiple lacerations about the head, police said.

Household goods valued at $1,400 were reported stolen from the Norman Hoopes residence, 1106 Trail lane, St. Joseph township, according to township police.

It was one of four thefts reported over the weekend to St. Joseph township and Benton Harbor police.

Hoopes listed the loot as jewelry, a stereo set and assorted coins. Police said the valuables were stolen during the Christmas holiday while the Hoopes family was away.

Thefts investigated by Benton Harbor police over the weekend were:

—A portable television, valued at $300, from the home of Curtis Reynolds, 879 Columbus avenue.

—Auto parts, valued at $145, from the car of Tom McKeller, 979 Highland avenue.

Windows at a Benton Harbor laundromat and in two cars were reported hit by BBs or pellets Sunday evening, city police said.

BB or pellet holes were found in six windows at the Clean Queen laundromat, 400 South Fair avenue, police indicated. Witnesses told police a red Ford Pinto, with four or five people inside, was seen driving slowly by during the shooting, then sped away. Police said the incident occurred about 9:10 p.m.

Ewell Cornell, 1334 Broadway street, Fairplain, said his 1976 Buick sustained a cracked windshield, apparently from the shooting. His car was parked in the lot at the laundromat.

In another incident, Joseph Franklin, route 3, box 197, Coloma, told Benton Harbor police his 1975 Chevrolet, parked at the rear of 399 Britain avenue, sustained a shattered window on the driver's side. Police indicated the damage came from either BBs or pellets.

Benton Harbor police last week confiscated BB guns from four boys after windows were broken in a house on Jefferson street. Also reported broken last week were windows at Benton Harbor junior high.

A Coloma township man was arrested by Benton township police early today on a charge of breaking and entering a home at 426 Collins avenue.

Booked at the Berrien county jail was Larry Michael Yerrington, 32, of 4009 Atherton drive. Police said Carol Newton, 426 Collins, reported a man broke into her home about 2:40 a.m.

Police reported Yerrington's car was stopped at the intersection of Collins and North Shore drive and police said he was treated for a cut hand at Mercy hospital, then released to police custody. Nothing was reported taken from the Newton home, police indicated.

A security guard at Benton Harbor high school told city police Sunday a door to the school had been pried open, but police said nothing appeared to be missing. The guard, Vertis McManus, said he found a door on the west side of the school, 870 Colfax avenue, pried open about 11:30 p.m. Police said school officials were to determine today if anything was taken.

Two Benton Harbor men were arrested by state police of the Benton Harbor post Sunday on charges of violation of the controlled substance act (possession of marijuana).

Booked at the Berrien county

Stereo And Tapes Stolen At Paw Paw

PAW PAW — State police here said a stereo system and 25 tapes valued at a total of $440 were reported stolen Saturday night from the residence of Howard Melson, route 1, 38th street, Paw Paw.

Mrs. Melson told troopers she left the house about 5 p.m. and discovered the stereo and tapes missing when she returned at 10 p.m. Police said entrance was gained by kicking in a rear door

Mailboxes Tossed Off Overpass

Damage Two Cars On I-94

PAW PAW — Two cars were damaged after being struck by rural mailboxes thrown from the CR-653 overpass while traveling on I-94 east of here early Sunday morning, according to state police at Paw Paw. Police said a car driven by David K. Knapp of Kalamazoo was damaged when a mailbox was hurled from the overpass, struck the hood, and bounced back, breaking the windshield. The roof of a car operated by John Bettenbender of Detroit was also damaged when struck by a mailbox near the same spot, police said. Troopers said they received both complaints about 4 a.m. and that neither driver was injured.

A total of 10 mailboxes, with rural Paw Paw and Mattawan addresses were found near the CR-653 and CR-657 overpasses on I-94 following the complaints, police said. Troopers said they had no suspects in either the theft of the mailboxes or the damage to the cars.

GLENDORA BARN DESTROYED: One-story frame barn of Bob Kerns, route 2, Buchanan, located west of Glendora on Glendora road in Weesaw township, was destroyed in fire early yesterday. Weesaw township firemen, assisted by Galien and Baroda firemen, battled blaze that was reported about 4 a.m. No cause for fire has been determined. (Staff photo)

Burma President Breaks Up Party

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — President Ford and Ronald Reagan will meet in the Illinois Republican presidential preference primary on March 18, and four Democrats will compete on their party's ballot. The filing period closed Monday for spots on the ballot in the third primary contest in 1976. Petitions were submitted Monday on behalf of R. Sargent Shriver, the 1972 Democratic candidate for vice president and a former Chicago school official. Shriver will face former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, Alabama Gov. George Wallace and former Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris in the nonbinding Democratic contest.

Primary Slates Set In Illinois

NEW YORK (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz has told Special State Prosecutor Maurice Nadjari to continue working for another six months to wind up what Nadjari says are important pending cases. Nadjari, ordered out last week by Gov. Hugh L. Carey, was appointed by former Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in 1972 to investigate corruption in New York City's criminal justice system after the Knapp commission said the corruption was widespread.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Stocks Continue Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — Some light profit taking took stock prices lower today following steady gains in the previous three weeks.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down fractionally, as losers topped leading economic indicators — which is supposed to show how well the economy will be doing in the coming months — turned upward by 0.4 per cent in November following two straight declining months.

And as the market was closing Monday night, the Federal Reserve said the nation's money supply dipped $1 billion.

Advances held a narrow lead over declines on the Big Board, where volume totaled a moderate 17.07 million shares.

Foreign Minister Of Mexico Quits

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Foreign Minister Emilio O. Rabasa has resigned in the midst of a foreign policy controversy over Mexico's votes in the United Nations against Zionism.

President Luis Echeverria, who sets the policy, named Alfonso Garcia Robles to succeed Rabasa. Garcia Robles has been Mexico's ambassador to the United Nations since 1971, and his resignation cast the votes in the U.N. General Assembly that are responsible for the controversy.

MAYOR CHARLES JOSEPH

$25,000 SALARY FOR MAYOR?

Morrison Ousted As BH City Manager

Shortly after swearing in two new commissioners last night, the Benton Harbor city commission voted 5 to 4 not to renew the contract of City Manager Charles Morrison.

The motion not to renew Morrison's contract, which expires tomorrow, was made by Charles Shepherd, who was sworn in less than an hour earlier as Second Ward commissioner.

Firing of Morrison culminated a wide rift between Mayor Charles F. Joseph and the city manager.

"The mayor has been trying to get rid of him for two years now," Commissioner Charles Yarbrough shouted. "This is stupid. In fact this is criminal."

Joseph ruled Yarbrough out of order. But in the midst of debate Yarbrough held up a memorandum from the city compensation board which he said recommends a $25,000 annual salary for the mayor.

Newly-elected Commissioner Shepherd is a member of the compensation board which is empowered to make salary recommendations for elected officials. He was one of three board members who signed the recommendation to give the mayor the salary.

Voting not to renew Morrison's contract were Shepherd, Mayor Joseph, Commissioners Alfred Williams, Winston Minott, and Barbara Huckaby. Voting against termination were Commissioners Edmund Eaman, F. Joseph Flough, Arnold Bolin and Yarbrough.

Shepherd offered no reason in reading a prepared resolution calling for the termination of Morrison's contract. When pressed by Commissioner Bolin, Shepherd said he made the resolution because "that's the way I feel." He told reporters after the meeting that he did not cite any charges against Morrison because "digging dirt was not going to help him (Morrison) anyway."

Shepherd and Mrs. Huckaby, who were both installed as new commissioners last night, were members of the "Clean Slate" group of candidates headed by Mayor Joseph in the Nov. 4 city election.

Shepherd won the Second Ward commission seat by defeating Carl Brown who opposed Joseph on many issues. Shepherd's election gave Joseph the 5 to 4 vote to dump Morrison.

Commissioner Bolin said after the meeting: "It is obvious that there has been considerable collusion and planning among the commission members who voted in favor of firing the city manager."

A move by Commissioner Eaman to table Shepherd's resolution was defeated by the same 5 to 4 vote. In calling for the table, Eaman noted that the commission had approved a seven per cent pay increase for Morrison last week. Eight commissioners voted for the raise and Mayor Joseph abstained.

Joseph had tried to oust Morrison earlier this year. In June, Joseph suggested that Morrison's contract be terminated. Morrison resigned a week later when a vote of confidence failed in a tie vote. He later decided to stay after the commission refused to accept his resignation by a 4 to 3 vote.

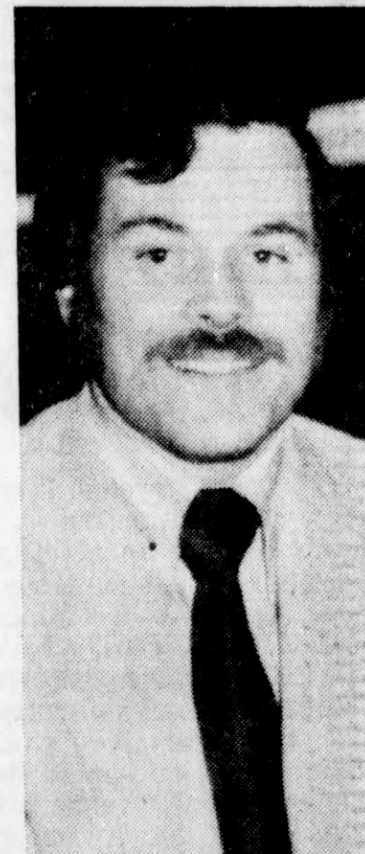

Commissioner Williams, who supported Shepherd's resolution, said last night that the vote to terminate Morrison's contract was qualified because "he has already resigned once and since then has been seeking other employment."

Williams also introduced a letter from Al Matthews Jr., who stated in the letter that he was "disappointed with city staff and officials because he was turned down for a job" as assistant personnel director for the city recently. Matthews, of 956 Superior street, Benton Harbor, said the city should set a higher priority on hiring local youth for city jobs.

Morrison, 30, was hired by the city commission in February, 1973. Terms of the contract called for his intention of remaining on the job until Dec. 31, 1975. Mayor Joseph voted for hiring of Morrison

AIRPORT BOMB KILLS 11 IN NYC

It's Work Of 'Maniacs,' Says Mayor

By TOM KELLY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A thunderous explosion from a bomb placed in a locker sent a shrapnel shower of glass and metal through a crowded baggage area at LaGuardia Airport.

At least 11 persons were killed and more than 50 others injured.

The blast, which officials said had the force of 20 to 25 sticks of dynamite and was meant to "maim and kill," reduced the baggage area to rubble Monday evening and sent dozens of persons fleeing in panic.

The airport was quickly evacuated and closed to all traffic shortly after the 6:33 p.m. explosion, forcing the cancellation or diversion of at least 45 flights and fouling the plans of some 5,000 travelers. The airport will be closed until at least 10 p.m. today.

As workers searched the debris, there were reports of as many as 14 deaths, but police at the airport said they could not confirm more than 11.

The disaster also triggered bogus bomb threats at airports in other major cities. Three, including Washington's National Airport, were evacuated.

"It was the most heart-sickening thing I ever saw in my life," said Richard Siemers, who was about to see his daughter's family off to Tulsa, Okla. "Bodies were all over . . . puddles of blood on the island between the building and the parking lot . . . it seemed like everyone was in shock."

The explosion set off a smoky fire in the baggage area shared by Trans World and Delta airlines, but officials said that flying glass and metal accounted for most of the deaths and injuries. Metal doors were ripped away and glass from 10-foot high windows was found the equivalent of several city blocks from the blast.

Shirley Barker of Brooklyn, who was waiting for her sister to arrive from Kansas, was still sobbing as she recalled "the big noise and glass shattering."

"Women and children were screaming," she said. "And then a woman next to me was just dead, bleeding all over."

Eight of the injured were seriously hurt and rushed to operating rooms in local hospitals. In addition to the 52 persons reported hurt, another score of persons was treated at the scene or area hospitals but not reported in official figures.

The dead and injured were not immediately identified, except for Jeff McMurtrey, 30, an FBI agent, who was reported in serious condition after emergency surgery.

No call or advance warning preceded the blast, but in the hours that followed, police and news organizations received a number of calls from persons claiming different groups were responsible. These ranged from the Palestine Liberation Organization to Puerto Rican terrorists and a Mafia gang.

Police officials said they began looking for two men in their late teens or early 20s after witnesses said two men fitting that description had run from the building minutes before the blast.

Hoax bomb threats at airport terminals in Washington, Cleveland and St. Louis forced the evacuation of passengers while police with explosive-sniffing dogs combed the buildings. Other calls were received at airports in Detroit, Denver, Los Angeles, Chicago, Indianapolis and New Haven, Conn.

He said the bodies were discovered after officials of the Michigan Department of Highways and Transportation, where Pierce worked as an accountant and his wife worked as a clerk, called authorities Monday morning when friends in Florida made inquiries about them.

They had been married only a short time, sources said.

the police bomb section, said that the blast was "one of the largest ever to go off in New York City" and killed the most people.

"The average bomb in the city has a force of 5 to 10 sticks of dynamite," he said. "This one had the force of 20 to 25 sticks."

The fire started by the blast burned for more than an hour before being brought under control.

TWA employee Nick Douglas, said that the explosion "sounded like a bomb blast during the war. Walls were shattered all over and people were running from the building, screaming and crying."

Boy, 15, Held In Deaths Of Calhoun County Couple

DUCK LAKE, Mich. (AP) — A 15-year-old boy has been arrested in connection with the deaths of a Duck Lake couple whose bodies were found in their lakeside home Monday, according to Calhoun County Sheriff Roger Dean.

Dean said the boy, who was not identified because of his age, was arrested at his home in Clarence Township about a mile from Duck Lake several hours after the bodies of Francis J. Pierce, 50, and his wife, Diane, 32, were found in the bedroom of their home about 12 miles north of Albion.

Dean said two snowmobiles which had been stolen from the couple's home earlier were found at the boy's residence when he was taken into custody. He said the youth would appear in Calhoun County Juvenile Court on Tuesday and that deputies would request a waiver of the case to adult court.

Dean said Mrs. Pierce was apparently shot at close range with a shotgun and that Pierce was bludgeoned to death. The hands of both victims were taped behind their backs, the sheriff said. He said the pair probably was slain Friday night, and that authorities believe they may have interrupted a burglary attempt.

The Pierces had planned to fly to Miami on Saturday for the Orange Bowl football game, Dean said.

He said the bodies were discovered after officials of the Michigan Department of Highways and Transportation, where Pierce worked as an accountant and his wife worked as a clerk, called authorities Monday morning when friends in Florida made inquiries about them.

They had been married only a short time, sources said.

Dean said the year-round home was in a moderately priced, well-populated section of the lakefront.

Hayes was among seven people appointed to the advisory council, which advises a special state department aiding minority businesses. The appointments require approval by the state Senate.

Today's Last Day Of 10-Cent Letters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service is raising the cost of mailing a letter from 10 to 13 cents on Wednesday, three days after it originally planned to increase postal rates.

The service announced the higher rates on Monday after the U.S. Court of Appeals cleared a legal barrier to the rate increase.

The appeals court stayed an order by U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica prohibiting the Postal Service from raising rates. The higher court is expected to decide later on the merits of the case, but the stay allows postal rates to go up in the meantime.

Under the rates that take effect at 12:01 a.m. local time Wednesday, a first-class letter will cost 13 cents for the first ounce and 11 cents for each additional ounce. A postcard will increase from 7 to 9 cents and parcel post rates will go up an average of 10.1 per cent.

Other increases are 22.1 per cent for second class mail and 23.9 per cent for third-class bulk rates.

The three-judge appeals court issued the stay after a government lawyer said the Postal Service would be unable to meet its Feb. 6 payroll if it were not allowed an immediate postal rate increase.

Under present rates, the Postal Service is losing $7 million per day. Even with the higher rates, the Postal Service expects to have its highest deficit in history during this fiscal year.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar has said that the Postal Service's chronic deficit may lead to reductions in service, including elimination of Saturday deliveries and special delivery.

Justice Department lawyer Neil Koslowe, representing the Postal Service, said Sirica's ruling would create a crisis for the service if allowed to stand.

Koslowe warned that without the increases that originally had been planned for Sunday, the Postal Service could start the rate-raising process over again and seek new and even higher rate increases to make up lost revenue.

But he said this "would be directly contrary to the public interest."

Sirica had found the new rates to be illegal because the procedures for increasing postal rates had not been complied with. By law the Postal Service is required to obtain the approval of its governors for new rates before filing them with the Postal Rate Commission. Sirica ruled that this approval had not been obtained because the service did not submit the specific increases but instead received only the board's general agreement that rates should be raised.

The stay granted by the appeals court does not overturn Sirica's order, but it does keep it from going into effect until the judges can hear the case.

It is possible that after hearing the evidence the appeals court will agree with Sirica and order a rollback in rates to the present levels.

Report Indicates Weapons Siphoned To Viet, Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The siphoning of weapons from U.S. military supplies for shipment to Israel and Vietnam has "adversely affected overall U.S. readiness," a secret government report says.

The report, on an audit by Congress' General Accounting Office, says hundreds of tanks, aircraft, missiles and other weapons were taken out of U.S. readiness stocks and turned over to Israel after the 1973 Mideast war or were channeled into Vietnam during the closing years of the Indochina war.

Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., released an unclassified summary of the report on Monday and other sources filled in numbers and details.

The report says $8.5 billion worth of U.S. military hardware was programmed for Vietnam and Israel between July 1972 and July 1974, the period audited by the GAO.

It says U.S. arms poured into South Vietnam on an emergency basis in August 1971 and June 1972. More arms went to Vietnam starting in October 1972 in a special project aimed at getting weapons into the country before an anticipated cease-fire could halt shipment.

It says U.S. units' stocks also were depleted to replenish Israeli arms after the October 1973 war, concluding that "the accelerated emergency support to South Vietnam and Israel over the past several years adversely affected overall U.S. readiness."

The report does not say how much of the $8.5 billion in arms came from U.S. units' supplies, but details depletion of several stocks.

—Some $314.9 million worth of tanks, helicopters, rifles, trucks, radar and other equipment was diverted from Army reserve unit stocks during the two years.

U.S. Air Force Captures Proxmire 'Fleece' Award

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world's most exclusive airline is operated by the U.S. Air Force and the American taxpayers keep it running to the tune of $6 million a year, says Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

Proxmire said the Air Force keeps a fleet of 23 plush jets, which cost $86.7 million, on 24-hour call to transport government officials wherever they want to go. He said the fleet of planes is known as the 88th Military Airlift Wing and is stationed at Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington.

It will fly top government officials any place in the world, said Proxmire in a statement today.

"All they need do is call up and request a flight," he said.

Proxmire, who has been making monthly "golden fleece" awards for government waste, cited the Air Force's executive airline for "the fleece of the year."

But he added that "in fairness to the Air Force, this fleece of the year should also be shared by all the government bigshots who insist on such special treatment at the expense of the taxpayers."

Proxmire said that "in the first 10 months of 1975, the 88th made 875 flights carrying government officials as passengers at a cost of over $6 million.

"Not surprisingly, 849 or 87 per cent of these flights were undertaken for high ranking defense officials or those requesting Defense Department flights."

A table he gave breaking down the flights by departments and agencies listed about 100 of these 849 flights as congressional trips requested by Senate and House members.

The next largest users shown on the table were the Treasury Department with 87 flights and the State Department with 28.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

Financial Remedies For St. Joseph

Our Dec. 15 through 19 editions ran a daily comment on the St. Joseph city hall's fading financial picture and various methods suggested on how to avoid the pitfalls into which New York and other major cities have dropped.

Without bothering to repeat the statistical data, all indications point to the uncomfortable situation that unless inflation should drop to zero and additional revenue can be found, costs to run the city government will advance by 36 per cent when the 1980-81 budget expires and income will move up only 5.9 per cent. In fact, it will be touch and go to end the present fiscal year with income and outgo at a dead heat.

The solution has to be found in the grass roots. State aid which accounts for 15 per cent of the city's receipts is not likely to rise considering the money pinch afflicting the Lansing government. The uncertainties and problems in federal revenue sharing, which contributes 3 per cent of the current budget, mitigate against much reliance on that source.

A 12-member Citizens Action Committee appointed by Mayor Smith to advise the city commission is examining four proposals emanating from city hall. They are (1) cut expenses; (2) update real estate assessments; (3) liberate the city charter's millage limitations; and (4) adopt a municipal income tax.

Following is our reaction to those suggestions:

(1) Unless city hall allows the parks, cemeteries and the summer recreation program to go to pot and cancels its street repairs, the budget has little leeway for reducing costs.

The best to be hoped for in cost cutting is to hold the line as much as possible on wages and fringe benefits which soak up 70 per cent of the total budget.

Getting down to the nitty gritty on this one means taking a tougher stance when the firemen deliver their annual demands for more money and benefits. For the past several years the total payroll has advanced proportionately as the fire department has first made its score.

(2) The State Tax Commission in recent years has automatically increased the total valuation within the city.

This broad tax method has helped the budget to some extent, but a more selective approach could be of greater benefit.

About 25 per cent of the dwelling units in St. Joseph are rental properties.

By far most of them are apartments carved out of what once were single family dwellings.

The suspicion exists that the old homestead remodeled to make a profit is still assessed at the old homestead level.

Reassessing those properties on a capitalization of earnings, which is major factor in their sales price, might well yield a surprisingly higher tax revenue.

(3) For better than 15 years this column has maintained that the city is keeping itself in a straitjacket with the charter's millage limitations.

There is a 12.5 mill ceiling for the general fund; an optional 6/10ths of a mill for the band; a mandatory half mill for the library and 8/10ths mill ceiling; and a catchall provision for whatever else the state law permits. Presently the only extra granted by the legislature is 2 mills for garbage and rubbish collection.

The 1963 state constitution confers a 20-mill ceiling on cities.

The charter should be amended to take advantage of that additional taxing power. Further, the band and the library should be put into the general fund.

(4) Because No. 1 is touchy, No. 2 is open to charges of discrimination, and No. 3 requires a favorable public vote, a city income tax has long been a tempting solution within city hall. It requires only a majority vote within the commission to put into effect and if handled properly, presents no insuperable administrative problems.

Some 20 Michigan communities have taken that route and others are looking into it.

The property tax may not be the most popular levy, but it is the one tax over which the citizen has some measure of control.

The income tax is controllable only by those who decide how much it shall be, which is the reason it finds such favor among its city hall advocates.

It is the perfect tax and spend weapon of all time, and if St. Joseph goes that route, it best be prepared to find business and industry gradually departing for other areas.

(5) Given less thought than it deserves is the possibility of increasing the water plant's profit, which means raising the rates, to help out the general fund.

This avenue may be of limited value at present because a revenue bond issue to increase the plant's capacity mortgages most income as security for the bonds.

However, this possibility should be checked out.

If found to be unavailing until the bonds are retired, it should be pursued when they have been paid off.

Summing up, we think No. 4, the city income tax, should never be let out of the trash barrel.

We recommend a combination of Nos. 1-2-3-5 as the eraser to blot out the red ink before it even spills on to the budget.

SAYS ALASKA PLANS WOLF SLAUGHTER

Editor,

This is a plea to all the people in the area who care about our national environment and preservation of endangered species, to join together in a protest of the wolf slaughter planned for Alaska. Friday evening, Dec. 26, on national television news service, the plan to eliminate ALL wolves in a 32,000-acre area was clearly outlined. They are to be hunted down by helicopter and exterminated one by one, until none are left. This killing is to continue over a 3 to 5-year period.

The reason for this outrageous massacre was explained this way. It is to be an "experiment" to see if the moose population will be increased.

It was also stated in the broadcast that there are three factors that determine the size of moose herds. One is starvation, next is wolves and last is hunters. The Fish and Game

Commission of course realize that controlling starvation is not feasible. They also say that limiting hunting and hunting licenses is politically unsound. Unfortunately, this leaves the wolves as the factor to be eliminated.

Why are people so vain to think they can better the delicate balance established by nature since time began? It is beyond my comprehension that as we approach our nation's Bicentennial that such a disgrace will take place in our country. Alaska is the Last Frontier for wolves, too.

I urge everyone concerned to contact the National Wildlife Federation, National Audubon Society, Fish and Game Commission of Alaska, their Congressmen, the National SPCA and anyone else who can stop this needless slaughter. Please help prevent the destruction of one of our many vanishing species.

WARMTH IS NICE EXCEPT AT CHRISTMAS

Editor,

You have printed some letters I write telling how nice and warm it is in Florida most all winter, yearly. This is very nice, except at Christmas time! I was born and reared in North Carolina, where we had snows each winter, and we loved it, usually. We always wished snow would be on the ground at Christmas time and icicles hanging from the holly, cedar, oaks, maple, chestnut, pine and other trees grown in North Carolina. We miss all this in Florida and it actually ruins our Christmas spirit!

Florida is now made up of people originally from Michigan, New York, the New England states and others where snow and ice are very common each winter. The temperature here this morning is 70 degrees, while the paper states it was 3 degrees at Detroit Friday. The sun is shining brightly here today, too, as usual. So, after all, each state has its advantages. Snowmobiles and skis would be useless here, but many in Michigan and other snow-covered states enjoy these sports immensely. I would too.

I hope that all people in the world have a prosperous and happy 1976, and a good crop year every place. I'm also thankful that I'm still alive.

Unwilling to sell out to metropolitan civilization for "a porcelain bath tub and a gilded radiator" the author of "The Box of God," and an instructor in Northwestern University school of speech, is planning to bury himself in the northern forests of Wisconsin. Sarrett is a Benton Harbor boy and a graduate of Benton Harbor high. Early in youth he exhibited rare genius and a love for the wilderness that led him in later years to the wilds of the north, where he acquired the trust of the Indians and a wealth of native lore such as few men possess. All of Sarrett's poems breathe the

Federal Sow's Industrial Piglets

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Our system of democracy requires, in my mind, as clear a separation between private business and the government as between the President, Congress and the Supreme Court.

When this dividing line is overstepped or ignored, the door is open to corruption, influence peddling and favoritism, and to inefficiencies so great — as witness the Soviet experience — they cost us dearly in our standard of living.

It requires noting here again that there are a considerable number of companies in the United States which receive so great a percentage of their income from government contracts that abuses are certain to occur.

Take, for example, the matter of military prime contracts, which totaled $40 billion this past fiscal year.

Twenty-eight companies accounted for half that $40 billion, 10 companies for a third and five companies alone for 20 per cent.

Each of nine firms had military prime contracts of between $1 billion and $2 billion.

These figures refer only to military contracts. When we add in Health, Education and Welfare; the National Aeronautics and Space Administration; the Energy Research and Development Administration, and a host of other agencies, we have a situation in which a considerable number of companies are dependent on the government for their very existence.

Very little data on this matter is available on most firms. But I have estimates on seven super-giants. Reports are that each does between a third to two thirds or more of its entire business with the federal government.

This dependency leads inevitably, in too many cases, to coziness, over-friendly relationships ending in free hunting trips, expensive gifts, employment at high salaries after retirement from the government, regardless of restrictions written into law. These gifts are tied to special favors — tax concessions, easy approval of cost overruns, overpricing of alterations, expense padding, the ignoring of defects and the easy allowing of late deliveries resulting from sloppy inefficiencies.

The companies slowly lose touch with competitive markets and become as bureaucratic as the government agencies they serve. The key to success is neither efficiency or excellence, but an ability to handle proposals, negotiations and cost overruns in a manner most satisfactory to officials on the government side of the fence. Success thus falls to those firms which have the best word merchants. Workmanship — or lack of it — comes to have little bearing.

Because profits, too often, are a percentage of costs, the greater the cost the greater the profit. Inefficiency pays off. If a company shows signs of going broke, it is, more often than not, bailed out in the public interest, usually indirectly and without fanfare, through special contracts.

This manner of doing things is not good for defense, for the civilian functions of our government, for the taxpayer, or, in the long run, for company stockholders. For a dependent firm, like the saber-toothed tiger of old, becomes so adapted to one way of life, a major shift in government policy could mean its demise.

A New Set Of 'Assertions'

I really don't relish this role, but no sooner did I reply to some misconceptions about National Review on the part of my friend Kevin Phillips than a whole new set of strange assertions came down the pike from my columnist colleague and fellow academician John Roche. His remarks are especially interesting because they focus on the question of justice what American liberalism is at the present time.

John Roche thinks of himself as a liberal and he also likes National Review aesthetically: "It is unquestionably the best political magazine in the nation — everytime I read an issue, I wish that we liberals had a remotely comparable journal."

But as Roche sees it, American conservative intellectuals have been attacking a straw man: "Liberalism, as National Review has defined it for 20 years, involves creating an 'open society' in which everybody does his 'own thing,' and 'lets it all hang out.'"

That is not quite the way the matters are put, but let us turn to what Roche thinks liberalism is today:

"Liberal tradition never designed a progressive kindergarten. Just over 200 years ago, the Continental Congress recommended that the provincial legislature 'arrest and secure every person... whose going at large may in their opinion endanger the safety of the colony or the liberties of America.'... Liberals, in other words, have never thought that everything was up for grabs, but they have insisted that authority be rationally justified and exercised in a fashion neither arbitrary nor capricious."

Now that is a perfectly reasonable description of the American tradition, and that is precisely what American conservatives wish to conserve. But it is certainly an ivory-tower exercise in semantics to call it liberal.

Liberalism in 1975 is not Montesquieu, and it is not John Stuart

Mill, and it certainly is not either George Washington or James Madison.

Liberalism as you meet it in the normal faculty meeting, in the media, in the official ecclesiastical conclaves, in such influential intellectual journals as the New York Review of Books, and in the most aggressive quarters of the Democratic Party, is something altogether different.

There are some high and dry constitutional liberals around like John Roche, and more power to them. But in liberal culture today a kind of revolution has taken place. Liberalism is not so much an explicit position as a tendency. It gravitates ever further leftward.

As former liberal Irving Kristol put it recently in an essay in the Wall Street Journal, there is something wrong about a society in which an 18-year-old girl can fornicate publicly in a pornographic movie, and do it legally as long as she is paid at least the minimum wage. Or, as National Review once put it, the signs will soon be going up in the public schools: "No spitting or praying." All these developments have taken place under liberal auspices and been legitimized by liberal theory.

John Roche seems to think that there is a real and continuing liberal tradition in the country that goes back to the intentions of the founders 200 years ago, and that "new left" aberrations are the work of a few zany and clowns. In his view these deviants from the true liberal faith are the equivalent of Birchers on the right.

I can only suppose that Roche has not attended many faculty meetings, does not read the intellectual reviews, missed the Democratic Convention of 1972, does not visit his local pornographic news stand or abortion clinic, is amazed by what is happening in South Boston and Louisville, Ky., and thinks that someone like Henry Jackson has a chance for the Democratic nomination next year.

BH 'Clean Slate' Candidates Spent $1,300

By JIM DELAND
Assistant City Editor

The "Clean Slate" ticket headed by Benton Harbor Mayor Charles F. Joseph spent more than $1,300 to elect four candidates in the city's general election last month.

Campaign expenses reported by the six-member Clean Slate ticket to Berrien County Clerk Forrest H. Kesterke showed actual expenditures of $1,129.97 and unpaid bills of $207.02.

Contributions listed for the Clean Slate campaign totaled $1,135.00.

The only campaign expense listed by the rival "Common Sense" ticket was one $5 expenditure by Ocie Mitchell, unsuccessful candidate for the fourth ward commissioner's seat.

Members of the Clean Slate included Joseph, Barbara Huckaby, Alfred Williams, Charles Shepherd, Helen Ford and Elias McGrew. Joseph was re-elected mayor while Mrs. Huckaby, Williams and Shepherd won commission seats. Mrs. Ford withdrew as an active candidate before the election.

Expenses for all six were listed in a joint report filed by Mrs. Huckaby, the slate treasurer. None of the six reported any individual expenses or contributions.

Top contributions listed for the Clean Slate were $125 by each of the six candidates on the ticket.

The only other expenses reported by candidates for any position were $49.40 by Wilce Cooke, unsuccessful mayoral candidate; $12.72 by Edmund Eaman, who was re-elected First ward commissioner as an independent; and the $5 expenditure listed by Mitchell.

The names of two unsuccessful candidates were turned over to the Berrien prosecutor's office by Kesterke, who said they were in violation of state law by not filing an expense report within 20 days of the general election.

Kesterke said Mrs. Annie Robinson, who ran for a commissioner-at-large seat, turned in a report that was not notarized as required by law and that Willie T. Burton, write-in candidate for an at-large seat, did not file a report at all.

Mrs. Robinson was a member of the Common Sense ticket, along with Mitchell, Charles Yarbrough and Carl Brown. Of the four, only at-large commissioner Yarbrough was elected.

Assistant prosecutor John Bruha said candidates who have not filed expense reports will be sent notification of their statutory obligation, and that if they don't comply would be subject to further legal action.

SECOND INAUGURAL BALL

Ali To Be Mayor Joseph's Guest

Heavyweight boxing Champion Muhammad Ali is scheduled to make his second appearance within five months in the Twin City area when he attends the inaugural ball for Benton Harbor Mayor Charles F. Joseph Saturday, Jan. 24.

Notices of the inaugural ball are included in solicitations for advertisements being sent to area businessmen. The advertisements will be in a souvenir inaugural booklet, planned in conjunction with the event, according to Mrs. William (Elizabeth) Fowler, general chairman. Mrs. Fowler said

Mrs. Helen Ford is co-chairman of the inaugural event.

Mrs. Fowler said Ali is honorary chairman and has indicated he will attend.

The ball will be at Ramada Inn and will be preceded by a dinner at Benton Harbor

Holiday Inn, both in Benton township.

Muhammad Ali spent a full day in Benton Harbor last August. He toured the city and sparred in exhibition matches with Mayor Joseph and several other "contenders."

The champion pledged support of Joseph won re-election to a second four-year term in November.

for a quarter page, and $15 for one-eighth page.

Mrs. Fowler said the dinner and ball will be a formal affair. About 500 people are expected, she said. Details, on times, ticket prices, and possible guest speakers, will be announced later, Mrs. Fowler said.

After his last visit to Benton Harbor, Ali purchased an 80-acre estate just north of Berrien Springs.

BH Commissioners Freeze City Hiring

Benton Harbor city commission voted 6 to 3 last night to freeze all hiring, promotions and transfers of city employees in an attempt to save money for next year's budget.

The resolution was passed after the commission had voted 5 to 4 to fire Charles A. Morrison as city manager. But Morrison was critical of the freeze saying it would strip responsibility from the city administration, take away the hiring function of the city manager and cause three people to lose their jobs immediately.

Voting for the freeze were Mayor Charles F. Joseph, Barbara Huckaby, Charles Shepherd, Winston Minott and

F. Joseph Flaugh. Opposing it were Commissioners Arnold Bolin, Edmund Eaman and Charles Yarbrough.

The commission voted to make the freeze retroactive to Nov. 27. Morrison said this would cost the jobs of Ronald Weber, Mary DeFoe and Mark Detweiler because they had been transferred from Model Cities jobs to the city's community development program after that date.

Morrison said he previously had implemented a freeze on hiring to save money, but that did not include transfers and promotions.

The commission on Nov. 24 had tabled a resolution on freezing hiring, transfers and promotions.

In other business, the commission voted to oppose a recommendation by the Twin City airport board that land at Ross field be used as a disposal site for dumping of dredgings from the Twin City inner harbor.

Joseph said the commission had previously gone on record supporting other sites — Radio (Terminal) island and the old Benton Harbor ship canal as an interim site.

The St. Joseph city commission voted Nov. 17 for the use of Ross field property as a disposal site.

Both Benton Harbor and St. Joseph had to approve the airport site before it could be submitted to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for final approval.

The commission reaffirmed its position on granting Berrien County Action a special-use permit to operate a family planning program for teenage girls at 617 Pipestone street.

The request, which was approved last week, was tossed back at the commission by Commissioner Charles Yarbrough who said the city's planning commission guidelines required that planning commission recommendations had to be overruled by the city commission by at least a two-thirds vote.

The city planning commission had recommended denial of the request by a 3 to 2 vote and last week, the city commission overruled that recommendation and voted to grant the special-use permit by a 5 to 3 vote. The commission again approved the request last night by a 8 to 1 vote. Commissioner Eaman cast the lone vote against granting the permit.

In a related matter, the commission sent to committee a request by Suzy Edwards, Berrien County Action, Inc., coordinator, to use office space at the city-owned Highland House at 662 Highland avenue as BCA's headquarters.

Mrs. Edwards said BCA, which is presently located on the second floor of the Fidelity building in downtown Benton Harbor, needed room to expand its operation. Mrs. Edwards also asked that the city furnish the space and utilities at no charge to BCA.

The commission also elected Commissioner Minott as Mayor Pro Tem, replacing Virgil May whose term expired this year. Minott, nominated for the post by Mayor Joseph, was elected by a 5 to 3 vote. Commissioners Bolin, Flaugh and Yarbrough voted against Minott's election to the seat.

NEW BH COMMISSIONERS: Benton Harbor City Clerk Evelyn Grenawitzke administers oath of office to two new city commissioners, Charles Shepherd and Barbara Huckaby. Shepherd, who defeated Commissioner Carl Brown in Nov. 4 city election for Second Ward commissioner, was instrumental last night in causing City Manager Charles Morrison's contract to be terminated by 5 to 4 vote. Mrs. Huckaby was elected commissioner-at-large and replaces Virgil May. (Staff photos)

Option For Senior Citizens Tower In BH Is Approved

A proposal for a senior citizens housing project that envisions construction of a "twin" to the Harbor Towers high rise in downtown Benton Harbor got a first step of approval last night from the city commission.

A 30-day option to purchase a small plot of urban renewal land on the southeast corner of Pipestone and Market streets was granted to Dow & Associates C/M, Inc., and a Burling G. Doolittle, as general partners, 315 Post street, Midland, Mich.

The proposed developers were not present last night.

City Manager Charles

Morrison said the option gives them 30 days to come up with a financing package and building plans for the project, all of which will be subject to further approval of the city governing body.

Morrison added there is no estimate of building costs at this time. He said the general intention is for a high rise apartment structure of approximately 100 units somewhat like the existing Harbor Towers. He stated he had no knowledge of the developers plans for financing the project, but suggested that "HUD (federal Department of Housing and Urban Development) is the only source of

The city manager noted there is a demand for senior citizen housing in the city, adding that there were 127 names on the waiting list for openings in Harbor Towers.

Dimensions of the city-owned lot were reported at 225 by 176 feet, slightly less than one acre. Morrison said the planned building site would also include private property immediately to the south along Pipestone street. He identified the private property as the old OK Electric Co. property and the union hall of Local 1917, IAM union.

The price of the city lot was set at $12,000 in the option.

Approve Purchase

BUCHANAN — Bertram township voters approved the purchase of a new township hall and authorized the sale of the present township hall during a special citizen township meeting last night.

Brayton Yaw, township supervisor, said 61 votes were cast on two questions voted on by those attending the special session.

A proposal to purchase the former Howe school at a cost of not to exceed $28,000 was approved by a 58 to 3 margin, Yaw said.

The 20-year-old former school building is located across the street from the present township hall on Buffalo road south of Buchanan.

In a second vote, the township board was authorized to sell the present 1890-built hall by a 39 to 22 margin.

COMMISSIONER COMMENDED: Benton Harbor Mayor Charles Joseph commended Commissioner Virgil May for nine years of "untiring and dedicated service" to city last night. It was May's last night as commissioner-at-large and he was replaced by Barbara Huckaby. May did not seek re-election and announced earlier he was retiring from the commission for personal and business reasons.

Lab Results Awaited

Benton Harbor police and fire officials are awaiting results of tests at the state police crime lab in Holland in an effort to determine what triggered an explosion in a furniture store Sunday.

The explosion about 6:15 p.m. ripped through Service Furniture House, 360 Territorial road, extensively damaging the building and merchandise.

Store owner-operator Sidney Rosenberg, detectives reported, is still determining the amount of damage. The blast was believed to have been centered at the rear of the store. Natural gas, used for heat in the building, was tentatively ruled out as a cause of the explosion, fire officials indicated.

St. Joe Township Hall To Be Open Special Hours

St. Joseph township hall, 146 West Napier avenue, Fairplain, will be open until 5 p.m. today and from 9 a.m. to noon Wednesday for collection of 1975 property taxes over the counter, according to Isadore DiMaggio, township treasurer. DiMaggio said township offices will be closed from noon Wednesday until Monday, Jan. 5.

January Hearing Scheduled In SJ Fraud Case Appeal

An appeal by a special Berrien county prosecutor challenging dismissal of charges against three business and professional men accused of fraud will be heard next month by Cass county Circuit Judge James E. Hoff.

The hearing will be Jan. 15 at 1:30 p.m. in the Cass county courthouse, Cassopolis, according to Donald Johnston, special assistant prosecutor of Kent county.

The appeal was filed last September by Kent Prosecutor Harold S. Sawyer, who was appointed special Berrien prosecutor in charge of the cases against Thomas McCoy, James Boreham and William Lanphear.

Charges of conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses against the three were dismissed in September by visiting District Judge Donald M. Goodwillie, Jr., during a preliminary hearing in Berrien county.

McCoy is a St. Joseph attorney, Boreham a former president of Beaudoin-Stueland Electric Co. in St. Joseph, and Lanphear is a retired state police lieutenant.

Each was accused of three counts of conspiring to obtain a total of $24,372 from Beaudoin-Stueland through a series of invoices and purchase orders. Goodwillie ruled the prosecution may have shown unethical business practices, but failed to establish any criminal wrongdoing.

The appeal claims Goodwillie erred on certain points of law and asks that charges be reinstated and the men bound over to circuit court for trial.

Man Pleads Innocent Of Robbery

An ex-convict pleaded innocent Monday in Berrien Circuit court to two charges of armed robbery — a holdup at a St. Joseph jewelry store and robbing a St. Joseph police officer of his service revolver.

Robert Lee Williams, 34, of Lansing, was remanded to the county jail by Judge William S. White following arraignment.

Williams is accused of robbing Robert Green, owner of Green's Jewelers, at 315 State street, of more than $7,000 worth of rings and about $251 in cash and checks on Nov. 28. He is also charged with robbing Patrolman Max Keschull of his service revolver during the robbery of the store.

Keschull was reported to have entered the store while a man armed with a pistol allegedly was robbing the store.

Williams' alleged accomplices, Diane Stokes, of Benton Harbor, and Rolanda Carter, of Benton township, both pleaded innocent to single armed robbery charges when arraigned last week in circuit court.

Williams is also charged with another armed robbery and is awaiting circuit court arraignment in connection with a Nov. 3 holdup at Rees Jewelry store in Buchanan where $20,251 in cash and jewelry allegedly were stolen.

$5,839 In Arrears, BH Dad Jailed

A Benton Harbor father who hasn't made a child support payment for any of his three children in the past two years was sentenced to four months in jail yesterday in Berrien Circuit court.

Edward Pastrick, special investigator for the Berrien Friend of the Court's office, reported:

Judge William S. White imposed the jail term on La June Nelson, of 799 Pearl street, after finding him in contempt of court for failing to make support payments in either 1974 or 1975.

Nelson had arrears of $4,261 for one child on ADC in one case, and $1,578 arrears for two children on ADC in another case. Nelson received the same sentence in each case, and the jail sentences are to run concurrently.

Judge Chester J. Byrns found Jodie Lindley, of 604 West John Beers road, Lincoln township, in contempt for $525 arrears for one child not on ADC, placed him on two years probation, and ordered him to execute a wage assignment of $25 weekly child support and $2.50 weekly towards the arrearage.

Byrns also held Robert M. Walker, of 1181 Bishop street, Benton Harbor, in contempt for $1,866 arrears for two children not on ADC. He was placed on two years probation and told to sign a wage assignment of $44 weekly support and $5 weekly on the arrears.

Byrns also told Walker he's to verify that he has employment or is receiving unemployment compensation with Pastrick in two weeks or spend 30 days in jail.

Colonists Declared Equality But -- Not For Women

Many Colonial women heard the fervent calls of "liberty," "equality," and "freedom" and bridled at the circumstance that while the Patriots declared all men equal, they drew the line at declaring women equal to men.

In short, the seeds of modern feminism already were sprouting in America long before the Colonies declared their independence.

Researchers at the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration have unearthed records of many heroines during the American Revolution — and also found some strikingly advanced feminist thought.

Abigail Smith Adams, wife of the second president, was among the most forthright in her views. In a letter to her husband 200 years ago, she said: "I cannot say that I think you very generous to the ladies, for whilst you are proclaiming peace and good will to men, emancipating all nations, you insist upon retaining an absolute power over wives...we have it in our power not only to free ourselves but to subdue our masters."

Abigail remained in Massachusetts, taking full charge of family affairs including running a farm while her peppery husband, John, pursued revolutionary politics. As the Declaration of Independence was being debated, she wrote to her husband in Philadelphia: "I desire you would remember the ladies and be more generous and favorable to them than your ancestors....That your sex are notoriously tyrannical is a truth so thoroughly established as to admit of no dispute."

Mercy Otis Warren was another outspoken feminist patriot who like Abigail, rebelled at the social pressures against women who wanted a serious education. Writing that if women's minds seemed to dwell on trifles while men dealt with power and wealth, she noted: "The deficiency lies not so much in (the) inferior texture of female intellects as in the different education bestowed on the sexes."

She deeply resented the practice in the Colonies and elsewhere in the world of fathers using their marriageable daughters as a means of bartering for wealth or power. She is perhaps best remembered for her play, "The Group," a passionate plea for independence. The play was a major success, even though many men were upset that a woman should set her pen to such a serious subject.

There well may have been a wealth of feminist thought and sentiment during the Revolution. But women were discouraged from putting such things down on paper and much may have disappeared because no one thought such things were of much importance.

Abigail's grandsons, wrote: "The heroism of the females of the Revolution has gone from memory with the generation that witnessed it and nothing, absolutely nothing, remains on the ear of the young of the present day but the faint echo of an expiring general tradition."

What was true of heroism was almost certainly true of such radical ideas as women's equality.

Papaya Provides Vitamins

One papaya quite adequately serves two, weighs approximately one pound and contains about 156 calories (about 78 calories per seven-ounce half).

But to serve papayas as appetizers or finger canapes, they can be cut into slender wedges, chunks, rings or half-rounds to serve a crowd. Try alternating papaya chunks on skewers with ham cubes, other fresh fruits, chunks of cheese, balls of cream cheese rolled in finely chopped nuts, or cooked prawns.

Wrap slender papaya wedges with thinly-sliced prosciutto or ham.

Surround a bowl of fruit-flavored yogurt with papaya half-rounds for dipping.

The movies will include "Animals Unlimited," featuring the Krueger National Park in South Africa; "A Very Special Day," about a little girl who loses her dog and then herself, but is rescued by a boy and an unexpected friendship develops, and "Hansel and Gretel," the re-telling with puppets of the familiar fairy tale by Hans Christian Andersen.

A surprise movie will be shown at 2 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 3, and all Benton Harbor children are invited.

The preschool story hour will not meet this week.

New young adult fiction books at the library include "Love Is A Missing Person," M.F. Kerr; "Dorrie's Book," Marilyn Sachs, and "Whales to See," Glendon and Kathryn Swarthout.

Design & DECOR

by Bobbi & Ron Guertel

It is generally a good idea not to clutter a room to dress it in its best. If your room contains the right proportion of furniture, its furnishings are coordinated just so, and still you feel there is that certain something lacking, consider the effectiveness of a handsome chandelier. There are a wide variety of beautiful designs offered for your consideration today. Combinations of dazzling crystal and gold, the clear lines of contemporary, and the bold, impressive style of the Spanish influence await your discrimination. Dinner takes on a genteel air when served in the elegance of a chandelier-lit diningroom, and how dramatic is the effect in a beautifully complemented parlor. Chandeliers, most often, can be the perfect final accent for a lovely room.

Add Punch To Party

Holiday Tradition

A punch may contain an alcoholic beverage or be a hearty mixture of fruit punch, frozen lemonade and ginger ale with a dollop of candy cane to please the younger set.

PINK MARBLED EGGNOG
Six eggs, separated
One-half cup superfine sugar
One cup half and half
One can (six ounces) frozen red fruit drink concentrate, thawed

Three-fourths cup light rum or rum flavoring to taste
One cup heavy cream, whipped

Slivered orange peel
Grated nutmeg

In large bowl, beat egg yolks until thick. Gradually add one-fourth cup of the sugar; beat until light. Add punch concentrate and half and half; beat until well combined. Stir in rum or rum flavoring. Cover and refrigerate until very well chilled, about three hours or longer.

About one hour before serving, beat egg whites until foamy. Add remaining sugar, one tablespoon at a time and continue beating until soft peaks form when beater is slowly raised.

Fold egg whites into punch mixture, mixing well; keep refrigerated until serving time. Just before serving, stir gently, then spoon whipped cream on top. Fold in just enough to give a marbled effect on the surface. Sprinkle top with orange peel and grated nutmeg. Ladle into punch cups. Makes twelve servings.

CANDY CANE PUNCH
One can (six ounces) frozen red fruit drink concentrate, partially thawed

One-half of six-ounce can frozen pink lemonade concentrate, partially thawed
One and one-half cups water
One bottle (twelve ounce) ginger ale, chilled

Three tablespoons maraschino cherry juice
Four maraschino cherries
One small orange, cut into wedges

Ice cubes
Four candy canes or peppermint sticks

In large pitcher, combine punch and lemonade concentrates and water stir well. Add ginger ale and maraschino cherry juice.

Into four glasses, place cherries, orange wedges and ice. Pour punch into glasses and pass candy canes to use as stirrers. Makes four servings.

RELAX WITH NEW YEAR'S GUESTS

Make Hors D'oeuvres Ahead

Pate has been described as the ultimate in hors d'oeuvres, a luxurious cold meat loaf, or a fancy liver spread. Whatever the definition, pate should be part of the holiday scene. It's special — like the season.

PATE EN CROUTE
One chicken breast, split
(about twelve ounces)
Two cups water
One bay leaf
One-fourth teaspoon each:
rosemary, basil, salt

One-half cup minced onion
Two tablespoons butter
Three tablespoons flour
One-fourth teaspoon seasoned salt
One-half cup heavy cream
One tablespoon brandy or

sherry
One-half pound (eight ounces) braunschweiger liver sausage
One can (eight ounces) refrigerated crescent rolls
Two ounces sliced bologna, cut in strips
Two tablespoons pistachio nuts, halved
One egg, beaten

Combine chicken breasts, water and seasonings in a small skillet. Bring to a boil; reduce heat, cover and simmer 20 minutes. Remove from broth. Cool slightly, remove skin and bones. Cut into one-half-inch wide strips; set aside.

Saute onion in butter in a medium-sized saucepan. Stir in flour to make a smooth, thick paste. Gradually add cream, stirring until smooth and thick. Remove from heat; stir in mashed braunschweiger. Set aside.

Unroll crescent dough. Separate two rectangles of dough and place long sides together; pinch dough to join and to seal triangle seams. Roll out to nine by six-inch rectangle. Roll up around rolling pin. Unroll over nine by five-inch loaf pan. Ease dough into pan, pressing and patting to stretch into corners and three-quarters way up sides of pan.

Spread one-third of braunschweiger mixture on bottom; top with half chicken strips, bologna strips and pistachio nuts. Cover with one-third braunschweiger mixture; top with remaining chicken strips, bologna strips and pistachio nuts. Top with remaining braunschweiger mixture. Brush edges of dough in pan with beaten egg.

remaining buttermilk. Beat one minute longer with electric mixer or 150 strokes by hand. Pour over topping in pan.

Bake at 350 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes, or until cake springs back when lightly pressed. Cool cake in pan five minutes; then invert on serving plate. Serve warm or cooled, topped with prepared whipped topping, if desired.

Note: In place of three-fourth cup buttermilk, you may combine three-fourths cup whole milk with two teaspoons vinegar and let stand five minutes.

Loosen edges with spatula, tip pan on side and ease pate out. Place upright on rack and continue to cool. Seal in plastic wrap and refrigerate several hours or overnight. Slice to serve. Makes 12 servings.

PATE PARTY MOLD

One tablespoon (one envelope) unflavored gelatin
One can (ten and one-half ounces) beef consomme
One hard-cooked egg, shelled and sliced
Six pimiento stuffed olives, sliced
One-half pound (eight-ounces) liverwurst
Two tablespoons finely chopped green onion
One teaspoon fresh lemon juice
One-fourth teaspoon grated lemon rind
Dash liquid red pepper seasoning

Soften gelatin in one-third cup of the consomme in a small saucepan. Heat and stir over medium heat until gelatin is dissolved; add remaining consomme. Pour into measuring cup.

Pour one-third cup consomme mixture into two-cup mold which has been placed in a bowl of ice and water. Swirl gently until thin coat of set gelatin builds up inside mold. Arrange center egg slices and eight to ten of the olive slices on bottom and part way up sides. Spoon one-third cup consomme mixture over decoration. Chill in ice water while preparing pate mixture.

Mash liverwurst with a fork; stir in green onion. Chop remaining egg and olive slices; add to liverwurst along with lemon juice and rind and liquid red pepper seasoning. Stir in remaining consomme mixture. Carefully spoon over partially set mixture in mold. Chill several hours until firm. Unmold on serving plate. Serve with crackers. Makes eight servings.

LIVER PATE TARTS

Nine thin slices sandwich bread, crusts removed
One-half pound (eight ounces) braunschweiger liver sausage

Unroll crescent dough. Separate two rectangles of dough and place long sides together; pinch dough to join and to seal triangle seams. Roll out to nine by six-inch rectangle. Roll up around rolling pin. Unroll over nine by five-inch loaf pan. Ease dough into pan, pressing and patting to stretch into corners and three-quarters way up sides of pan.

Spread one-third of braunschweiger mixture on bottom; top with half chicken strips, bologna strips and pistachio nuts. Cover with one-third braunschweiger mixture; top with remaining chicken strips, bologna strips and pistachio nuts. Top with remaining braunschweiger mixture. Brush edges of dough in pan with beaten egg.

Pinch remaining dough rectangles together, end to end; pinch to seal triangle seams. Cut off three-fourths of this dough and roll out to fit top of pan. Place over filling, pressing edges to seal; brush top with beaten egg. Cut slits in top to allow steam to escape. Cut designs in remaining dough with aspic cutters or paring knife; brush with egg and place on top.

Bake in preheated 375 degree oven 30 minutes. Cool one hour.

NEW YEAR'S HORS D'OEUVRES

Two tablespoons dairy sour cream
One tablespoon dry sherry
Two teaspoons instant minced onion
One teaspoon bitters
One teaspoon Dijon-style mustard
One-eighth teaspoon thyme

Cut bread slices into quarters; press each square into a buttered miniature baking cup, about one and three-fourths-inches in diameter. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven eight to ten minutes until lightly browned. Cool.

Mash braunschweiger; add remaining ingredients, stirring until blended. Spoon about one teaspoon braunschweiger mixture into each tart. Refrigerate until serving time. Garnish with chopped parsley or paprika. Makes 36.

Deviled eggs and liver spread are two items that may be made ahead of time to give the hostess a breather before guests arrive.

WORCESTER DEVILED EGGS
Six hard-cooked eggs
One-third cup dairy sour cream
One-fourth cup minced celery
Two tablespoons minced scallions or green onions

Two teaspoons Worcester sauce
One-fourth teaspoon salt

Cut eggs in half lengthwise; remove yolks. Mash yolks with sour cream, celery, scallions, Worcester sauce and salt. Spoon or pipe with a pastry bag and tube into egg whites. Garnish with sliced scallions or sprinkle with paprika, if desired.

Variations: Into egg yolk mixture stir two ounces crumbled blue cheese and omit salt. Or into egg yolk mixture stir one teaspoon crushed capers. Makes twelve hors d'oeuvres.

Twelfth Night Party Is Medieval Custom

CHOCOLATE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

Untrim the tree. It's Twelfth Night — January 6.

Every last vestige of decoration and green must come down to insure good luck in the New Year if you follow the medieval custom.

On this twelfth night after Christmas, often called the Festival of the Three Kings, the last of the fun-making was heightened with supper and Twelfth Night cake, which had a dried bean and a pea baked into it.

The man whose cake slice had the bean was crowned King of festivities. The woman who found the pea was his Queen. If the bean was discovered by a woman, she selected her sovereign. This custom probably goes back to ancient Greece when beans were used as ballots.

By selecting some elements of European tradition, you can adapt them well to a modern family party. Call in neighbors, too, especially youngsters. They'll enjoy the games, untrimming the tree and packing away ornaments.

Historically, the King or Queen presides over the entire party, so have refreshments first as you select the "reigning monarch," by a voting system or by drawing tabs from a hat. Let the simple supper be a favorite hearty casserole or zesty chili and bean casserole with crusty corn bread. Later, bring on the dessert. Chocolate Upside-Down Cake will be your updated version of the Twelfth Night cake.

This moist, light-textured cake made with sweet cooking chocolate is topped, when turned out of the pan, with a coconut-pecan topping. It's even richer when garnished with dollops of prepared whipped topping at serving time.

A traditional wassil bowl can be a hot fruit punch with or without spirit. Everybody will reign at these last-of-the-season parties.

CHOCOLATE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

One-fourth cup butter or margarine
One-half cup firmly packed brown sugar
Thirty-six (two-thirds cup) pecan halves
Two-thirds cup flaked coconut
Two tablespoons milk
One package (four-ounces) sweet cooking chocolate
One and one-half cups sifted cake flour
One cup granulated sugar
One-half teaspoon baking soda
One-half teaspoon double-acting baking powder
One-half teaspoon salt
One-third cup butter or margarine
Three-fourths cup buttermilk
One teaspoon vanilla
Two eggs

Melt one-fourth cup butter in a nine-inch square pan; blend in brown sugar. Arrange pecan halves in a decorative pattern on the sugar mixture. Then sprinkle with coconut and milk; set aside. Melt chocolate over low heat; cool.

Sift flour with granulated sugar, soda, baking powder and salt. Stir one-third cup butter to soften. Add flour mixture, one-fourth cup plus two tablespoons of the buttermilk and the vanilla. Mix until all flour is moistened; then beat two minutes at medium speed of electric mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand, scraping bowl occasionally.

Add melted chocolate, eggs and

EVERYBODY!

Okay, so it is sort of a corny take-off on Happy New Year. But the fact of the matter is if you are not healthy it is very hard to be happy. And with that thought in mind let's all make just one important, easy to keep New Year's resolution.

That is — Resolve to get an early physical check-up from your physician and then to see him at the first sign of illness without waiting until it gets serious. Further resolve to follow his advice faithfully and to promptly get the medicine he prescribes for you from the pharmacy of your choice.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

No Big Honor For Boss

Dear Ann: I thought your column was to read, not to write to, but now I've got a doozie!

I named our baby after my boss. I've been working for him for 12 years and think the world of the man. But honestly, Ann, there was never anything but friendship and respect between us.

My problem is two-fold: (1) People around the office kid him about the baby. Typical: "Well, how is your new son today?" (2) I've been told that his wife doesn't appreciate my naming the baby after him. (He is 59 and she is 51.)

I'd hate to give up my job over this but I can't continue working here if I don't find a solution. Can you help? — Rae

Fatal Drink

Dear Ann Landers: You've probably told your readers a thousand times, but once more won't hurt. Please tell them again: "If you drink, don't drive. If you drive, don't drink."

A young man of 34 was killed two days ago. He was a wonderful guy, but on occasion he drank a little too much. He apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car, rammed into a light post and was killed instantly. His passenger was critically injured.

This man had seven children — the youngest, three years old. His wife was so despondent she tried to commit suicide. She is in the hospital now, hovering between life and death.

I overheard one of the deceased's friends say, "I was with him that night. In fact, I was going to drive him home but he insisted he could manage O.K. I didn't want him to get mad at me."

How that man wishes he had risked his friend's wrath and taken his car keys away. Had he done so, seven children would not be mourning the death of their father — and maybe their mother as well. — Sad In Illinois

Dear Sad: Yes, I have said it time and time again, but it's worth repeating, especially since tomorrow night is New Year's Eve. "If you drink, don't drive. If you drive, don't drink." A boozed-up driver behind the wheel of a car is a potential suicide and/or a murderer.

No Bull

Dear Ann Landers: The reader who informed you that there is no BULL in Boston was right. The animal is rightly called a Boston Terrier. I will also go so far as to tell you there is no Toy, no Screwtail and no Bulldog either.

The Boston Terrier is known as the "American Gentleman." If you don't want to take my word for it, check with the Boston Terrier's Club of America in Mendon, Maine, or the American Kennel Club in New

Dr. Lester Coleman

How do stones form in the gall bladder? When the gall bladder is taken out what replaces it?

Mr. N.N., Wash.

Dear Mr. N.:

The gall bladder is a small, pear-shaped sac that lies on the undersurface of the liver.

The liver is a large organ that occupies the area below the diaphragm, in the upper right hand side of the abdomen.

The liver is the chemical warehouse of the body. It produces about one pint of bile each day.

The gall bladder stores some of this bile and sends it into the intestines through a tiny tube. When food, especially fatty food, is eaten, the flow of bile into the intestines increases.

Bile plays an important role in the process of digestion. Bile consists of a mixture of pigments and chemicals. Sometimes this mixture combines with calcium to form gall bladder stones.

The stones may then interfere with the flow of bile from the gall bladder into the intestines.

Chronic infection of the gall bladder, or large interfering stones in the gall bladder, may require its removal.

When the surgery is performed, the bile that continues to be manufactured by the liver flows directly into the small intestine.

Thus, the important function of digestion continues.

I get an attack of hives about every two months. No one has been able to track down the cause. Can you make any helpful suggestions?

Miss D.F., S.C.

Dear Miss F.:

I can sympathize with you because I know the difficulty in tracking down the source of your problem.

Food, food additives and their coloring agents, drugs, antibiotics, inhalants, cosmetics, singly or in combination, may be the cause of hives.

Exposure to cold, to heat, to sun may also produce these itchy, blotchy round welts of the skin.

In addition, it has been well established that emotional stress and tensions may be responsible.

When any of dozens of factors may be involved it is clearly understandable why the offender may be so difficult to pinpoint.

Close cooperation with your doctor, especially an allergist, can start an elimination technique whereby suspected causes may be eliminated, one by one.

A detailed record must be kept of all foods, beverages,

Do-It-Yourself Security Can Make Home Safe

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

It is possible to live alone without fear, women are advised by long-time expert on burglaries Robert J. McDermott of New York.

A few precautions and do-it-yourself security even can make your home a safe place.

"More women are living alone and many are too trusting. One woman viewed a rapist through the peephole. He had a package that she hadn't ordered but she opened the door anyway, his feelings because he was poorly dressed, she said."

It is all the more puzzling because such crimes — "the fellow who wants his victim to be home" — are common occurrences, he says.

"Burglar or rapist, the name of the game is: keep him out," McDermott advises.

Precautions should include: Don't list a feminine first name in the telephone book or mail box — use an initial, have a telephone at bedside, a key-controlled lock (or do-it-yourself nail lock) on your bedroom window, and a pick-resistant lock, peephole and chain on your door. He and others have often decided that although it may not protect property, "it can protect physical well-being." A stranger can be asked to leave the package at the door and to pass the paper needing a signature through the chained door gap.

The majority of burglaries are committed by burglars coming through doors in apartments and through windows and glass doors in houses, he claims.

"In houses they choose a floor-level window instead of the small basement window, which most people keep locked — they don't want to encounter another lock when they creep up to the basement door..."

"A burglar must have an easy way out. He chooses a window — unlocked probably — on the opposite side of a driveway or where shrubbery provides cover. Or he may choose a back door."

McDermott, 48, learned every trick and ruse used by criminals in his two decades as a detective with the New York police department — he retired four years ago — where he "established methods of entry to investigate sophisticated burglaries — where means of entry were not readily apparent." He is security consultant to Emhart, maker of locks and vice president of Holmes Protection, running their guard services that investigate the effectiveness of international security.

Although a ferry-gate (iron grille) is the best form of window protection, he explained, it is usually aesthetically unacceptable.

But a good way to prevent a window being forced open is this: Drill a hole in the upper corner of the lower sash and half-way into the lower corner of the upper sash. Insert a ten-penny nail into it. Drill a second hole in upper sash about four inches above the first so the window can be opened for ventilation. The hole should be slightly larger so the nail will stay when pushed in, but can be removed easily.

If a key-controlled window lock is used, leave the key in it for fire escape. For back doors, French doors and some other doors he likes a drop-bolt lock that can be opened only with a key from the inside. These are a waste of a burglar's time — after he breaks a door glass, he can't turn the bolt, he says.

On sliding glass doors, a charley-bar controlled device will allow ventilation, but if you don't want to spend the money, close the door, cut a broom handle to size and drop the handle into the track to obstruct the door movement.

A door needs only one pick-resistant lock, which is available, he insists. These have interlocking series of tumblers in one unit of the cylinder instead of two, require a special key and cannot be picked, in his opinion.

Some people use as many as five locks, locking three on the "ludicrous assumption" that a burglar will lock himself out picking the two unlocked ones "but a good lock picker knows when he has thrown a bolt." Strangely, McDermott has observed the multi-locks on doors of those engaged in criminal activity, and he has picked them.

"Lock picking has become garden variety burglary. A door that locks when it is slammed can be picked in seconds with a celluloid strip or bank calendar, the most common forms of surreptitious entry. A good lock that requires a key can keep a burglar busy while you call the

McDermott has won prizes picking "unpickable locks" — he has been stymied by one — and as a detective on homicide burglaries he often had to determine "how the guy got in — did she admit him?" He knew that "if the man picked his way we were dealing with a different breed of cat."

"Some people believe burglary is a sexual crime with Freudian elements," he observes, and from the things he has noticed, "if a lock picker comes upon a woman alone, he is likely to rape."

What to do if you wake up and the burglar is in your bedroom? Feign sleep, he says. He may take valuables and leave. If he is in another room, lock the bedroom door, if you can, telephone the police and then scream. This should scare him off unless the bedroom lies between him and his exit. Then if he can conveniently reach the room, he may try to silence the screamer.

West cashes one heart and stops to think. It is obvious that South started with just one heart. It is also obvious that his trumps will be solid so West shifts to a trump. South still uses that ace of clubs to get to dummy to lead a second heart and runs off all his club and diamond winners but the squeeze fails to operate. East hangs on to his jack of hearts and West to his king-jack of spades.

Ask the Jacobys

A reader from Pompano Beach wants to know how we play the three-spade overcall of an opening bid of one in a lower suit.

We play it just the same as an opening three-spade bid. Not much in high cards, but seven tricks if vulnerable and six if not vulnerable. Thus, we would overcall three spades with seven to the king-queen-jack, if not vulnerable. However, you don't have to play it that weak if you don't want to.

Judge Refuses To Bar Layoffs

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — An Ingham County judge has refused to issue an injunction barring the state Department of Mental Health from laying off several hundred employees as a result of state spending cuts.

Ingham County Circuit Court Judge John Warren said Monday he could not order the injunction as asked by a state employees union in a suit filed last week because the union failed to prove "immediate irreparable harm" would occur to patients if the layoffs occurred.

The suit was filed by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME). The union contended plans to layoff some 600-800 mental health employees were unconstitutional, because they threatened adequate patient care as guaranteed by the Michigan Constitution.

But Judge Warren said Monday that "courts ought not to be too hasty in declaring invalid the conduct of the governor and the legislature."

"It has to be a very clear case," Warren said, "and the proofs today did not demonstrate irreparable harm."

AFSCME maintained the layoffs will begin Jan. 3-4 throughout state mental health institutions, but department director Dr. Donald Smith said he did not yet know where the layoffs will occur.

State budget director Gerald Miller has said he expects only about 500 employees would be laid off.

The department was told to cut $7 million from its spending under Gov. William Milliken's order to trim state spending.

Hearings on the case are set to resume in late spring, but Warren said they could begin as early as February because of the urgency of the suit.

EARLY IN 1776 British Gen. Sir Henry Clinton led an expedition down the Atlantic coast to cooperate with the strong Tory factions in the southern states. The command got off to a late start and, by the time Clinton reached an appointed rendezvous, Tory forces in Virginia and North Carolina had been defeated and dispersed. He then decided to capture Charleston, S.C., for use as a base of operations, but a four-week siege, beginning on June 1, was beaten off by the determined resistance of Col. William Moultrie's small force on Sullivan's Island.

Lottery Rich Get Richer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mary Glonek, who won $10,000 in the state's instant lottery in October, will win at least that much all over again shortly.

Mrs. Glonek, of Hamtramck, was one of six "lottery losers" who won spots Friday on the Lottery Super Play television show, where prizes range from $10,000 to $200,000.

Other winners include John Bass of Boynton Beach, Fla.; Rose Ajoian of Birmingham; H. A. Doyle of Royal Oak; Gary Lawson of Walled Lake and Richard Walker of Coldwater.

The six big winners will be assigned to a specific show over the next few weeks.

Another 600 people won $500, $200, $100 and $50 cash prizes or lifetime lottery subscriptions valued at $24.

The winners were drawn from hundreds of thousands of losing tickets from the Dec. 18 weekly drawing.

A second losers drawing will be held Jan. 7, from losing tickets submitted from the Dec. 26 drawing.

Losers should send two tickets, with their name, address and phone number, to Lucky Losers, P. O. Box 4040, Lansing 48904. Losing tickets from the Dec. 18 drawing may also be submitted, lottery officials said.

Protests Greet Ombudsman Entry Into Flint Probe

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Flint's new ombudsman has entered the investigation of a shootout in which two Flint police officers, one of them a woman, were wounded at the Flint police garage Saturday.

Police Chief Herbert A. Adams and Teamsters Local 214, which represents Flint police officers, both expressed opposition to the move by ombudsman Joseph E. Dupcz.

Dupcz obtained an order Monday from District Court Judge Dale Riker directing that all records in the case be turned over to him.

The intervention of the new ombudsman, who took office a month ago, added another to the string of city and county investigations of the shooting, which was touched off when the two officers argued over which was to drive their patrol car.

Policewoman Madeline C. Fletcher, 20, remained hospitalized with a bullet wound to the chest. Genesee County Prosecutor Robert Leonard said the female officer, who had been placed under arrest at one stage of the investigation, was no longer under arrest. She was still confined to her hospital bed.

Also hospitalized was patrolman Walter Kalberer, 34, an eight-year veteran of the force. Kalberer was recovering from a bullet wound in the thigh.

Flint police Capt. William Bannister repeated his contention Monday that, "As far as we can determine, this was not a racial confrontation or a sexual one."

Miss Fletcher, who recently completed her probationary year on the force, is black. Patrolman Kalberer is white.

Dupcz, who took office last month when a new city charter went into effect, has the responsibility of representing citizens in any disputes they might have with city government. Dupcz said he entered the case after a complaint was filed with his office. But he refused to say who or what group had filed it.

Chief Adams said he did not want to relinquish department records to the ombudsman but at the same time did not want to face possible contempt of court charges by refusing to do so.

The Teamsters local protested the handing over of the records in the case, contending that under its contract with the city, all reports involving police officers are for departmental use only.

Hurley Hospital attendants declined to release any new reports on the medical condition of the two wounded officers. The last report Saturday night said both were stable.

Preliminary police reports indicated Miss Fletcher fired the first shot and that she was shot in return either by Kalberer or one of several other officers in the garage area during the shift switchover.

Lenawee May Not Get Whalen Back

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP) — Lenawee County officials say they are taking a "wait-and-see" attitude about whether convicted burglar John Whalen should be returned to the county to serve a jail term.

Whalen has been in the custody of U.S. marshals since Christmas Eve.

"As long as they've got him, we're not concerned," said Lenawee Circuit Court Judge Rex Martin on Monday.

Sheriff Richard Germond and Martin said there is no guarantee of when or even if Whalen will be returned to the county.

Eastern Michigan U.S. Marshal Anthony Rozman said on Monday that Whalen remains in the protective custody of the marshals. Rozman said he understands from "hearsay" from his agents that Whalen's physical condition is improving.

Whalen, a government informer, was hospitalized Dec. 19 in Macomb County for treatment of gunshot wounds and burns. He said he had been abducted and tortured.

Whalen was the prosecution's key witness against John Swainson, state Supreme Court justice and a former Michigan governor, last fall in a bribe conspiracy-perjury case. He is wanted under a court order to serve time for the 1969 burglary of an Adrian jewelry store.

"To my knowledge, Whalen won't be turned over" to Lenawee County authorities, Rozman said. He indicated an agreement had been reached between state and federal officials that Whalen would serve his jail term in a federal rather than a state institution.

Rozman said Whalen would enter a federal institution "in the near future." He added that Whalen's prison whereabouts may not be disclosed either before or after he enters a facility. This could be a precaution to protect the government informer while he serves his term.

Robert Ozer, U.S. Organized Crime Strike Force chief, refused to talk to reporters about Whalen. FBI agents in Detroit said they had no comment on the case.

The Lenawee County sheriff said he filed a detainer with the U.S. Marshal's office Dec. 19, the day Whalen was shot. That same day Martin revoked Whalen's $50,000 bond and issued a bench warrant for him.

Hoosiers Seek Hearings In Berrien District Court

Two Indiana men charged with carrying a concealed pistol demanded examinations yesterday in Berrien Fifth District court.

Also yesterday two people were bound over to Circuit court, 15 were sentenced, one pleaded innocent and a charge against another was dismissed.

Demanding examinations on the weapons charges were Del A. Turner, 21, and Lel R. Newlon, 19, both of Michigan City. They were jailed under $5,000 bonds. New Buffalo city police reported Turner and Newlon were arrested early Monday when a car was stopped on US-12.

Bound over to Circuit court were:

David E. Hawks, 25, of 1989 John Beers road, Stevensville, charged with obtaining over $100 using false pretenses Sept. 17 in Lincoln township. He continued free on $2,000 bond. He waived examination.

Josephas W. Williams, 31, of Youngstown, Ohio, charged with receiving and concealing stolen property valued over $100 — a 1975 Cadillac — Dec. 16 in Benton township. He was returned to the county jail in lieu of posting bond of $20,000. Vincent A. Thomas, 25, also of Youngstown, who was originally charged with the same offense, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge involving property under $100 and was sentenced to 13 days in jail.

A charge of second degree criminal sexual conduct, indecent liberties, was dismissed against John L. Ward, 30, of 1367 Agard avenue, Benton township. The charge was dismissed because the mother of the alleged victim, a 7-year-old girl, said that she and the girl were mistaken about the identity of the suspect, said Asst. Prosecutor Patrick Murphy.

Pleading innocent to a charge of entering a Benton township home without breaking Dec. 29 was Larry M. Verrington, 32, of 4009 Atherton, Coloma. He was jailed in lieu of $750 bail.

Sentenced were:

Gary Norton, 19, of 777 Ogden, Benton Harbor, fine and costs of $75, or 14 days in jail, for attempting to elude police in Benton township Dec. 28.

James L. Cartwright, 24, of Hagar Shore road, Coloma township, three days in jail and $75, or 30 days in jail total, for driving while license revoked; and $150 and six months probation for driving while intoxicated. Both offenses happened in Benton township Dec. 25.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Assault and battery — Wanda Sue Lively, 17, of 1442 East Napier, Benton township, $100 and one year probation, against Benton township Sgt. David Parsons; Moses J. Moore, 17, of 636 Clay, Benton Harbor, 90 days in jail, against Benton Harbor Patrolman William Kronbitter.

U.S. Queen Of The Seas Still In Need Of A Buyer

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite what one of her original builders calls a "fire sale" price tag, the government has spent more than two fruitless years trying to find a buyer for the SS United States.

Embodying the heritage of Yankee clipper ships, the swift North Atlantic passenger ship ever built is moored free of charge at a state-owned pier in Norfolk, Va., still the victim of the same economic factors on which she foundered six years ago.

The ship represents taxpayers' investment of more than $175.4 million. But even at the current price tag of $7.5 million — a 38 per cent markdown in two years — the government cannot find any takers.

The latest in a series of auctions was canceled by the Maritime Administration earlier this month because no one submitted any bids.

Since buying the liner in February 1973, from United States Line, Inc., the Maritime Administration has received proposals to convert the liner into a residence for senior citizens, a touring bicentennial exhibit, a floating college and a "follow the sun" condominium for people willing to spend up to $2.5 million for an individual

Club Praises Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is to be commended for improving White House relations with the press, but his chief spokesman gave a "disastrous nonperformance" on the recent China trip, the National Press Club says.

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — President Ford, heading home after an eight-day skiing holiday, may find his campaign committee embroiled in controversy because of a departure-eve party in his honor.

The key question is whether the Monday night party was planned as a social gathering by Ford fund-raiser Sheila Gramshammer or to funnel money into Ford's presidential campaign. Ford, who planned to fly back to Washington today, said he didn't know if Mrs. Gramshammer was raising money for him.

Ford spokesman Ron Nessen said Ford's campaign committee and aides had tried to keep the dinner out of the fund-raising category.

Nessen told reporters the event originally was planned as a $1,000 a couple fund-raiser. But he said that would have meant the President Ford Committee would have had to reimburse the Air Force for a portion of Ford's flight to Colorado because part of the trip, paid for by the taxpayers, would then be classified as political.

A Ford aide who declined to be identified said Mrs. Gramshammer was cautioned by the Ford committee to mail cards seeking money from Vail residents only after the party. This source said she apparently misunderstood, sending the cards at the same time as the invitations.

Nessen acknowledged Mrs. Gramshammer had mailed about 100 pledge cards before the dinner. He said cards and invitations were not in the same envelopes but might have been sent in the same mail.

He said Mrs. Gramshammer, a former Las Vegas showgirl, proposed a year ago that she plan a campaign fund-raiser for Ford's visit and that there was a series of communications between the White House, the campaign committee and Mrs. Gramshammer before the party was set. He said Ford agreed to attend if it were not labeled a fund-raiser.

Ford skied during the day with Mrs. Gramshammer. When he was asked by reporters if she was raising money for his campaign, Ford replied, "I don't know anything about it. I've got a lot of friends here."

Mrs. Gramshammer said mailing the pledge cards had nothing to do with the party. Asked about reports from residents that they were being asked to contribute to attend the party, she said, "People can give what they want. There is no force. They can give $10 or whatever. I don't know what they've given."

But some Vail winter residents reported they had been solicited to give $1,000 a couple for the dinner and said they felt pressured.

Sources said the party, held in a club owned by Mrs.

Gramshammer, included contributors as guests, but Nessen said in advance, "Some of the people who are coming are not contributors and some who are contributors are not coming."

As of Dec. 23, Nessen said, 11 persons had pledged $10,000 as a result of Mrs. Gramshammer's efforts. He referred reporters to the Ford committee for later information. But in Washington, a committee aide said only a skeleton staff was on duty during the holiday and that "our finance people don't know anything about it."

Ford campaign manager Howard Callaway said, "I don't think it's a fund-raiser in the sense that you can only come if you donate so much money... I really don't know much about this party."

Hospital Officers Get New Terms At Watervliet

By LARRY MacINTYRE
Staff Writer

WATERVLIET — Watervliet Community hospital's board of trustees last night re-elected its four officers to second one-year terms. Officers re-elected were Richard Lindenberg of Sister Lakes, president; Mrs. Maxine Brule of Watervliet, vice president; Mrs. Mary Tatter of Watervliet, secretary; and Edward C. Baers of rural Watervliet, treasurer.

The officers were re-elected at the board's monthly meeting which followed its annual meeting. Lindenberg was first elected president one year ago.

During the board's annual meeting, four trustees were re-elected to three year terms on the 12-member board. They were Robert Strasburg of Benton Harbor, Claude Unrath of Hartford, James DeLapa of Coloma, and Harry Cherry of Hartford.

Also during the annual meeting, the board got its first glimpse of the financial statement prepared for the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30.

The report noted that operating expenses for the hospital in fiscal year 1975 totaled $1,886,993, which was a 16.3 per cent increase over 1974's operating expenses of $1,621,906.

Revenue for fiscal year 1975 also showed a percentage increase, but not quite as much. The hospital took in $1,953,724 in 1975, a 14.7 per cent increase over 1974's revenue of $1,703,080.

That left the hospital with a net income in 1975 of $66,731, according to James Vandenberg, the certified public accountant who presented the report to the board.

Vandenberg, of the Lansing

firm of Danielson, Schultz and Company, said the hospital overall was in a "sound financial situation."

He warned, however, that revenue during 1976 will be reduced because of ceilings placed on the payment of hospital bills by Blue Cross-Blue Shield, and federal Medicare and Medicaid programs.

About 75 per cent of the hospital's revenue comes from these sources, according to Howard Parker, hospital administrator.

Vandenberg said reserves in the Michigan Blue Cross fund and the Medicaid fund were being depleted, and consequently, the hospital could expect a slowdown in payments through 1976.

In another area, Parker said after the meeting that the board hopes to undertake an early construction date on its planned replacement facility which could result in a savings of $400,000.

Parker said if construction could begin on the facility by July 1, 1976, the total construction cost could be reduced from $5.2 million to $4.8 million. The construction cost of $5.2 million is based on a starting date of April, 1977, he said.

The $400,000 savings would be realized through the purchase of materials and labor at 1976 prices rather than 1977 prices, he said.

No decision on the starting date can be made until the hospital's fund-drive goal of $750,000 is reached and a low-interest federal loan is secured, Parker said.

Rezoning Needed For Hospital Site

WATERVLIET — A Watervliet city commissioner last night told the commission that property proposed as the site for a new community hospital is not zoned properly for the development.

Commissioner Thomas Murphy said the property, a 23-acre tract of land adjacent to the Watervliet high school, is zoned rural-residential which permits only residential homes, churches, parks and playgrounds to be built on the property.

Murphy said, "the hospital board either doesn't realize there's a zoning problem or they don't want to face it."

Murphy recommended the city zoning board, whose members attended last night's meeting, contact the hospital board and notify them the property must be rezoned, or the hospital can't be built on the site.

Murphy further suggested the zoning board strongly consider obtaining a letter from the hospital board saying it would not oppose light industrial developments around its location or further development of the area which conforms to present zoning surrounding the property.

The Community hospital board is presently in the process of purchasing the property for constructing a $5.2 million, 70-bed hospital facility.

Under the city's zoning ordinance, only a multiple dwelling district, would allow for construction of a non-profit hospital according to Murphy.

Murphy added the zoning surrounding the proposed hospital site could be developed in many ways, including light industrial. The eastern edge of the property abuts a Watervliet township farm.

William McLain, chairman of the city's zoning board, said he would contact hospital officials regarding the need to have the property rezoned.

In other areas, the commission accepted the bid of Art Overhuel Motor Sales, South Haven, for a 1976 Dodge police car, for $4,196.

Commissioner William Loshbough, chairman of the police committee, said the cost is $1,500 less than prices paid previously for another make vehicle.

The commission took no action on allocating future federal revenue sharing funds for its share of purchasing a new fire pumper ordered earlier this year by the joint Watervliet city-township fire board.

Action was tabled when Murphy pointed out the commission was a "lame duck" one with three new commissioners and a new mayor to take office in three days. Murphy held the present commission should not bind the incoming commission.

Commissioner Richard Fox said he would bring up the subject again at the commission's Jan. 6 meeting.

who started the job with apparent good relations with the mayor. However, evident conflict developed between the two over the past year.

Morrison declined to comment on his termination last night.

Under the conditions of Shepherd's resolution, Morrison's contract will be terminated when it expires Wednesday. The resolution and the city charter also provide that a lump sum cash payment equal to three months' base salary and payment for incurred vacation and sick leave be made.

Joseph has tried unsuccessfully to get the city charter revised to provide for a strong mayor government. His pay from the city under the present charter is $5 a meeting, the same as the rest of the commission.

Joseph currently is on leave from his job at Whirlpool Corporation as manager of urban affairs.

Rash Of Crashes Blamed On Icy Twin City Roads

A total of 40 traffic accidents were attributed by police to snow, slush and ice covered roads in the Twin Cities area during a 10-hour period Monday. Five of the accidents resulted in apparently minor injuries to 17 people and hospitalized one man. One of the accidents involved five cars in Benton township. Another, St. Joseph police said, resulted when two drivers, surveying damage to their cars in a non-injury mishap, were pinned between their cars when a third car hit the rear of one of the cars.

Reported in "fair" condition today at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, was Robert A. Bain, 1212 Mohawk lane, St. Joseph. He was identified by Benton township police as the driver of one of the cars in the five-car accident. A passenger in one of the cars, Kim Kiessling, 17, of 1646 Pipestone road, Benton township, was treated and released from Mercy. She was in a car driven by Robert D. Owen, 19, route 2, Box 408, Biastock road, Bainbridge township, who was unhurt. Police said Owen was ticketed for speed too fast for conditions.

Police reported the accident occurred on Napier avenue at the intersection of Union street, Fairplain, about 6:45 p.m. None of the other three drivers involved in the accident was injured, police said.

Two drivers standing between their cars were reported treated and released from St. Joseph's Memorial hospital after they were pinned between the cars when a third car hit the rear of one of the cars. Injured were Matthew Alfred Shulke, 17, of 1310 Wolcott avenue, St. Joseph, and Vernon Robert Ullig, 22, of 4436 Terra lane, Royalton township, St. Joseph police said.

Driver of the third car was identified as Howard M. Hutchinson, 61, of 2523 Thayer drive, St. Joseph. He was unhurt and police said he was ticketed for failure to stop in an assured, clear distance. The accident occurred on Main street south of Park street about 7 p.m.

Another accident, involving two cars, investigated by Benton township police resulted in injuries to seven members of a Covert family and the driver of the second car. All were treated and released from Memorial hospital. Police said the accident occurred at 3:30 p.m. on US-33 south of Monte road.

The injured were identified as Sharon A. Snyder, 33, and her six children, Gene, 11, Jeff, 9, Trina, 8, Lance, 6, Missy, 4, and Derrick, 3, all of route 2, Box 211, Covert. The injured driver of the other car was identified as Judy A. Holman, 27, no address reported. No tickets were issued, police indicated.

In another accident on US-33, north of Coloma road, Hagar township, Berrien sheriff's deputies said two people were hurt shortly before 5 p.m.

Deputies said a car driven by Bonnie Jean Everett, 48, route 2, Box 214, US-33, Hagar township, slid on an icy spot and went into a ditch off the road. She and her passenger, Donna Blaylock, 22, of 917 Pearl street, St. Joseph, were treated and released from Memorial hospital. No citations were issued.

deputies said.

Benton Harbor police said three people received minor injuries in a two-car collision on Britain avenue east of Cedar street about 8:50 p.m.

Driver of one of the cars, Bonnie Dea Akinyele, 27, of 406 Urbandale avenue, Benton township, was treated for bruises and released from Mercy hospital. Driver of the other car, identified by police as Terry Lynn Vaughn, 21, of 1127 Lavette street, Benton Harbor, was not hurt. His wife, Letoria, 20, and daughter, Leticia, 2, reportedly sought their own treatment for minor injuries. Vaughn was ticketed, police indicated, for failure to have his vehicle under control.

Attendant: Robbery Try Foiled

NEW BUFFALO — State police here are investigating a report by a New Buffalo truck-top attendant that he foiled an armed holdup attempt early this morning when the would-be robber's gun did not fire.

Carl Simmons, 41, 518 West Buffalo street, New Buffalo, an attendant at the Hildebrand's Truck garage, located at corner of M-239 and I-49, south of New Buffalo, reported the holdup attempt about 1:55 a.m. today.

Simmons told troopers that a lone gunman in his early 20's entered the garage, demanded cash and was given about $100.

Police said Simmons reported that as the gunman walked past him out of the garage, he pointed a revolver and pulled the trigger twice but the gun did not fire.

Police said Simmons reported he wrestled with the man after the gun failed to fire and the cash fell to the floor during the scuffle.

Simmons told officers that the man fled from the store empty-handed, running towards the interstate.

Simmons described the man to police as about 5 foot 7 and white.

Alleged Pistol Pointer Subdued

By TOM SAWYER
Staff Writer

Two St. Joseph township police officers escaped injury Monday when a gun, that a woman allegedly aimed at them and pulled the trigger three times, turned out to be empty.

Officers Gregory Duerr and Kevin Kramp said they were attempting to talk a woman into giving up the .22 caliber revolver when she allegedly tried to fire at them about 6 p.m. at her home.

The officers identified the woman as Betty L. Seymour, 47, of 709 Grant avenue. Officers reported filing no charges, but Mrs. Seymour was admitted to Riverwood Community Mental Health clinic, St. Joseph, after being treated for a cut to her hand. The cut was sustained apparently from a glass storm door, officers indicated.

According to police, the woman's husband, Walter, who was at home during the incident, was unhurt. Seven suspected bullet holes were found by police in the kitchen and garage of the home.

Duerr and Kramp reported they were in the driveway of the home and the woman was standing in the garage service door when the gun was allegedly pointed at them. They said they were able to subdue the woman in the kitchen. She was not holding the pistol at that time, officers indicated.

Police said they were called to Grant avenue by a report of gunshots.

GUN CONFISCATED: St. Joseph township police officers Kevin Kramp and Gregory Duerr said this gun, allegedly pointed at them and trigger pulled three times by woman Monday, did not go off because it was empty. They said they were trying to talk woman into giving up gun.

Five Berrien Villages Will Have Primaries

Five of six Berrien county villages with elections slated for March will hold party primary runoffs Feb. 16.

The runoffs became necessary because of the number of candidates from the same party filing for a particular office within one of the villages by the deadline yesterday.

The five are Berrien Springs, Eau Claire, Galien, Stevensville and Three Oaks. The sixth village is Baroda. Galien, Eau Claire and Stevensville have party battles on tap for the village president's post. General elections will be held March 8.

By community, the filings were:

Baroda

BARODA — All incumbents will seek re-election without opposition in the Baroda village election March 8.

Filing were Jerry Piley, Republican, for president; Mrs. Ileen Tollas, Democrat, clerk; Mrs. Leona Ott, Democrat, treasurer; and Henry A. Nitz, Republican, assessor. The terms are for two years.

Filing for three four-year terms of council trustees were Albert Reifschneider, Republican, and Howard Gaul and Ronald Zordell, both Democrats.

Deadline for filing nominating petitions was yesterday at 4 p.m.

Berrien Springs

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Four Republicans will be seeking their party's nomination for three, four-year seats as trustees in a village primary election here Feb. 16.

Filing nominating petitions prior to yesterday's deadline for the three seats were Republican incumbents Larry French, Rexford Koetsier, and Harold Wagner. They are being challenged by Republican Edwin Racine. No Democrats filed for their party's nomination for trustee.

Other candidates filing for various village offices were: President — Edgar Kesterke, incumbent Republican; Clerk — Wade Gorham, incumbent Republican; Treasurer — Olga Spaulding, incumbent Republican; and Assessor — Glen Briggs, incumbent Democrat. The offices are for two years.

Three incumbent Republicans also filed for their library board posts. They were Elva Nothstine, Marion Nichols, and William C. Rice. The seats are for four years.

The general election will be March 8.

Eau Claire

EAU CLAIRE — A race for the Democratic nomination for the office of village president faced this village as the deadline for candidates to file passed yesterday.

The contest forced the scheduling of a primary election for Feb. 16. Involved will be Marvin LaVany, incumbent village president, and James C. Crowder, a current village council trustee whose term there is expiring. No Republicans filed for the two-year office.

Only one formal Democrat-Republican battle was on tap for the March 8 election as a result of the filings. Incumbent Clerk James Newman, a Democrat, will face Ruth Sharpe for the new two-year term.

Others filing without opposition were, according to Carol Rumbaugh, deputy clerk:

Treasurer — Peggy LaVany, incumbent Democrat. Assessor — Kenneth Karn, incumbent Democrat.

Filing for three, four-year seats as trustees were: Billie tified by the state to serve.

Reviewing other areas in which he would like to have more work done, Flaherty cited the following:

Full use of the city's public works garage on Butternut street. According to Flaherty, the garage, built in 1970, is not being used to its full capacity. He said city equipment is scattered at various locations throughout the city.

The northwest drain, where excessive flooding has occurred over the past two years, also needs corrective measures, according to Flaherty.

Flaherty said he would also like to see a centerline painted along Paw Paw avenue and Riverside road, to help eliminate the possibility of traffic accidents. The roads were resurfaced earlier this year, but no centerlines were painted, he said.

Head-On Crash Kills Woman, Injures Four

DECATUR — A Hartford woman was killed and four other people were injured in a two-car, head-on collision southwest of here yesterday afternoon.

State police at Paw Paw said Mrs. Maxine Ward Evans, 47, 36 West South street, was pronounced dead on arrival at Lee Memorial hospital, Dowagiac.

Troopers said Mrs. Evans was the driver of a car westbound on M-51 near Celery Center road, when an oncoming auto driven by Mrs. Ort's husband, Eugene, 20, was listed in stable condition with a broken jaw at Memorial hospital, St. Joseph.

Police said the accident is still under investigation.

Mrs. Evans was born Jan. 5, 1928, in McDonald, Mich. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Charlotte Yates and Mrs. Beatrice West, both of Hartford; a son, Charles E. Ward Jr., Seattle, Wash.; a brother, Harvey Thornton, Portage, Mich., and two sisters, Mrs. Harold (Kathern) Schminaur, Bangor, and Mrs. Gail (Beatrice) Nelson.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete this forenoon at Calvin funeral home, Hartford, where friends may call after 7 this evening.

Memorials may be made to the Diabetes Foundation or Van Buren County Drug Abuse program.

17 Auto Deaths In Van Buren County In 1975

Mrs. Mary Ort, 19, 612 North Fifth street, Niles, reportedly slid into the path of the Evans car.

Police said a light film of newly fallen snow made the road slippery. Mrs. Evans' death was the 17th traffic fatality on Van Buren county roads this year. The accident occurred about 12:55 p.m.

Mrs. Evans' former son-in-law, Lloyd Yates, 36, box 352, Hartford, a passenger in her car, was listed in critical condition after undergoing surgery at Lee Memorial, according to a hospital spokesman. Police said he suffered a broken leg, and had possible fractures of both arms.

Mrs. Ort, who is pregnant, suffered a broken right arm, according to police, and is listed in good condition. Her daughter, Leah, 20 months, was treated for cuts and released, a hospital spokesman said.

MRS. MAXINE EVANS Killed in crash

Galien

GALIEN — Primary races for the Democratic nomination for Galien village president and three trustee posts face voters here in a village primary election Feb. 16.

Seeking the Democratic nomination for village president are incumbent Robert E. James and challenger Richard R. Potter. No Republicans filed nominating petitions for the post prior to yesterday's deadline.

Four Democrats also filed for the three, four-year seats as village trustees at stake in the village elections. They are incumbents Raymond M. Backus, Jack B. Canfield, and Paul Warner, plus challenger James R. Foster. Also filing nominating petitions was Stephen M. Nichols, Republican challenger.

Candidates filing for other village offices were: Clerk — Sandra Ostrander, incumbent Democrat; treasurer — Naomi Warner, incumbent Democrat; and Gregory Holdridge, Republican challenger; Assessor — Johanna M. Backus, incumbent Democrat.

The general election will be March 8.

Stevensville

Stevensville village will hold a primary election Feb. 16 to settle a Republican race for nomination as village president.

Seeking the nomination are Arthur Kasewurm, incumbent, and Ruben B. Newman. Filing for the two-year post on the Democratic ticket was Conrad Stampach.

Candidates for all other village offices will be unopposed in gaining their party's nomination but will face each other in the March 8 election. All offices are two-year terms.

Running without opposition in the primary on the Republican ticket will be incumbents Mrs. Bernice Schoenfelder, clerk; Ervin Fechner, treasurer; Robert Sturch, assessor; and Donald DeMorrow, Richard Kramer and William Heyn, Jr., for three trustee seats.

Democratic candidates are Mrs. Edna M. Zandarski, treasurer; Mrs. Lois M. Akins, clerk; and Richard G. Zandarski and John Akins, both seeking the trustee posts.

Three Oaks

THREE OAKS — Republican runoffs for nominations to five village trustee seats face village voters here in a primary election Feb. 16, following yesterday's filing deadline.

Seeking the GOP nomination for three, four-year seats as trustees are incumbent Dennis Grosse, and challengers Richard Wooley, Jerry Thomas, and Rev. Ronald Mason. The lone Democrat to file was Anthony Benhart Jr.

Four Republicans also filed for two, two-year seats as trustees. They are Chester Decker, incumbent, and challengers Mrs. Hannah Noble, Thomas Shubert and Louis Przybylinski. GOP incumbents LaVern Noble, and Gerald Nye did not file nominating petitions.

Herbert Klinedinst, incumbent Republican trustee, was the only candidate to file for the office of village president. James Hausman, village president, did not file.

Other candidates filing for various village offices were: Clerk — Mrs. Gertrude Miller, incumbent Republican; and Treasurer — Wilbur Warren, incumbent Republican.

Last day for voters to register for the Feb. 16 primary is Jan. 19. Registration deadline for the general election on March 8, is Feb. 9.

Holiday Hours Announced By Niles Library

NILES — The Niles Community library will close at 3 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 31, for New Year's eve, and will reopen at 9 a.m. Friday, Jan. 2, according to a library announcement.

Filings Assure Two Van Buren Runoffs

Primary election contests took shape in two of six Van Buren county villages yesterday as the result of candidate filings by the filing deadline yesterday.

Both primary contests were for village council offices. In Paw Paw, the battle will be among Republicans while in Decatur, it will be among the Democrats.

The filings also produced four potential contests for March 8 regular election voting.

Of the four, one was already in doubt. Involved was a contest for village presidency in Decatur where a petition was filed for the incumbent who had previously announced he would not seek re-election.

Lawrence also has a contest for the presidency on tap while in Bloomingdale contests are scheduled for the treasurer's office and the village council offices at stake.

By community, the filings, showed:

Bloomingdale

BLOOMINGDALE — No primary election contests developed here yesterday as the filing deadline for candidates for the village elections passed, but two races shaped up for the regular balloting in March.

According to Jim Petty, village clerk, the races will be for the treasurer's office and for three available village council seats. The general election will be held March 8.

In the trustee race, Republican incumbents Stephen Dickerson and George Scamehorn will oppose Democrats Herbert VanHorn, Jr., an incumbent, and Petty. Terms are for four-years and the top three vote getters will be the winners.

In the race for treasurer, Republican incumbent Mrs. Julia Murray will oppose Mrs. Velma Knapp, a Democrat.

Candidates for the other two-year offices at stake in the voting will be unopposed. Incumbent Village President Richard M. Dickerson is seeking another term, Miss Janet DeKam is seeking the clerk's position, and Morris Harpham is seeking the assessor's post. All three are Republicans.

Breedsville

BREEDSVILLE — All candidates for village offices in the March 8 election will run unopposed, and all are incumbents, according to Mrs. Eileen Monahan, village clerk. Her statement came after the deadline for candidates to file passed yesterday.

Raymond Johnson is seeking re-election to the post of village president. Mrs. Monahan is again running for clerk. Mrs. Grace Fish is again seeking the treasurer's post, and Bruce Mortenson is seeking another term as assessor. All these offices are two-year terms.

Three incumbents on the village council are seeking re-election to four-year terms. They are Walter Tomszak, Robert Taylor and Tony Klinge.

Decatur

DECATUR — Keith Leighton who announced in November he would not seek another term as village president here got a surprise yesterday.

A petition putting his name on the ballot for re-election was filed by the 4 p.m. deadline for candidates for the village's March 8 election.

Leighton said he was not sure who had filed the petition and said it was a surprise. He said he would make up his mind in the next couple of days about what to do.

Leighton and others with petitions of candidacy have five days to decide whether to withdraw or become a candidate.

Leighton has been president for six years and was a village trustee for six years prior to becoming president. He is a Democrat.

Filing for the Republican nomination as president was Clarence Blaine Rex, an incumbent councilman whose council post is to be filled in the election also.

Clerk Harry Schmidt said

that, because of other filings by the deadline, a primary would be necessary Feb. 16 to determine one party race.

The filings came in for the three available council positions involved in the balloting. Seeking the positions were incumbents Bruno Dragan and Travis Graves and challengers Donald Wickett and Carl Keyes. All four filed as Democrats. The top three vote getters will receive the nominations.

Incumbents filing unopposed were Schmidt and Treasurer Mrs. Virginia Lezan and Assessor Hans Petersen.

Lawrence

LAWRENCE — The office of village president will be the only contested race in the Lawrence village election March 8, following yesterday's filing deadline.

Eugene Carr, incumbent Republican president, will be opposed by Arthur Haney Jr., a Democrat. The seat is for two years.

Other candidates filing for various village offices prior to yesterday's deadline were: Clerk — Laureale Duncan, Republican; Treasurer — Llewelyn Bowen, incumbent Republican; Assessor — Mrs. Joyce Alburts, Republican, and current clerk. All are for two-year posts.

Filing for three, four-year seats as village trustees were Glen Thomsen and Paul McGowan, incumbent Republicans, and Ralph Webster, Republican. Mrs. Virginia Sanborn, incumbent trustee is not seeking re-election.

No primary election will be necessary, as a result of yesterday's filings.

Lawton

LAWTON — Unopposed Republican incumbents were the only candidates to file nominating petitions for Lawton village offices prior to yesterday's deadline.

Filing prior to yesterday's deadline for their various offices were: President James H. Moon; Clerk Mrs. Barbara Weurding; Treasurer Mrs. Florence Fate; Assessor Robert Howard; Trustees Russell Hackenberg, Douglas Noble, Marshall Sanderson, and Donald Bitley; Library board members Mrs. Katherine Atwater, Charles Gibson, and Mrs. Marian Pfister.

All village offices are for two-year terms.

The general election will be March 8.

Paw Paw

PAW PAW — Five Republicans, including three incumbents, will vie for three seats on the village council here during a Feb. 16 primary election, according to Mrs. Maxine Chipman, village clerk.

No Democratic candidates filed petitions for any village offices, Mrs. Chipman said. All offices are two-year terms.

The three highest vote getters in the primary will be slated on the ballot for the March 8 elections.

Filing for trustee posts were incumbents Mrs. Ann Griffith, George Kolasar and Charles Cusumano and challengers James Cella and James W. Smith, Jr.

Republicans unopposed are Charles F. Smith, for village president; Mrs. Chipman, again seeking the clerk's post; incumbent Burton Harrison, treasurer; and incumbent Mrs. Juanita Thomas, assessor.

Two newcomers have filed for two, two-year seats on the library board. They are Mrs. Margaret McNeil and Carl R. Jernberg.

Medic Pleads Innocent; Drug License Restored

Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — A Paw Paw physician pleaded innocent Monday in Van Buren circuit court to four counts of prescribing a controlled substance without having a required state license. Dr. Timothy McManus, 43, route 2, Red Arrow highway, is charged with having written two prescriptions each for two women on Nov. 5 for Dexadrene Spansule, an amphetamine, while not having a valid license to do so. Under state law, doctors must have a license to prescribe controlled substances in addition to their medical licenses. During an earlier preliminary examination, Van Buren Prosecutor Frank Willis alleged that McManus' state license had expired July 1, 1974. According to Carl Cross, executive secretary of the Board of Pharmacy, a division of the state Department of Licensing and Regulation, which brought the complaint, McManus re-registered for and received a state license to prescribe controlled substances on Nov. 20 of this year.

BARODA, TOWNSHIP

Joint Fund Proposal First In Michigan

BARODA — A planned joint application by Baroda village and township for $300,000 in federal Community Development funds is the only joint application to be prepared so far in the state, a planning consultant said at a special hearing on the fund application last night.

Leslie R. Cripps of Berrien Springs made his comments as some 13 township and village residents discussed ways the money would be used if the grant is approved.

Cripps said a second public meeting will be held in Late January.

Discussed as priority projects to be financed by the grant were housing rehabilitation, including loan guarantee programs, and construction of water lines, sidewalks and a new Lake street bridge.

The village council at its regular meeting next Monday and the township board at a special meeting to be held sometime next week, will review projects discussed at the hearing and adopt individual budget programs.

These programs will be submitted to the regional and state planning agency in Lansing on Jan. 13 by Cripps who has been hired by the local agencies as the community development and planning consultant.

Cripps said if the pre-application is approved, notification will be made by HUD by mid-March and a final application will follow.

A consultant fee of $4,000 will be shared equally by the village and township. A final application fee of $1,000 will be reimbursed to the local agencies by HUD, according to Cripps.

Cripps said the application can be updated and resubmitted for the next four years.

Two Teen Robbery Suspects Captured

Two Berrien county teenagers have been arrested in connection with the armed robberies within an hour of each other last night of a small Niles grocery store and a Benton township service station.

The pair was apprehended some five minutes after the second robbery was reported at the Niles Kwik-Serv Mart, 1703 Oak street, Niles. The arrests came after the auto the two were in slid out of control at an icy intersection east of Niles and crashed into a tree.

Police said neither youth was hurt in the 8:15 p.m. accident.

Lodged in the Niles city jail on two counts of armed robbery was Michael Wilson, 17, 1400 North Kephart lane, Berrien Springs.

Police said a second youth, Bill Harmon, 16, 126 Arctic street, Buchanan, was lodged in the Berrien county juvenile home and will be petitioned into probate court in connection with both holdups.

The first robbery, of the Checker service station, 928 Territorial road, Benton township, was reported about 7:15 p.m.

Attendant Gary Conner, 18, of St. Joseph, told state police from the Benton Harbor post that one man approached the service window of the station and brandished a revolver.

A second man pumped about $7 worth of gasoline into an auto and the pair then fled, police said they were told.

About an hour later, Vicki Herrell, 21, 1521 Cherry street, Niles, told Niles city police that a man wearing a green ski mask and a green trench coat entered the Kwik-Serv store about 8:10 p.m.

The man produced a revolver, demanded cash, and fled with $74 in a brown paper bag, she told officers.

Police said that officers who went to the accident took the two into custody after receiving a description of the holdup man.

Police said they had gone to investigate the accident after receiving a call about a property damage accident at the intersection.

Township police reported that while enroute to the accident scene, they found a brown paper bag containing a ski mask at the intersection of 17th and Lakes streets. A green trench coat was found near the accident scene, police said.

Niles city police said that $98 in cash was found in the personal belongings of the two arrested teenagers.

Niles city and township police said no weapon was recovered, but a search of the accident scene has been scheduled for today to look for the gun.

BH Faces Denby In Finals

By JOHN VANDEN HEEDÉ
Sports Editor

The House that Denby built stands as an awesome and towering challenge for Benton Harbor tonight in the championship basketball game of the St. Joseph Holiday Tournament.

Denby's 6-11 Stuart House — called the best high school prospect in the state by University of Michigan coach Johnny Orr — led the unbeaten Detroit school to the finals Monday night in a 67-65 triumph over Saginaw, the defending tournament champion.

Benton Harbor earned a shot at House and Denby by using an effective zone defense to down previously undefeated St.

Joseph 52-50 before a standing room only crowd of about 2,600.

Tonight's title tilt at the St. Joseph gym between Denby, a newcomer to the fourth annual tournament, and Benton Harbor is set for 8:30 p.m., following the 7 p.m. consolation game between St. Joe and Saginaw.

House, who is averaging more than 30 points per game for the 5-0 Denby Tars, tallied 29 points Monday while pulling down 13 rebounds and blocking five shots.

Benton Harbor coach Earl McKee and his 3-3 Tigers know they are underdogs tonight, but they think they know the best way to overcome House and Denby.

"We're going to try to run them," explains McKee. "That seems to be our only chance. If they slow us down, we're in trouble."

McKee also plans to "collapse on him (House)" with the zone defense which stymied St. Joseph and ended the Bears six game winning streak — the school's best start since the 1959-60 campaign.

St. Joe was held to its fewest points of the season by Harbor, including just three points in the fourth quarter when the Bears had frigid one for eight field goal shooting.

"Our inability to attack the zone effectively was the key," confirmed St. Joe coach George Gauder. "We played around on the edge of it most of the night. It was a pathetic performance in that respect."

"It was the defense that turned the game around," agreed McKee. The Tiger mentor said his players "never got it completely right... we always had somebody out of position by half a step." But he said his squad "moved somewhat better inside" in the zone during the second half.

St. Joe blew a 12-point first quarter lead while on the way to its first defeat. The Bears also led 15-10 after the first quarter, 29-22 at halftime and 47-43 going into the final period.

Benton Harbor tied the game for the first time at 47-47 with 6:58 left to play on a rebound shot by 6-4½ center Bennie Bowers. Bowers, who finished with 11 points and a game-high 15 rebounds, also gave the Tigers their first lead at 49-47 with 3:10 left on another rebound shot.

After Henry Follman had put St. Joe back in front 50-49, a 20-footer by Ray Thompson at the 1:42 mark put the Harbor on top for good. Russell Steele added a free throw with nine seconds left for the last point of the game.

St. Joe's Dave Ziebart, who missed a one-and-one free throw opportunity with 36 seconds left, also tried a long desperation shot at the final buzzer, but the attempt was off target.

Ziebart did guard Steele in St. Joe's man-to-man defense, and he held the high-scoring Tiger (25.6 average going into the game) to 13 points.

Thompson led Benton Harbor pointmakers with 18 points and Steve McNutt added 10 as the Tigers meshed 23 of 57 field goals (40 per cent) and six of 11 free throws (55 per cent).

The Tigers hit a deadly 10 of 11 shots in the third quarter, including four of five shooting by Thompson and three for three efforts by Steele and McNutt.

Guards Cory Benford and Mike Collier netted 15 and 10 points, respectively, as St. Joe connected on 23 of 57 field goals (40 per cent) and six of 11 free throws (55 per cent). The Bears were nine for 14 in the third quarter shoot out, with Benford going five-for-five from the outside.

Rebounding also proved to be a decisive part of the outcome, with Benton Harbor posting a solid 42-25 advantage. St. Joe's was hampered in that department after its leading scorer and rebounder 6-5 Dale Wright suffered a sprained ankle in the opening quarter. He returned to action but not at full strength.

St. Joe did have the best floor game with just 12 turnovers, compared to 19 for Harbor. In the Denby-Saginaw game, the Tars also got 20 points from James Newman and 11 tallies from Ray Bradley to go along with House's 29.

The Trojans from Saginaw, now 4-2, got 19 points from Paul Roby, 14 from Mike Peterson and 12 from Ivory Jones. Denby, which trailed by 10 points in the third quarter, rallied for the victory with House scoring 12 points in the fourth frame.

Denby won the game at the free throw line by making 21 of 29 (72 per cent) while Saginaw sank five of eight (63 per cent). Saginaw, which had seven more field goals than Denby, hit on 30 of 60 from the floor (50 per cent) while Denby sank 23 of 51 (45 per cent).

Rebounding and turnovers were about even, with Saginaw having 32 caroms and Denby 31. The Trojans had 17 turnovers and the Tars 16.

In the junior varsity portion of the tournament at Benton Harbor high school, Benton Harbor got into the finals by beating St. Joseph 66-64. Saginaw also reached the finals with an 89-44 romp over Denby.

Ronald Page led the little Tigers with 27 points and Ray Jones added 12. Keene Taylor and Mike Thumm netted 20 and 16, respectively, for the St. Joe jayvees.

Today's jayvee consolation game was set for 1:30 p.m., with the title tilt following at 3.

Terps Win Gator Bowl

Maryland Joins Grid Elite After Upsetting Florida

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A no-name team has put the old familiar name of Maryland back among the royalty of college football.

From the time Jim Tatum collected his ninth consecutive winning season in 1955 with a 73-15-4 log and one national championship, until Coach Jerry Claiborne arrived on the scene four years ago, Maryland managed only three winning campaigns, the last in 1962.

The 17th-ranked Terrapins completed their resurgence Monday night with an impressive, near-perfect 13-0 whipping of favored Florida in the rainy Gator Bowl.

They had just enough offense, but essentially they did it with a swarming, relentless defense which apparently took personally some hints in the local media that they weren't a fitting opponent for No. 13 Florida ... and rammed the insults down the Gators' throats.

"They said we couldn't win the big game. They said we couldn't beat a Southeastern team. Well, that fired us up and we did it," crowed linebacker Kevin Benson, whose first-period interception at the Florida 44-yard line set up

Red Wings' Grant Remains Sidelined

DETROIT (AP) — Captain Danny Grant is expected to miss at least another week of Detroit Red Wings games, the National Hockey League team said Monday.

Grant, sidelined Dec. 19 after 556 consecutive games, has a muscle pull in his right leg.

The Red Wings management said it was working with the New York Islanders to reschedule a game cancelled last Friday because of snow in Detroit. No date has been set for the make-up game.

Woody Named Coach Of Year

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Woody Hayes, whose Ohio State Buckeyes are only a Rose Bowl victory away from the national championship, has been named Coach of the Year by the Football Writers Association of America.

Ballooning by some 600 members produced strong support for a record number of coaches. But Hayes won by an 80-56 margin over Bud Moore, whose first Kansas club was picked to finish near the bottom of the Big Eight but won seven games and gained the only loss in the past three seasons on Oklahoma, 23-3.

Gi Krueger, who guided Northern Michigan from 0-10 in 1974 to the NCAA Division II title in 1975, was third with 53 votes.

California's Mike White had 47, Arkansas' Frank Broyles 39, Navy's George Welsh 37, Texas A&M's Emory Bellard 36 and Arizona State's Frank Kush 32.

Oklahoma's Barry Switzer, runnerup to Johnny Majors of Pittsburgh and Grant Teaff of Baylor in 1973 and 1974, received 13 votes this time and was 11th, trailing Miami of Ohio's Dick Crum with 17 and all-victorious Arkansas State's Bill Davidson with 15.

In all, 50 coaches were mentioned by voters. Receiving 10 each were Dave Maurer of Wittenberg, Tom Osborne of Nebraska and Ken Cooper of Mississippi.

In winning, Hayes became the first three-time recipient of the award. He won the writers' first Coach of the Year honor in 1957 and repeated in 1968.

Only two-time winners have been Texas' Darrell Royal in 1961 and 1963 and Southern California's John McKay in 1962 and 1972. The 1975 selections were announced here Monday by Volney Meece, secretary of the association and sportswriter for the Oklahomaian and Times.

Larry Dick's 19-yard touchdown pass to Kim Hoover.

Mike Sochko accounted for the other points with a conversion and field goals of 20 yards in the second period and 27 yards in the fourth quarter.

"I don't know how much the pre-game publicity inspired our players, but they wanted to convince people they belonged here — and I think they did it," said Claiborne, who notched his first bowl triumph in five tries as a head coach. "We have a good solid program and we convinced people we can win the big one."

Their first victory over an SEC team in 11 tries since 1955 enabled the Terrapins to conclude their best season in two decades with a 9-2-1 mark.

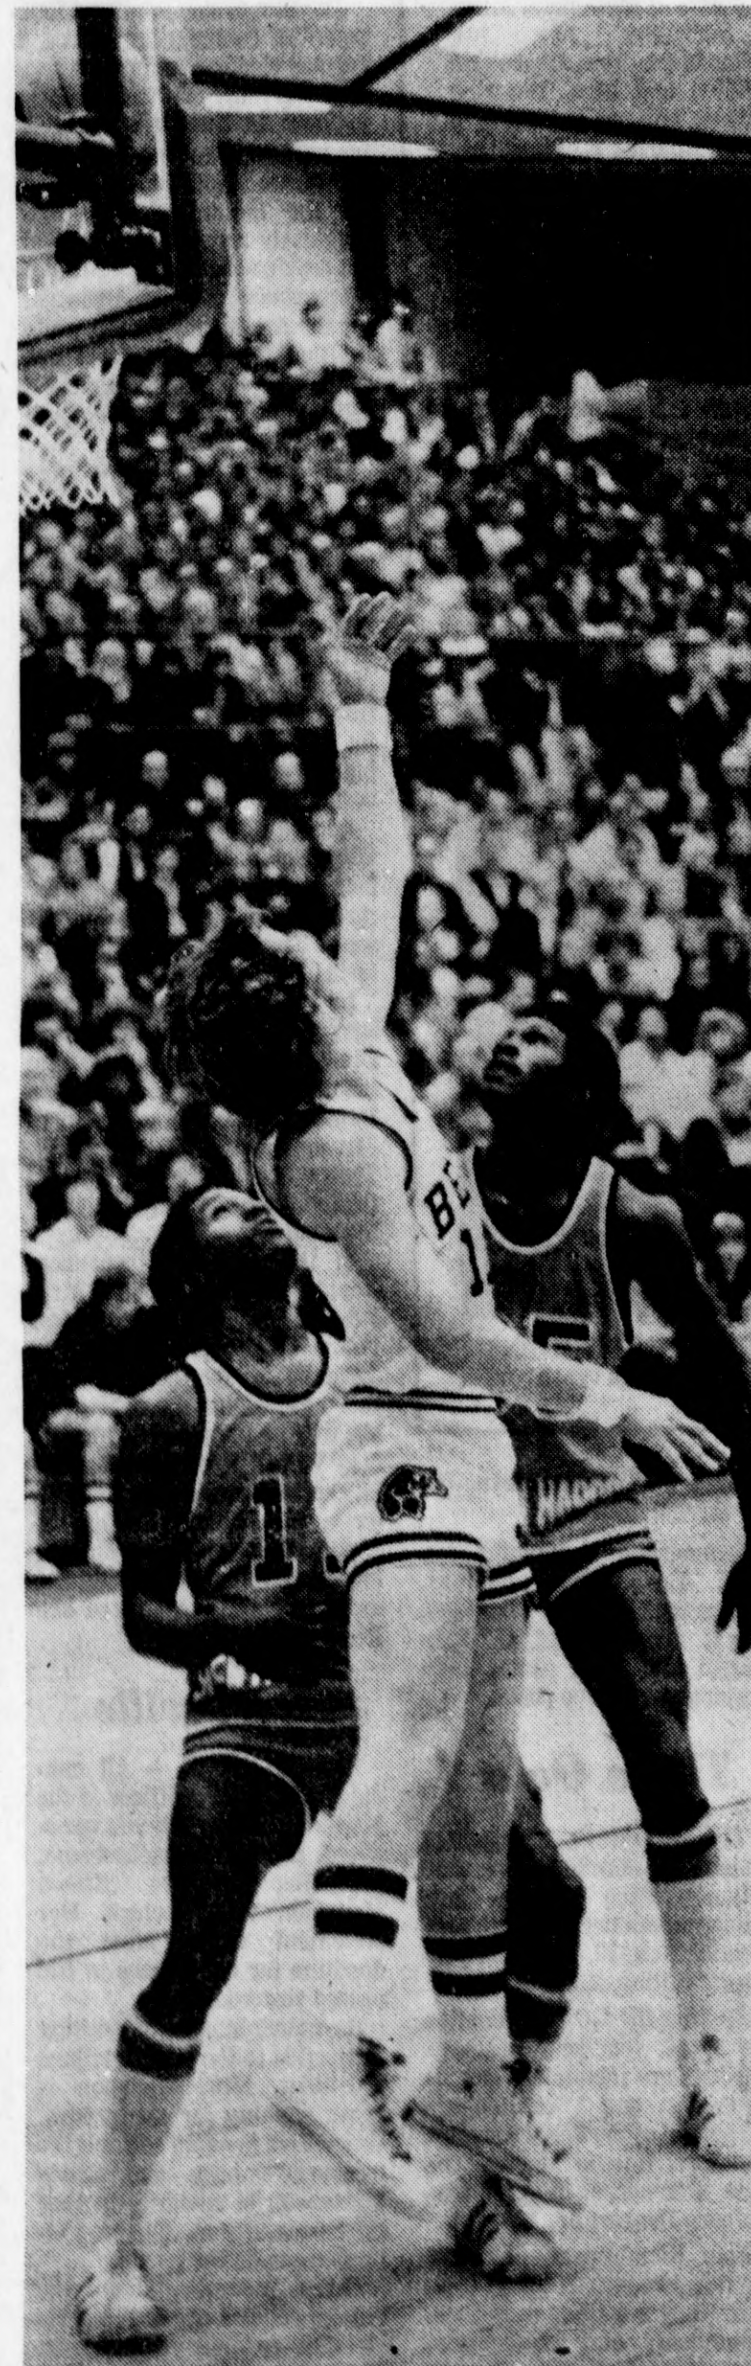

In practice sessions during Maryland's week in Florida, Claiborne had labeled his club a bunch of no-names.

"Steve Atkins kind of stood out tonight, but we still have no big star," Claiborne said. "But there's a lot of heart on this team. We knew we could play good defense and we had time to prepare for Florida's Wishbone. Our scheme was good against it and our players were super."

Atkins, a bruising 225-pound freshman tailback, barreled for 127 yards on 20 carries, all but nine yards coming in the second half.

While Maryland's aggressive defense — Claiborne is among the last remaining proponents of the old wide-tackle-six with its six-man line — was keeping Florida pinned down in its own half of the field until the third period, the Gators turned the ball over via three interceptions and a fumble, and also committed several costly penalties.

"Mistakes of execution and concentration will almost always get you beat against a good opponent," said Gator Coach Doug Dickey, who suffered his sixth straight bowl setback. "Maryland has a fine team, very sound and well-balanced."

Economic Disaster For Baseball--Kuhn If Stripped Of Reserve System

NEW YORK (AP) — Big league baseball could become chaotic and lose its position as a major sport if stripped of the reserve system, Commissioner Bowie Kuhn insists.

"The economic consequences to the clubs could be enormous," he told The Associated Press in an interview. "The minor leagues — 140 clubs which provided entertainment for 12 million last season — if not erased completely, could be seriously curtailed."

"I think you could expect bankruptcies, sharp retrenchment of franchises and great dissatisfaction among the players themselves as the money gravitates to the top — to the super stars — at the expense of the majority of players."

The interview marked the first time Kuhn had addressed himself fully to the decision by arbitrator Peter Seitz last week, rendering pitchers Andy Messersmith and Dave McNally free agents because they had played this year without contracts.

"Our basic players agreement specifies that the reserve clause should not enter into any arbitration of grievances," Kuhn said. "Seitz had no right to rule on an issue of such broad impact on the foundation of the game."

It is on this point — a flaw in the law — on which baseball is basing its appeal before a federal court in Kansas City.

The only other grounds on which an arbitration ruling may be reversed is proven bias on the part of the arbitrator.

Baseball fired Seitz immediately after his ruling. The arbitrator insisted that he did not rule on the reserve clause but merely on the issue of a man's right to freedom when no longer bound by contract.

Seitz argued that baseball could have solved the problem — had it chosen to do so — without the "adversary atmosphere" of an arbitration board.

Comments on the ruling have been varied. Proponents of the baseball establishment have termed Seitz a "little man with a Napoleonic complex." Kuhn and the baseball establishment have been pictured as "old fogies with their heads in the sand — reluctant to change."

Some critics have argued that the reserve clause, binding a player to one team unless traded or sold, is not basic to the continuing health of the game, that a compromise between players and owners could be worked out in the new players' labor contract which is now in the process of renegotiation.

May Keeps Indiana Perfect

Michigan, MSU Bag Tournament Victories

From Associated Press

Unbeaten, top-ranked Indiana came within a heartbeat of defeat in the championship of the Holiday Festival basketball tournament in New York.

Undaunted St. John's (N.Y.) forged a 65-65 tie with the Hoosiers with five minutes left Monday night before Scott May scored seven of his game-high 29 points to lead Indiana to a 76-69 victory.

In other tournament action involving Big Ten schools Monday night, Michigan State trounced Southern Mississippi 89-77 in the semifinals of the VCU Invitational, Ohio State dropped a 78-64 decision to Pennsylvania in the consolation game of the Sugar Bowl tournament, and Northwestern fell to 13th ranked-Washington 70-57 in the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore. Unbeaten Iowa squandered a 28-point lead, then finally edged Arizona 82-80 on a pair of free throws by Dan Frost after time had run out in their game in the Rainbow Classic at Honolulu.

Wisconsin beat Stanford 70-64 to advance to the finals of the Milwaukee Classic, Purdue held off a late St. Louis rally to drop the Billikens 80-77 in the Bruin Classic at Los Angeles, and Michigan advanced to the championship game of the Holiday Classic at Las Vegas by downing LaSalle 86-71.

Indiana, now 9-0, had breezed by Columbia and Manhattan to gain the final at Madison Square Garden. But the 15th-ranked St. John's squad, led by George Johnson with 23 points and 10 rebounds, wouldn't let the Hoosiers pull away.

Finally, May, the Hoosiers' 6-foot-7, All-American forward who was the tournament's most valuable player, popped in a jump shot to give the Hoosiers a 67-65 lead they never again relinquished.

In the VCU tourney at Richmond, Va., Cedric Milton's three-point play gave Michigan State the lead for good with 16:18 left in the first half.

Michigan State boosted its record to 4-4 behind the 22-point scoring of Terry Furlow.

In New Orleans, Pennsylvania blew open a close game against the Buckeyes with a second-half scoring spree by Keven McDonald, who had 32 points for the night. With Craig Taylor pouring in 21 first-half points, Ohio State took a 35-32 halftime lead.

But the Buckeyes attack faded when Taylor, who finished with 27 points, fouled out midway in the second half.

Northwestern's hot-shooting Billy McKinney was held to 18 points by Washington, who advanced to the finals of the Far West Classic.

The young Wildcats, now 4-4, trailed 40-39 with less than 14 minutes to play, but made several key turnovers, then started fouling in desperation.

Wisconsin, meanwhile, blew leads of 12-0 and 17-4, before closing on four free throws by Brian Colbert and three by Pete Bryer in the last minute and a half.

The Badgers, now 6-1, play sixth-ranked archrival Marquette in the final tonight. Marquette pulled away in the second half to defeat Miami of Ohio 79-52 earlier Monday.

Freshman Kyle Macy scored 24 to lead the Boiler-makers, now 4-3, but was overshadowed by the Billikens' 6-5 senior forward Louis McKinney, who turned in a 34-point performance.

At Las Vegas, the 17th-ranked Wolverines were paced by Ricky Green's 24 points. Michigan meets Nevada-Las Vegas for the tournament championship tonight.

Michigan, winning its sixth game in seven starts, fashioned a comfortable 47-33 lead at halftime by hitting 20 of their 35 shots and then held on as the Explorers narrowed the margin to within six in the second half.

The 10th-rated Rebels of host UNLV won the second game of Monday night's twin bill by blasting Houston 116-92 for their 11th straight victory and their 28th consecutive win at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

It was also the eighth game this year and the sixth in a row in which the Rebels have raced past the 100 point mark.

"It should be a great matchup," Michigan Coach Johnny Orr said, anticipating the midnight (EST) showdown.

"The teams are very similar. We both like to run and shoot. Nobody's going to hold the ball in this one."

Three other Wolverines hit double figures, junior forward John Robinson with 13, junior guard Steve Grote with 11 and freshman center Phil Hubbard with 11 points and 13 rebounds.

LaSalle, now 6-4 on the season, received 16 points from forward Mike Arizin.

Bo Admits '75 Club

Not Best He's Had

But Wolverines Have 'Character'

MIAMI (AP) — Michigan's Bo Schembechler admits that the players he'll use against Oklahoma in Thursday night's Orange Bowl game aren't the best he's had. But he says attitude will make the difference.

"This Michigan team probably is not as good man-for-man as the last six teams, but it's young and it's got character," Schembechler said Monday.

"That makes up for a lot."

Schembechler's 8-1-2 club started slowly, tying Stanford 19-19 and Baylor 14-14 in the second and third weeks of the season.

But the Wolverines bounced back to win seven in a row before dropping a tough 21-14 decision to top-ranked Ohio State in the Big Ten championship game.

"I know we're playing a team that's capable of beating us if we don't play well," said Leroy Selmon, standout defensive end for Michigan's opponent, once-beaten and third-ranked Oklahoma.

Selmon's worries New Year's night include Gordon Bell, who averaged 121.4 yards rushing a game and scored 13 touchdowns, and fullback Rob Lytle, who averaged 91.6 yards a game. The Wolverines' freshman quarterback, Rick Leach, has run for 490 yards and passed for 647 yards.

Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer said his Wishbone offense has lost the edge it might have had over Michigan's defense because of the month-long gap between the end of the season and the bowl contest.

"Defending the Wishbone is preparation and Michigan will have had plenty of time to get ready," he said. "We have an advantage during the season because teams are faced with preparing for us in six days. Michigan will have had enough time."

Sooner quarterback Steve Davis said, "We had better be ready because these people can play. I read all that junk about them not having played a Wishbone team, but that doesn't make any difference."

Switzer said, "The game will be decided on how well the people involved in it perform. If we give the ball to them eight times, we'll get our tails kicked. Our people will win the game, not our style."

Big Eight representatives Nebraska, Colorado and Kansas lost their bowl games last week, leaving Oklahoma as the conference's only hope of avoiding a bowl shutout.

Schembechler said he isn't viewing the game as a Big Ten-Big Eight show of strength, adding, "This game is between Michigan and Oklahoma."

As to the tarnished Big Eight reputation as the nation's best football league, Schembechler said, "They were good enough to get in bowl games. It's kind of evident they had better teams than about any teams in the country."

Michigan Kicker Bob Wood

Visualizes Scoring Big TD

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bob Wood sees himself as Michigan's hero in an Orange Bowl football victory over Oklahoma — not by booting a field goal but by scoring a touchdown.

Coach Bo Schembechler says Wood is dreaming.

"The only way Wood will get in the game as a wide receiver is if they decimate our squad," said Schembechler as he prepared for the New Year's night battle with the Big Eight champion. "And I don't think that will happen."

Wood, a 170-pound junior, had said earlier, "I visualize me playing a lot. I see myself going into the game and catching the winning touchdown or running 50 yards to score."

"I'd like to play, but if Bo says no, that's it," added Wood, who at only 5-foot-8 could progress no farther than second-string tailback for his London, Ohio, high school team.

"Wood's a heck of a kid and a great little athlete," said Schembechler. "If he was only two or three inches taller and 20 pounds heavier, he could play for us. But he's so small, I'd rather he just concentrate on kicking. We need him most there."

Wood converted 11 of 14 field goal attempts this season, a school record, but missed a critical 37-yarder against Ohio State that would have given Michigan a 10-7 halftime lead. Michigan lost, 21-14.

"My primary goal for the season was to kick a field goal against Ohio State," said Wood. "I thought about it all year. I guess I thought about it too much."

Wood decided to attend Michigan because "Ohio State was too close to home," some 20 miles away. He beat the heavy odds against a walk-on player succeeding at a major school.

"I probably could have gone to some small school and played, but I always wanted to go to Ohio State or Michigan," he said. "I knew I couldn't play with those giants, but I had done some kicking in high school and I felt if I worked hard enough, I could kick for Michigan."

He was a backup to Mike Lantry for two years and was red-shirted last year, leaving him with another year of eligibility in 1976.

Size isn't the only reason Schembechler wants Wood to concentrate on kicking.

"We'll go down in history as the great field goal missers," he said in looking back to unsuccessful kicks in the past few seasons. "If not for four or five field goals here or there, Ohio State would never have beat us."

All of Michigan's injured players except defensive end Dan Jilek were back in uniform Monday for the last complete workout for the Orange Bowl game.

Offensive guard Mark Donahue, tackle Bill Dufek, fullback Ron Lytle and wingback Jim Smith were all in pads.

Jilek, who hurt his right knee in a scrimmage last week, ran during the 2½-hour workout and is expected to be ready for the game New Year's night.

The Wolverines work out tonight on their kicking game in the Orange Bowl Stadium. It will be their only chance to practice under the lights for the 8 p.m. game Thursday.

Cop Tourney Wins

DETROIT (AP) — Stu Ostlund and George Lyle each scored a pair of goals to lead Michigan Tech to a 6-2 college hockey victory over Boston University Monday night in the second game of the Great Lakes Invitational tournament.

Tech's victory sets up the second all-Michigan championship in two years. Michigan won the first game 7-6 over Pennsylvania.

Michigan and Michigan Tech also battled for the title last year, with the Huskies emerging as the victors.

Tech opened a 3-0 lead in the first period on two goals by Lyle and one by Mike Zuke. Boston came back with two power play goals in the second, the first by Mike Fidler on a two-man advantage and the second by Peter Brown.

Ostlund scored his first goal for Tech in the second period and added his second in the final period. Jim Mayer also scored for the Huskies in the third period.

Huskie goalie Bruce Horsch made 43 saves, 19 of them in the third period. For the Terriers, Brian Durocher made 24 saves, only five of them in the third period.

Tech is now 12-4 for the season, while Boston is 4-1.

Dave Debol had three goals and Pat Hughes had two for Michigan in the earlier game.

Ed Parkinson had three goals for Pennsylvania.

U-M led 2-1 after the first and the score was tied 4-4 after the second period. Other goals were put in for Michigan by Doug Lindskog and Kris Manery.

1,000 Saplings Will Be Distributed 'Liberty Trees' From Niles

Off-shoots from an historic stand of Berrien county sugar maples gathered last September have yet to sprout leaves, but some folks are already forecasting a healthy crop of "Centennial - Bicentennial" seedlings by May.

That's when the Michigan Bicentennial Commission plans to distribute about 1,000 of the sapling-size "liberty trees" to community groups statewide as a commemorative project during America's 200th birthday year.

The saplings are being raised this winter through an accelerated growth process by foresters at Michigan State University, in cooperation with the Department of Natural Resources, and should be 18 inches tall by planting time.

Lieutenant governor James J. Damman headed the list of prominent state officials who plucked the seeds from a Niles area farm from trees planted in 1876 in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Orders for the saplings must be received by the DNR's Forestry Division, however, by Jan. 15, says James A. Bryant, the department's bicentennial coordinator.

"A first-come, first-served basis is being used to fill the orders, so local bicentennial committees should hurry if they are interested," notes Bryant. "There is no cost for the seedlings, although we are notifying customers that a $1.50 shipping cost per tree may be set at the time of shipping because of the current state fiscal situation. All orders will be acknowledged by March 15."

Bryant adds that orders should be made directly to the DNR Forestry Division, 474 Hollister Building, Lansing 48926.

Some seedlings will be planted on the State Capitol lawn in downtown Lansing, while others will be planted at the State Secondary Complex in Eaton county, and at several state parks.

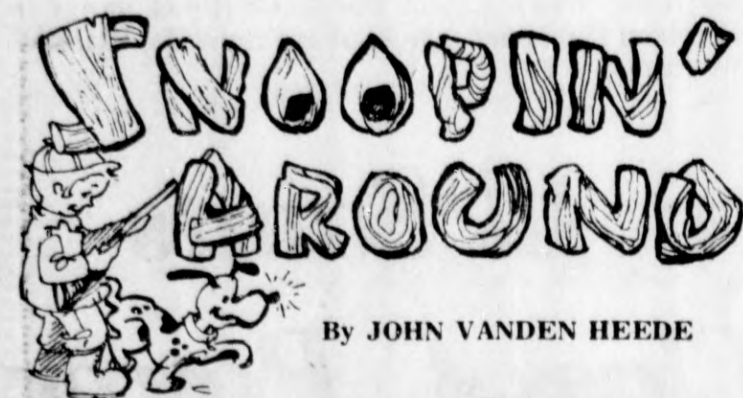

"In September, lieutenant governor Damman probably captured the spirit of this project when he observed, 'A simple, very personal act 100 years ago, requiring considerable effort and a tremendous feeling of patriotism, is now bearing rewards for this and future generations to enjoy,'" says Bryant. "Hopefully, ceremonial plantings of these Centennial - Bicentennial seedlings will add an extra measure of significance and meaning to activities of community groups during this historic year."

Michigan is struggling to keep its Great Lakes marine sanitation laws from being thrown overboard.

Just when tough legislation requiring holding tanks was becoming effective, with an estimated 95 per cent of recreational boats in compliance, the regulations face the possibility of being deep-sixed.

The Environmental Protection Administration has come up with the latest in its series of proposals which could override Michigan's current law and allow flow-through treatment of sewage from boats.

It appears that the EPA is aiming for a uniform law for all the Great Lakes states, because some — like Michigan — have stiff marine sanitation rules while others have weak or unenforced regulations.

"They appear to be penalizing some states to bring something out of nothing for the other states," says Robert Parker of the Department of Natural Resources' water quality control division. "In other words, this is a step backward as far as Michigan is concerned."

The series of events leading up to what Parker now calls an "almost unenforceable situation" was as follows:

Michigan adopted a law in 1970 requiring vessels to have no discharge type sewage equipment (a holding tank or an incineration device).

Next, the EPA came up with regulations in 1972 which generally followed Michigan's law, but included a "grandfather" clause, giving boaters time to have no discharge gear aboard.

Then last January, time limits for installing the devices were set at two years for new vessels and three years for existing boats.

"We didn't like it because of the delaying action," recalls Parker, "but we thought we could live with it."

The EPA also offered an incentive provision which told boat owners that if they installed a certified flow-through treatment device within three years, they could use the treatment device as long as it lasted and would not have to switch to holding tanks.

But there were provisions allowing states to prohibit the use of flow-through equipment in their waters, and Michigan has twice petitioned for no discharge regulations for its waters.

The first, filed last April, was denied by the EPA because there was "not adequate proof that regulations were not sufficient."

The second, sent to the EPA last September, is unanswered, but Parker says a reply is expected "almost momentarily."

The whole situation got even more complicated last October when the EPA came up with the above mentioned proposal which would take holding tanks out of the picture and make flow-through devices legal.

Naturally, Michigan has protested this EPA proposal, which hasn't been officially adopted.

It all leaves Michigan waiting the outcome of its second petition, which asks that state waters be designated as a no discharge area, and the outcome of the newest EPA proposal, which allows flow-through equipment.

Parker says that because most of Michigan's recreational boats already have holding tanks, most of the turmoil is being created by commercial carriers. They even have a lawsuit on the matter pending in court against the DNR.

Few Bucks Killed During Muzzle-Loading Season

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Few bucks were killed by muzzle-loaders during their special 10-day deer hunting season, the state's top wildlife official says.

"The effect of the hunt by muzzle-loaders on the deer herd is minimal at best, but we can't measure the harvest with any assurance because we don't know how many muzzle-loaders went afield," said David Jenkins, chief of the Department of Natural Resources' Wildlife Division.

Only 1,107 permits were issued to the muzzle-loaders, who use black powder and a round ball like hunters used 200 years ago. Another 100,000 hunters with annual licenses were allowed to use the old fashioned weapons during the season, Dec. 4-15.

Jenkins said dates for next year's muzzle-loaders season won't be set until mid-1976.

Butterflies' Status Studied

Even butterflies are entitled to their spot in Mother Nature's realm.

At least, that's the thinking of U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service officials who believe a number of the beautiful little creatures are possibly threatened or may even be in danger of extinction.

The federal study covers 26 states — including Michigan — and Cuba, Canada and Mexico. Most of the butterflies under consideration owe their reduced populations to two related problems — dependence on one primary food and land development.

All interested parties are requested to submit any factual information which is germane to this review to the Director, Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Department of Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240.

Area Ice Fishing Finally Underway

Freezing weekend temperatures finally made most southwestern Michigan lakes safe for ice fishermen.

The cold weather, if it continues, comes just in time for Thursday's opening of the two-month spearing season for northern pike and rough fish.

There have been no reports of outstanding catches by hook and line anglers, but top baits again are cornbore and mousies.

Elsewhere on the fishing

scene, the Department of Natural Resources expects a major thrust for steelhead after the first of the year on the St. Joseph River in Berrien county and the Black River in Van Buren county.

Meanwhile, the bow season for deer ends Wednesday and the put-and-take pheasant season concludes Sunday, Jan. 4.

Hunters are already turning their attention to rabbits.

Bendix' Side-Looking Sonar Counts Salmon

A new side-looking sonar system is being used by the Alaska Department of Fish and Game to preserve the sockeye salmon population of the state.

The system is a fish counter developed by Al Menin, an engineer at the Bendix Electrodynamics Division in North Hollywood, Calif.

Last year Menin devised an underwater hi-fi system that scares hungry Beluga whales from the mouths of Alaskan rivers. The whales had been gobbling up sockeye salmon during spawning runs.

The side-looking sonar employs a narrow-beam transducer that sends a sound through the water and "listens" for the echoes made by passing salmon. The echoes are recorded on magnetic tape and the image printed out on a paper tape for additional analysis.

Heading upstream to spawn, the salmon are thus counted as part of the department's fish management program. The counts are used to achieve the proper balance between catches of commercial fishermen and a supply of survivors to ensure adequate spawning activity.

Menin's side scanner was installed in the Kenai River at Soldotna near a bottom-mounted, 30-transducer sonar system that has been used for several years to count sockeye salmon. A 96 per cent correlation between the two independent systems was observed during tests.

In addition to being more compact and reliable than the bottom-mounted system, the side scanner can also be used in streams where high water velocity and debris precludes use of the 30-transducer unit.

According to Tom Namtvedt, commercial fisheries research biologist for the fish and game department, another side scanner has been ordered for use in Cook Inlet and elsewhere in the state to replace test fishing.

Last year the Alaska Department ordered 10 Beluga whale spookers developed by Menin. The underwater hi-fi sets play recordings of killer whale voices, which the Beluga whale fears. They are being used to scare Beluga whales from the mouths of Alaskan rivers where they were eating up sockeye salmon as they entered the rivers to spawn.

Snowmobiling Starts

Snowmobiling is now open on state park lands (four inches of snow required) in southwestern Michigan, as well as on the leased trail from Barry into Kent counties. Designated areas on state game lands open for snowmobiling Thursday.

"Care of Animals During Winter Weather"

Even though water will freeze in the winter, it is still a good idea to provide your dog with fresh water daily. At least this allows him the opportunity to drink the much needed water before it does freeze.

It is true that animals will lick snow and gain their water in this manner-but how about when there isn't any snow? FRESH WATER DAILY—THEN IS A MUST!!!!

Be careful that dogs do not eat snow that has had road salt thrown onto it as this can prove quite dangerous to the animal.

Check to see that a dog's food doesn't freeze. This is quite possible, especially if the animal was not hungry when you put out his food. If it has frozen, bring it back into the house so that it can thaw out and then serve it to the animal later.

Raw fur prices are very good in southwestern Michigan this year and spurring a lot of trapping activity.

Some prices from a recent fur sale at Jackson include:

Fox — top, $69; average, $56-$64; range, $44-$69.
Raccoon — top, $32; average, $24-$28; range, $16-$32.

Numbers High

Winter waterfowl numbers continue high at the Allegan State Game Area. The Department of Natural Resources reports about 11,000 Canada geese and 11,500 ducks are continuing to take refuge at the game area's Fennville farm unit.

State-Operated Porcupine Skiing Area Has Additions

"Ski the Porkies," advises the Department of Natural Resources, but only if you seek the raw challenge of a unique outdoor area where steep, winding slopes race toward the icy shores of western Lake Superior.

The ski area at Porcupine Mountains Wilderness State Park boasts rugged slopes up to 6,000 feet long for advanced skiers, and mellow ones for beginners, with everything including cross-country skiing trails in between, says Dave Balbough, park manager.

"The winter skiing season here is only a week old, but it has already been a good one," notes Balbough. "All of our snow is natural — we don't need snow-making equipment in this part of Michigan — and our base ranges from 10 inches on the open slopes to 30 inches on some of our interior cross-country trails."

Nearly 52,000 skiers visited the park last winter, he adds, while predictions this year are for even greater numbers.

One big reason is the 5,000-square-foot addition to the park's main warming house-snack bar that is expected to open in January, including a cozy fireplace and dining area, says Balbough. Expanded parking for 654 cars (doubled in size from the 1973 season) was completed a year ago.

"A few primitive campsites will be kept open throughout the season across the road (M-107) from the ski hill, but aside from these there are no overnight accommodations available at the ski area," Balbough states.

"Most out-of-town visitors generally stay in nearby Silver City, White Pine or Ontonagon, although lodging arrangements should be made in advance. Outside of those communities, the nearest rooms are 30 miles away."

The only state-operated ski facility in Michigan, the Porcupine Mountains area is considered "the finest skiing slopes in the midwest by many ski experts," observes Balbough, park manager since 1964.

Park facilities include two tow ropes, serving the main open slope; a double T-bar, opening five intermediate and advanced slopes, with a capacity of 1,200 riders an hour; and a double chairlift (with a vertical rise of 544 feet), traveling 2,800 feet with access to three advanced trails and an intermediate trail over 6,000 feet in length.

Fees, in addition to a required State Park Motor Vehicle Permit, are $4.50 daily or $40 seasonal for adults; $2.50 daily or $25 seasonal for persons under age 18 or over age 62.

Hardke 1st President

Leonard Hardke of Benton Harbor has been named the first president of the new Southwestern Michigan Chapter of the Michigan Steelhead and Salmon Fishermen's Association.

Joe Kimmerly of Niles is vice president, Bill Hoffman of Stevensville secretary and Jim

Doan of Stevensville treasurer.

Directors include Dick Bell, Walt Olmstead, Gary Troop, Chuck Knipschild, Walt Pettigretz, Dick Willard, Paul Mallonee, Don Troop and Charlie Williamson.

The area chapter now has about 250 charter members.

Will Kill Wolves To Aid Moose

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Armed biologists flying in helicopters will be deployed early next year to kill wolves preying on moose herds in three areas of Alaska.

The State Board of Game on Thursday approved the plan, which has drawn a flood of protests from conservation groups across the nation.

The wolf-control program will

Skiing Starts

Cross country skiing is now underway on the marked trails on the Allegan State Game Area.

BEEF CUTS

An average steer, weighing approximately 1,000 pounds, yields about 75 pounds of porterhouse, T-bone, club and sirloin steaks. The same steer produces over three times as much of the less tender beef cuts...round, chuck, rump and beef for stew.

Beef varies in quality meat. Therefore, to be certain of tender, juicy steaks, you should know about cuts and grades. But regardless of the grade, some cuts of beef are naturally more tender than others.

Cuts from the less-used muscles along the back of the animal...the rib and loin sections...will always be more tender than those from the active muscles, such as the shoulder (chuck), flank.

In the past, names given beef cuts sometimes varied from store to store and in different parts of the country. However, this is no longer the case and we will talk about this change later in another article.

Regardless of the name, the bone in the cut still helps to identify the grade of meat. For example, the T-bone and rib bone indicate tender cuts, while a round bone, such as that in the arm chuck, means a less tender cut.

Incidentally, the most tender of all steaks, the tenderloin has no bone and very little fat. The ribeye cut from the eye of the beef rib is also boneless. It has a well developed flavor and is very tender.

If you're the average American, you will eat over 100 pounds of beef this year. In fact, you will eat about 190 pounds of beef, pork, veal and lamb.

So remember, for the best savings, the meats here at Schneck's are priced and cut just the way you want them.

NY Prosecutor Will Stay On

NEW YORK (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz has told Special State Prosecutor Maurice Nadjari to continue working for another six months to wind up what Nadjari says are important pending cases.

Nadjari, ordered out last week by Gov. Hugh L. Carey, was appointed by former Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in 1972 to investigate corruption in New York City's criminal justice system after the Knapp commission said the corruption was widespread.

Stocks Continue Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — Some light profit taking took stock prices lower today following steady gains in the previous three weeks.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down fractionally, as losers topped leading economic indicators — which is supposed to show how well the economy will be doing in the coming months — turned upward by 0.4 per cent in November following two straight declining months.

And as the market was closing Monday night, the Federal Reserve said the nation's money supply dipped $1 billion.

Advances held a narrow lead over declines on the Big Board, where volume totaled a moderate 17.07 million shares.

On the American Exchange, the market value index climbed 0.05 to 82.63.

Other thefts reported to Benton Harbor police were:

Patricia Joyce Shea, 720 North Main, Berrien Springs, told St. Joseph police her car was stolen from where it was parked in the 300 block of Court street. She said the 1968 Oldsmobile was light blue and was left unlocked with the keys inside between 3 and 5 p.m. Joseph Scrima, owner and operator of Edisan Youthful Shoe store, 416 State street, reported to St. Joseph police the theft of $538 in cash from his store. He said the money was in a cash box.

Thefts reported to Berrien sheriff's deputies were:

Dowagiac Bank OK's Dividend

DOWAGIAC — The board of directors of Community State Bank of Dowagiac have declared a cash dividend of 50 cents per share, payable on Jan. 31, 1976, to stockholders of record Dec. 17, 1975.

The bank had paid a dividend of 50 cents per share on July 31, the first time a mid-year dividend had been declared. In keeping with an announcement made at that time, the board anticipates paying dividends in the future on a semi-annual basis.

George Watkins, bank president, noted that with the current dividend, the bank will have paid $1 per share dividends in the past four years. "While earnings have increased, the board has felt that we should continue a conservative dividend policy in order to increase the bank's capital through retained earnings."

In addition to Watkins, members of the bank's board are Kenneth E. Clark, chairman; J. David Underwood, vice chairman; and Dan J. Brosnan, Dale Engel, Robert Jessup, Dr. Fred Mathews, Edward McDaniel, Charles E. Taylor, and Robert D. VanHusen.

Present Jobless Figures Defended

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of four columns on unemployment.

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Julius Shiskin, commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, is among those who would like a blue ribbon committee appointed to review concepts and procedures used in developing official employment statistics.

Nevertheless, Shiskin, who is responsible for gathering and reporting the figures, generally defends present concepts and techniques as sound, if sometimes imperfect. A review is needed, he feels, to satisfy critics.

Doubts about the figures have grown this year. Some users of the jobless rate feel the true level and meaning of unemployment is poorly understood, and that the figures are badly understated.

Shiskin, whose ability and integrity are highly regarded even by most critics, concedes there have been problems with the measurements, but he maintains they do the job, and that the official jobless rate — 8.3 per cent in November — is a good measure.

"It has multiple uses," he said. "It's a good cyclical indicator. It's an excellent measure of economic performance. And it is also a good indicator of economic and psychological hardship."

The procedures used by Shiskin are largely a product of the Committee to Appraise Employment and Unemployment Statistics, created in 1961 and commonly called the Gordon Committee for its chairman, Prof. Robert A. Gordon.

"We have by and large followed the Gordon Committee recommendations," said Shiskin repeatedly in an interview. "It's a good report."

Still, he concedes some serious changes have developed since then, such as an increase of women in the labor force and the extension of jobless benefits, both of which might tend to change procedures and interpretations.

Gordon, an economist at the University of California-Berkeley, believes another committee should be created partly because the distribution of many millions of dollars in revenue sharing depend upon local job statistics, which at best can be trusted only "cautiously."

Alfred Teller's criticisms have been of a different nature. Teller, now a Census Bureau Employee, declines to comment from that position, but during his years at Georgetown University he attacked what he felt was subjective questioning and analysis.

Among his many criticisms was that a lot of people would rather say they weren't looking for a job than admit to a questioner that they were unable to get work. Some might say they were ill, he found, and thus eliminate themselves from the labor statistics.

Through his research and that of others he found a curious recurrence: Many of the reasons people give for not being in the labor force have a cyclical nature, developing as alibis and excuses when jobs are hard to get.

PSC Will Rule On Bell Bid

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Public Service Commission (PSC) is expected to decide next week whether to allow Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to charge customers 20 cents for each information call over three months.

PSC chairman Daniel Demlow said the commission has met on the case and an order probably will be forthcoming Monday. Sources would not say what the three-month commission's decision would be.

But both the PSC staff and the administrative law judge who heard testimony in the case recommended that Bell be allowed to charge for information calls, but only after four free calls per month are made.

However, the law judge, William A. Austin, said extra information calls should cost only 15 cents each.

The commission considers the staff's and law judge's opinions when making its decision.

Michigan Bell Vice President Lloyd Haynes said Monday any of those recommendations are "acceptable" to the company. He said they would result in "substantial rate savings" for Bell's three million customers.

Motorist Robbed At Knifepoint

A Benton township man told Benton Harbor police Monday he was forced into his car at knifepoint and robbed of $95 by a bandit who drove the car several miles before escaping in another car.

Earl Crawford, 1565 North Shore drive, said he was walking to his car which was parked in the 200 block of West Main street when forced into his car about 2:50 p.m. He reported the man drove him into Benton township, off Paw Paw avenue, where he took the money. The man, who drove Crawford's car, then drove to the 800 block of Territorial road, got out and fled in another car.

Crawford said the other car had been parked behind his on West Main and had followed the two closely while the man drove Crawford around. He said the car was driven by a woman and was a white older model Ford. Crawford was unhurt.

Candidates Unopposed In Douglas

Unopposed in election bids are Gerald Umbarger, for trustee, and Carole L. Schreckengust for treasurer.

Incumbent Trustee Wallace Forrester did not seek re-election, nor did incumbent Treasurer Ray Henneman. All candidates are Republicans.

Report Indicates Weapons Siphoned To Viet, Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The siphoning of weapons from U.S. military supplies for shipment to Israel and Vietnam has "adversely affected overall U.S. readiness," a secret government report says.

The report, on an audit by Congress' General Accounting Office, says hundreds of tanks, aircraft, missiles and other weapons were taken out of U.S. readiness stocks and turned over to Israel after the 1973 Mideast war or were channeled into Vietnam during the closing years of the Indochina war.

Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., released an unclassified summary of the report on Monday and other sources filled in numbers and details.

The report says $8.5 billion worth of U.S. military hardware was programmed for Vietnam and Israel between July 1972 and July 1974, the period audited by the GAO.

It says U.S. arms poured into South Vietnam on an emergency basis in August 1971 and June 1972. More arms went to Vietnam starting in October 1972 in a special project aimed at getting weapons into the country before an anticipated cease-fire could halt shipment.

It says U.S. units' stocks also were depleted to replenish Israeli arms after the October 1973 war, concluding that "the accelerated emergency support to South Vietnam and Israel over the past several years adversely affected overall U.S. readiness."

The report does not say how much of the $8.5 billion in arms came from U.S. units' supplies, but details depletion of several stocks:

—Some $314.9 million worth of tanks, helicopters, rifles, trucks, radar and other equipment was diverted from Army reserve unit stocks during the two years.

U.S. Air Force Captures Proxmire 'Fleece' Award

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world's most exclusive airline is operated by the U.S. Air Force and the American taxpayers keep it running to the tune of $6 million a year, says Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

Proxmire said the Air Force keeps a fleet of 23 plush jets, which cost $66.7 million, on 24-hour call to transport government officials wherever they want to go. He said the fleet of planes is known as the 89th Military Airlift Wing and is stationed at Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington.

It will fly top government officials any place in the world, said Proxmire in a statement today.

"All they need do is call up and request a flight," he said.

Proxmire, who has been making monthly "golden fleece" awards for government waste, cited the Air Force's executive airline for "the fleece of the year."

But he added that "in fairness to the Air Force, this fleece of the year should also be shared by all the government bigshots who insist on such special treatment at the expense of the taxpayers."

Proxmire said that "in the first 10 months of 1975, the 89th made 975 flights carrying government officials as passengers at a cost of over $6 million.

"Not surprisingly, 849 or 87 per cent of these flights were undertaken for high ranking defense officials of those requesting Defense Department flights."

A table he gave breaking down the flights by departments and agencies listed about 100 of these 849 flights as congressional trips requested by Senate and House members.

The next largest users shown on the table were the Treasury Department with 67 flights and the State Department with 26.
